NYE PROPOSES FEDERAL FARM BOARD INQUIRY

Resolution Provides for Quiz Into Work, Also Criticisms.

FAVORABLE COMMITTE REPORT SEEN IN SENAT

North Dakotan's Action Prompted by New Price-Policy.

GROUP HAS YIELDED TO BUSINESS, CLAIM

Sponsor of Investigation Says He Is Taking Neutral Stand.

By CARLISLE BARGERON.

The way was paved yesterday for a senatorial airing of one of the greatest economic clashes this country has known for a long time, that of the Farm Board and organized business.

Senator Nye, of North Dakota, introduced a resolution providing for an inquiry not only into the board's operations but of interests that are seeking to "undermine and embarrass" it. The senator's resolution is aimed not only at the reported war of grain commission men against the board but reports that in this war they have beaten down the price of wheat in the Argentine and other world markets. The resolution also seeks to determine if they have been "aided by other interests," meaning the bankers.

The resolution will be considered today by the Senate agriculture committee, of which Senator McNary is chairman, and the indications are that the committee will favor the investigation. Under the terms of the resolution either this committee or a subcommittee would make the investigation.

Prompted by New Policy.

The North Dakota senator, in seeking the inquiry, however, is neither acting as a friend or an enemy of the board, but with a view to blowing the whole matter out of the water.

He was moved to act when he did, as a matter of fact, because of the board's recently announced change of policy by which it will not hereafter buy grain at the loan price, but at the market price. In the future it will also buy grain from noncooperatives as well as cooperatives.

This change of policy was announced Saturday at Chicago after Chairman Legge had conferred lengthily with President Hoover, and as a result of a vigorous howl from the commission men.

The commission men had contended that the board had no authority under the provisions of the marketing act to peg prices by buying up wheat above the market price.

Critics Allege Retreat.

This, however, is but one phase of the board's dilemma. With wheat selling at around $1 per bushel it has millions of dollars loaned out on the basis of $1.18 and $1.25 a bushel, and in so far as lending money above the market price is concerned, it is understood there has been no change of policy. The commission men have contended that even this is a form of price fixing, but amazingly enough it has not served as such because the market price has gone down in the face of the board's loans.

Senatorial critics of the board claim that its policy has been one of steady retreat before the commission's men. Several weeks ago the commission men's complaint against the board lending money at rates cheaper than the prevailing commercial rate came into prominence, and with it the general w.. that the commission men were making on the board, through the intervention of Julius Barnes, chairman of the board of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and a close friend of Mr. Hoover.

After appearing once before the Caraway lobby committee Mr. Barnes quickly removed himself from the picture, and the tendency seemed to be on the part of the chamber and senators alike, the former sorrowfully shaking its head all the while, to give the board a chance.

Between Two Fires.

The board, in the meantime, has been working feverishly to what is believed to be its one and only goal, the cutting down of acreage and diversification.

Loaning of money above the market price and buying grain above the market price, the grain operators have insisted, is the last way in the world to encourage these two ends, but there are many indications that aside from its high finance the board has not been wholly dumb. There are reports, in fact, that the farmers have felt the board's determination for a curtailment of production from influences quite indirect but influential nevertheless, from member banks of the Federal Reserve system.

Despite its sincerity of purpose, and maybe its quiet, effective handling, of a difficult problem in a manner that is not apparent, however, the board has been caught between cross fires; that of the farm senators who say it is yielding step by step to the business group, and that of the business influences who insist the board is ruining them. These latter will probably welcome the inquiry as much as the farm senators.

Rivera's Son, Captain Are Wounded in Duel

Former Dictator's Scion Enters Spain Secretly to Fight Officer.

Pamploma, Spain, March 3 (A.P.). Meeting here secretly yesterday morning, Miguel Primo de Rivera, son of the former Spanish dictator, and Capt. Rexach, of the Spanish artillery corps, fought a duel with swords in the course of which each was slightly wounded. Miguel was cut once in the wrist, and Rexach was cut twice.

They separated when the seconds ruled that Rexach's cuts on the wrist were too serious to permit of his continuing the duel, but apparently they were not reconciled. It is rumored they want to fight again.

Miguel came from Paris, where he has been staying with his father and other members of his family, and slipped over the frontier by automobile through a pass in the Pyrenees. He came by appointment to meet Rexach, a challenge having passed between them in Madrid because of what Miguel considered to be insults to his father made by Rexach.

After the duel Miguel left by automobile, presumably for France, and Rexach, whose present whereabouts are unknown, went off in another.

The two duelists arrived in Pamploma before daylight and went immediately to the hall used for the Jai Alai games. After preliminary formalities they began to fight at

TAFT VITALITY AIDS IN BATTLE AGAINST DEATH

Former Chief Justice Is Reported as Slightly Improved.

SPAN OF LIFE SEEN AS INDETERMINATE

PHYSICIANS WARN AGAINST OPTIMISM

Son Leaves for His Home in Cincinnati and Requests Police to Depart.

(Associated Press.)

One month from the day that he resigned as Chief Justice found William Howard Taft yesterday clinging tenaciously to the thin thread of life which has been sustaining him since last Wednesday.

In view of his 72 years, the former President's reserve energy has amazed the attending physicians. They have said that this will be his last illness, emphasizing that any improvement would be but temporary.

Condition Is Unchanged.

Mr. Taft's condition was reported at 6:55 o'clock last night to be unchanged since yesterday morning, but Dr. Francis R. Hagner warned against too much optimism.

The evening bulletin recorded that: "The condition of the former Chief Justice is unchanged since this morning."

Dr. Francis R. Hagner, who, with Dr. Thomas A. Claytor, signed the bulletin, said, after the evening visit, that too optimistic an interpretation was not to be placed upon the improvement in Mr. Taft's condition. He added that the patient still was a very sick man.

Police Guard Is Removed.

Late yesterday the police guard in front of the Taft home was removed at the suggestion of Robert Taft and other members of the family. The uniformed sentry has been on duty day and night during the critical stages of Mr. Taft's illness to maintain quiet in the vicinity.

Yesterday's regular morning bulletin by Drs. Francis R. Hagner and Thomas A. Claytor said Mr. Taft had spent "a good night," and added: "He continued to take some nourishment. A few days ago his condition was very critical, but he has slightly improved, and, unless some further sudden change occurs due to the arterio sclerosis, his span of life for the present is indeterminate."

Arterio Sclerosis, or hardening of the arteries with consequent impairment of the blood circulation, has given the doctors more concern of late than any of the other ailments afflicting Mr. Taft.

Robert A. Taft left last night for his home in Cincinnati. He had been at the home of his father since Friday.

On leaving the Wyoming avenue residence, Mr. Taft said he expected to remain in Cincinnati for two or three days. He said there had been a marked improvement in the condition of his father over the weekend and that unless there was an unexpected relapse, the former President might live for some time.

SCHOOL INQUIRY PLAN REVEALED BY LAWMAKERS

House Subcommittee to Visit Institutions for First-Hand Data.

DEMAND IS ADVANCED FOR ELECTIVE BOARD

Present System's Alleged Faults Described at Meeting.

CALLS TO BE MADE WITHOUT WARNING

Particular Attention Asked for Unsightly Details of Playgrounds.

A personally conducted inquiry of the District schools is to be made by the educators subcommittee of the House District committee to gather information pertinent to the bill now pending to provide for election of members of the Board of Education.

This decision was announced last night by Representative Frank R. Reid (Republican) of Illinois, chairman of the education group, after speakers at a public hearing had cited instances of alleged mismanagement of the schools by the present appointed board and declared that "the only way to insure the board's responsiveness to the desires of parents and taxpayers is to elect its members."

Representative Mary T. Norton, of New Jersey; Representative Edward M. Beers, of Pennsylvania, and Representative Albert R. Hall, of Indiana, are the three members of the subcommittee who will conduct the investigation of school conditions. They will not be heralded on their tour by any fanfare of trumpets, but will endeavor to "drop in when least expected" at the various schools of the District, to see how they are operated, what their physical aspects are, and to gather any other data that may be of importance in affecting the proposed legislation.

Concrete Instance Cited.

Relating a recent instance when, as representative of a group of parent-teacher organizations, he had sought to obtain for them the "privilege" of designating one member of the School Board, Henry C. Clark, vice president of the District Congress of Parents-Teachers, told the committee that former Chief Justice Walter I. McCoy, under whose jurisdiction the appointments then lay, had stated:

"I will not consider as a member of the School Board anyone who is not favorable to Dr. Frank W. Ballou, superintendent of schols."

The speaker declared further that Dr. Ballou had issued a public statement asserting:

"I will not have a man on the School Board who will not suport me."

"That," Chairman Reid remarked, "is the first definite statement which has been presented at this hearing tonight."

Opposition to Inquiry Claimed.

Mr. Clark declared further, "The school officials of the District are unalterably opposed to any inteligent investigation of the educational system in Washington."

Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, upper left, and George H. Carter, public printer, upper right. The lower group, left to right, includes Capt. Martin H. Reilly and Detective John Boxwell, of the Sixth Precinct, and U. S. Attorney Leo A. Rover.

Public Printer, Pratt and Rover Called to Testify.

INQUISITORIAL BODY HEADED BY ROBSION

Protection to Gambling and Bootlegging Is Alleged.

PICKETING STIRRED IRE OF U. S. OFFICIAL

He Accused Department of Stupidity, Inefficiency; Jibes at Record.

The senatorial investigation of Public Printer George H. Carter's charges against the Police Department will start at 3 o'clock this afternoon, it was announced late yesterday.

Senator John M. Robsion (Republican), Kentucky, whose subcommittee will conduct the investigation, has summoned Mr. Carter and six other witnesses to appear this afternoon. The others are Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police; Leo A. Rover, the United States attorney; Frank Adams, his assistant; Inspector Thaddeus Bean, of the Police Department; Capt. Martin H. Reilly, commander of the Sixth Precinct, and John Boxwell, plain-clothes man of that precinct.

Truth of Charges Sought.

"I have called the hearing for tomorrow afternoon," Senator Robsion said yesterday, "to find out what is behind these charges. We want to get at the truth, and so we have called the man who made the charges and those at whom they are aimed."

In a letter sent last week to Senator Arthur Capper, chairman of the Senate District committee, Public Printer Carter charged that gambling and bootlegging establishments have received police protection throughout the administration of Maj. Pratt. He also accused the police of inefficiency and stupidity.

On Friday last, Chairman Capper turned the charges over to the subcommittee on police and fire, which is headed by Senator Robsion.

Other members of the committee are Senators Jones, of Washington; Vandenberg, of Michigan; Copeland, of New York, and Blease, of South Carolina.

Blease Called Home.

Senator Blease yesterday was obliged to make a hurried trip to South Carolina, and so won't be at the hearing this afternoon. He is the only member who has definitely expressed an opinion with regard to Carter's charges. In a speech Friday, he congratulated Carter, and declared that Maj. Pratt should be kicked off the force.

The controversy which is due to come to a head this afternoon was brought into the open early last week after the police began picketing an alleged saloon on I street near Thirteenth street.

The next day it was revealed that the police also were picketing four places near the Government Printing Office. Maj. Pratt said this was being done as the result of complaints made by Public Printer Carter.

Carter Called It Stupid.

Carter declared that he had not requested that the places be picketed, and described such a method as stupid. In no way, he said, could the police better tip off bootleggers or gamblers than to picket their places.

Finally Carter sent copies of his correspondence with Maj. Pratt to the Senate and House District committees, and the hearing this afternoon is the result.

Published reports that as the result of Carter's allegations police officials plan to renew the request, made about two years ago by Maj. Hesse,

TALIAFERRO DESIRES RELIEF FROM DUTIES

Commissioner, Term Expired, Expected to Return to Private Practice.

HOOVER GETS REQUEST

Commissioner Sidney F. Taliaferro yesterday requested President Hoover to relieve him of his duties as District Commissioner not later than the end of this month.

The Commissioner's request was contained in a letter which was brought to the White House by a special messenger and, although the letter was not made public, its purport was disclosed.

Mr. Taliaferro, it is understood, called the attention of the Chief Executive to the existing indefiniteness about the appointment of his successor as District Commissioner and told the President that he had made plans to reopen his private law office and that these plans constrained him to act.

Mr. Taliaferro's term as District Commissioner, like that of Commissioner Dougherty, expired last February 4 and both Commissioners today will have served one month beyond their terms.

The retiring Commissioner refused to make public his letter when asked for a copy of it by The Post, saying that he did not with to be discourteous to the President nor to cause him any embarassment and expressed regret that news of his letter had become known until such time as the President had had time to receive and digest it and to take action.

There was nothing in the letter, it was said, which might be construed as critical of the failure of Mr. Hoover to name successors to the incumbents as District Commissioners immediately after their three-year terms of office expired.

There were reports that Mr. Taliaferro had been engaged at a lucrative figure to represent private clients. This, however, could not be confirmed. Prior to his appointment as a Democratic member of the Board of District Commissioners Mr. Taliaferro was engaged in private law practice. Although never a member of the same firm, he frequently was associated with Thomas P. Littlepage, one of the "big five" Republican bosses of the District affairs.

Mr. Taliaferro also represented railroad interests and acted as their Washington representative over a considerable period prior to his appointment. Whether his former connections will be resumed was not disclosed. It is expected that the letter will be made public today.

U. S. HAITI OFFICIAL TERMED DICTATOR

Brig. Gen. Russell's Recall Urged Before Hoover Commission.

PRESIDENT HELD PUPPET

Port-au-Prince, Haiti, March 3 (A. P.).—Two prominent Haitian leaders, representing groups with a total membership of 500,000, in testifying before President Hoover's investigation commission today, urged the immediate recall of Brig. Gen. John H. Russell, American high commissioner, and accused him of being virtually dictator of the island republic.

They likewise asked for the dismissal of the council of state and warned the commissioners that if the council should attempt to elect a president on April 14 without permitting popular elections, a "massacre" was unavoidable.

Antoine Rigal, president of a group of seven liberal organizations, accused Gen. Russell of being virtually a dictator, and declared that President Borno was holding office illegally, the president's father being French, and the constitution requiring a native-born Haitian for the office.

He denounced Borno as a mere "puppet" in the hands of High Commissioner Russell and demanded the recall of the American high commissioner.

"We refuse to obey this dictator who is not of our people any longer," he said. "All officials from the president down, even judges, are nominated and put in office by the executive power, which is the high commissioner. President Borno is only a puppet in the hands of High Commissioner Russell, and the council of state serve only as clerks for Borno.

"If the council of state dares to elect a president on April 14, instead of permitting a popular election, United States machine guns will sink all Haitians in blood."

Seymour Pradel, chairman of the National League for Constitutional Action, representing 150,000 Haitians, supported the claims of his compatriot, and also warned the commissioners that if the Haitians could not elect their own president they would not hesitate to shed their blood in protest.

He accused President Borno of having a secret pact with Gen. Russell, which placed "American bayonets at the disposal of Borno in exchange for dictatorial powers."

Saying that Borno had done "so many illegal things that the people could not trust him," he affirmed that the president was constantly changing the personnel of the council

TARIFF BILL TO PASS TOMORROW, IS VIEW

OTHERS LESS OPTIMISTIC

(Associated Press.)

A prediction that the tariff bill will be passed by the Senate by tomorrow was made last night by Chairman Smoot, of the finance committee, after the Senate had completed another eleven hours of continued labor on the measure.

By working steadily until 10 o'clock last night the Senate virtually completed action on amendments in what is known in parliamentary terms as "committee of the whole."

Today the bill is expected to be reported back to the Senate proper for separate votes on major rates, including sugar, hides, leathers, shoes, brick, lumber and a host of other commodities on which action already has been taken in the committee of the whole.

Senator Smoot said there is a chance of the bill's being passed tonight, but that he thought final action will certainly come tomorrow or tomorrow night.

Democratic leaders, however, were less optimistic and expressed the opinion that the measure, now approaching the six-months mark in the Senate, will not be disposed of before next week.

Republican Independents, on the other hand, believe final action will depend to a great extent upon the amount of time devoted to sugar and shoes and hides and other important duties.

The placing of a tariff of 7 cents a pound on long staple cotton, now on the free list, and a duty of 10 per cent ad valorem on turpentine and rosin, also nondutiable in the present law, marked the actions taken yesterday and last night.

By a margin of one vote another attempt to protect domestic lumbermen from possible future competition was lost with the defeat of a proposal of Senator Hayden (Democrat), Arizona.

INQUEST PLANS STIR HIGHWAY MYSTERY

FOUND DYING NEAR CITY

Action of Coroner T. Marshall Jones, of Alexandria, yesterday in scheduling an inquest there at 11 o'clock this morning into the death of an unidentified man found dying on the main highway between Alexandria and this city Friday night, immediately revived interest in the mysterious case, which has given indications of murder.

The coroner, while withholding an expression of opinion, revealed that the unidentified man, about 45 years old, died as the result of severe blows of an undetermined nature which crushed in a portion of the front part of the skull and the chin, and resulted in contusions under the left eye and the loss of four upper teeth. The coroner and Dr. Samuel B. Moore, chief surgeon of the Alexandria Hospital, after a thorough examination, reported that no marks were found elsewhere on the body.

Belief was expressed at first that the man may have been the victim of a hit-and-run motorist. He was found lying unconscious on the highway about two and one-half miles north of Alexandria, near the road leading to Virginia Highlands, by S. L. Nifong, of Washington, passing in an automobile, who rushed him to the hospital. The man died about an hour later without regaining consciousness.

The man was shabbily dressed, had no money, and a gold stickpin was the only article of value. In his pockets was a card and a scrap of paper, both bearing writing in ink, and an envelope. The name "Harvey J. Dietterich, 409 East Fourth street, Berwick, Pa." was on the card, and the name "William H. Sarley, 333 Grant street, Berwick, Pa." was on the paper. The envelope, postmarked at Lansdowne, Pa., was addressed to Mrs. John H. Taylor, West Second street, Berwick, Pa.

Capital Man Elopes With New York Bride

Horace H. Westcott, Real Estate Dealer, and Mrs. Edna Guild Wed Secretly in Frederick Last Friday, Friends Learn.

Horace H. Westcott, prominent Washington real estate man, slipped quietly out of the Capital last Friday and was secretly marrie in Frederick, d., to Mrs. Edna Harzman Guild, of New York City, friends in this city learned yesterday.

The bridegroom had so arranged matters that even some of the men most intimately acquainted with him in the etropolitan Club did not learn of the wedding until long after Mr. and Mrs. Westcott were in Atlantic City on their honeymoon.

The marriage was performed by the Rev. Charles E. Wehler, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Frederick, Md., at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. A half hour before Mr. Westcott had obtained the license from the county clerk.

Here again r. Westcott threw reporters off his trail by giving his address as York, Me. He gave his age as 57 and said he was a widower. His bride, who gave her age as 46, said she was divorced in 1919 at Philadelphia. Mrs. Guild has a daughter.

They journeyed to Frederick in a limousine, accompanied only by Miss Harriett Holther, who is associated with Mr. Westcott in business.

Mr. Westcott followed the same procedure in his runaway marriage as a former business partner, John Potten Story, jr., who, on May 25, 1929, was wed for the second time in Frederick.

Mr Westcott's first wife died several years ago . She was the daughter of Col. John Rogers. Last fall his mother-in-law bequeathed him a large estate.

While no announcement has been made, it is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Westcott will make their home at 1310 Sixteenth street northwest, where Mr. Westcott has lived. They are expected to return to the Capital this week.

Woman Is Injured by Auto.

While crossing Seventeenth street northwest near H street yesterday, Jane Cogan, 35 years old, of Adams Mill road northwest near Ontario road, was struck by an automobile, police reported, driven by Charles Leets, 33 years old, of Chevy Chase, Md. The injured woman was driven to Emergency Hospital by Mr. Leets and treated for bruises and a possible fracture of the right leg.

Owner Given Only $7,270 For Napoleonic Necklace

Deposed Agent Declares He Retained $53,000 of Proceeds "for Expenses;" Archduke Leopold to Be Quizzed by New York Prosecutor in Inquiry.

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—For the necklace of 47 diamonds which Napoleon gave his empress, Maria Louisa, of Austria, after she had presented him with a son, the Archduchess Maria Theresa, of Vienna, received only $7,270, her legal representative in New York said today.

Sale of the necklace—which had been appraised at a figure well above $300,000 and at never less than $200,000 by Charles L. Townsend—Maria Theresa's former agent—to D. M. Michel, a Fifth avenue jeweler, for $60,000 is under investigation now by the district attorney.

Laurence Steinhardt, of the law firm retained by American friends of the archduchess to protect her interests, said today he had been informed by Vienna police that Maria Theresa received a letter from Mr. Townsend, dated Chicago, February 13, advising her he had sold the necklace for $60,000 and inclosing a check to her for $7,270, stating that the balance, approximately $53,000, had been retained by him to cover expenses incident to the sale.

Mr. Steinhardt said that on January 20 the archduchess revoked Mr

First Year in Office Ends With Hoover in Fine Health

President's Physical Condition Reported Better Than When He Entered White House; Energy at Work and Play Is Noted by His Associates.

(Associated Press.)

As his first year in the White House comes to a close today, friends of President Hoover find him in better health than when on last March 4 he assumed the burdensome responsibilities of State.

The Chief Executive's close personal associates remark the vigor with which he attacks alike the multitudinous tasks of office and the morning medicine ball exercise. The latter is held on the south lawn of the White House when the weather permits and shifts to a court prepared in a basement room when it does not.

Throughout the year President Hoover has maintained a rigorously regular working schedule. He is at his office at 9 o'clock in the morning. He takes off an hour for lunch, returns to his office and remains until 6 or 6:30 p. m.

The hard pace the President set in the construction of dams for trout pools at his camp on the headwaters of the Rapidan River in Virginia during last summer and fall has been for legislation which would permit police to raid any barricaded premises without warrant, were denied yesterday by Maj. Henry G. Pratt, present superintendent of police.

Maj. Pratt expressed doubt that such legislation would be constitutional, and added that even if such law were possible of enactment, he still would oppose any measure that would give the police power to make raids without warrants.

Precedent in New York Law.

The law which Maj. Hesse advocated was based upon a section of the New York code which gives the police power to raid without warrants any place protected by barred or reinforced doors, such barricades being held prima facie evidence of intent to violate the law.

Maj. Pratt said yesterday that he would not oppose legislation to make such barricading, "together with other evidence," evidential basis for issuance of warrants by the Police Court, but added that he did not intend to request any such legislation at this time.

At the request of Mr. Carter, the headquarters detectives who have been guarding him since threats against his life were reported last week, were withdrawn from that assignment yesterday, although a uniformed policeman continued to pace a "short beat" around the Carter residence on Hobart street northwest.

While he pointed out that the police protection had been accorded him voluntarily by Maj. Pratt and that he had not asked for it, Mr. Carter explained that he "figured he was entitled to at least as much protection as the police give to gamblers and bootleggers."

Hits at Police Records.

Belittling police records made public on Saturday which showed that there have been 730 alleged gamblers or bootleggers arrested in police raids between September 1 and February 1, Carter yesterday declared the report was "conspicuous in its failure to tell what disposition had been made of the cases."

Reiterating his declaration that vice is flourishing in the District with "phoney police protection," Carter asserted that "a lot of raids are made, but few gamblers are convicted in court because there is little or no evidence against them. The police either are inefficient or they don't want to obtain convictions."

HIGH COURT TO PASS ON RUM PLOT CASE

WETS TO END HEARINGS

(Associated Press.)

A decision to pass upon a highly disputed point of prohibition enforcement came from the Supreme Court yesterday while the wets were determining who would have the final word before the House judiciary committee in behalf of repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

The six hearings in the past three weeks have been occupied by those favoring repeal or modification of prohibition. They will end their arguments today and tomorrow the drys will begin to present their witnesses. Thus far, there has come no announcement from the drys as to who they will bring.

The case upon which the Supreme Court decided to act involves whether the purchaser of bootleg liquor may be prosecuted for conspiracy to violate the Volstead act when he orders liquor knowing that illegal transportation will be necessary. Recognizing that a speedy decision was needed, the court advanced the case for hearing on April 14. It came from the Pennsylvania courts.

Two Men Indicted.

When Alfred E. Norris, a New York banker, obtained frequent supplies of illicit liquor from Joel D. Kerper, of Philadelphia, shipped on Norris' order, the Government indicted the two men, charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws. The Federal court in Pennsylvania decided against the Government, holding that a sale did not constitute a conspiracy, even though it contemplated the delivery of the liquor.

Explaining that the question of whether a purchaser of illicit liquor is equally guilty with the bootlegger is not involved in the present case, which is restricted to the charge of conspiracy, the Government regards the outcome as of the highest importance in the shaping of measures to make prohibition enforcement more effective.

Opponents of prohibition who will testify today will include Breckenridge Long, of St. Louis, former Assistant Secretary of State under Woodrow Wilson, and Noel B. Martin, an attorney of Lewiston, Idaho, as leading witnesses.

LaGuardia Wants Wet Issue.

Representative LaGuardia (Republican), New York, a wet member of the judiciary committee, and Representative Sabath (Democrat), Illinois, author of a resolution to modify the eighteenth amendment, said yesterday that they view the hearings as having brought to the public attention the stand on the dry laws of Representatives in Congress.

"Let us make a campaign issue of prohibition for the November congressional elections," Representative LaGuardia said. He and Sabath said they believed that the candidates, regardless of whether they were Republicans or Democrats, should be stamped by the party leaders during the campaigns as either wets or drys.

They concurred in the belief that wets would gain a large number of seats in the House this fall. The New Yorker said that with all other things equal, he would vote for a wet Democrat in preference to a dry Republican.

Export Bill Action In Canada Delayed

Measure Thought Designed to Ban Rum Shipment to U. S. Held Up.

Ottawa, Ontario, March 3 (A.P.).—Action on the bill to amend the export act, which stands on the order paper in the name of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, was deferred in the House of Commons today because of the prime minister's absence. The bill is believed designed to empower the government to prohibit exportation of liquor to the United States.

T. L. Church (Conservative), Toronto, submitted a motion requesting all correspondence between the United States and Canadian governments concerning the alleged establishment of a large force on the international boundary line to enforce United States laws.

Ernest LaPointe, minister of justice, who was leading the House, pointed out that confidential correspondence between two governments could not be made public without the consent of both governments, and that correspondence between a government and its representative in a foreign country also was considered confidential.

DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Met at 11 a. m. and, after night session, recessed at 10 p. m. to 11 a. m. today.

Senator Wagner (Democrat), New York, urged action on his bill to relieve unemployment.

Senator La Follette (Republican), Wisconsin, declared that alarms over Reds and Communists were a smoke screen to hide the unemployment problem.

Senator Swanson (Democrat), Virginia, spoke against the McKellar resolution to recall the American delegates to the London Naval Conference.

Senator Nye (Republican), North Dakota, introduced a resolution proposing a Senate investigation of whether the grain trade has conspired to destroy the effectiveness of the farm relief act.

Judiciary committee favorably reported the nomination of Charles Hanratty, to be marshal for Delaware.

The committee postponed for a week a vote on the nomination of Judge Thomas D. Thacher, of New York, to be solicitor general of the United States.

HOUSE.

Adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Hughes (Republican), West Virginia, who died Sunday.

Representative Leavitt (Republican), Montana, who had been boomed as a senatorial candidate, announced he was a candidate for reelection to the House.

Representative Mary T. Norton (Democrat), New Jersey, announced that she would go on a national speaking tour to urge repeal of prohibition.

Chairman Graham, of the judiciary committee, said that the wets would conclude their arguments today, and that the drys will begin theirs tomorrow.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals today reversed her conviction on charges of having sent obscene matter through the mails to Mrs. C. A. Miles, in Grottoes, Va.

The pamphlet in question first was published in the Medical Review of Reviews.

Subsequently it was distributed widely by churches and social organizations. After her conviction Mrs. Dennett was fined $300 and sentenced to one year in prison.

A decision written by Judge Augustus N. Hand, whose two colleagues concurred with him, set aside the conviction, fine and prison sentence. No retrial was ordered.

Judge Hand based his decision on the ground that "no case was made for submission to the jury."

"The pamphlet may fairly be said to be calculated to aid parents in the instruction of their children in sex matters," he wrote.

When informed of the court's decision, Mrs. Dennett said circulation of her pamphlet since her conviction had never stopped.

"I've been sending it by express," she explained.

WOMEN IN CAPITAL TO FIGHT DRY LAWS

Militant Oganization Has Enrolled Thousands in District, Is Claim.

OFFICIAL SET EXCLUDED

Washington women aware of what they term the "hypocrisy, corruption and lawlessness engendered by the dry laws" are quietly organizing on a large scale for the defeat of the eighteenth amendment, a member of the local committee of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform revealed last night.

In announcing that the rolls of the local unit would soon reveal "thousands of names," the committee member spiked rumors to the effect that many women in official circles were joining secretly in order to avoid embarrassing their husbands with the administration. "No women connected with official life have been urged to join she said. "We are not seeking to embarrass the President, or anyone else."

Members of the local unit will appear before the House judiciary committee tomorrow, when the drys will seek to refute arguments for modification advanced during the last few weeks by opponents of Volsteadism. When plans to be formulated on the basis of the drys' testimony are completed, it was stated, the unit expects to militantly ally itself with the Men's Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment.

Membership application cards mailed to local women read in part: "I believe that national prohibition has incited crime and increased lawlessness, hypocrisy and corruption; I believe that the cause of real temperance has been retarded and that sumptuary laws have no place in the Federal Constitution. I propose to work for some change in the law which will bring about a sane solution of the problem, and therefore, enroll as a member of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform."

No membership dues are required.

U. S. Highest Court Acts on Rum Cases

(Associated Press.)

Decisions announced yesterday by the Supreme Court affected matters at issue in widely-separated sections, with the questions involved ranging from construction projects to prohibition violations.

No written opinions were handed down but, by order, the court disposed of several cases argued last week. Only three out of 24 petitions for review were granted.

On April 14 the court will hear oral arguments in several prohibition cases which the Government lost in the lower courts.

If refused, however, to review the convictions of Robert Carnahan at Kansas City, Mo.; of Maurice Sugarman and Jud Purdue at San Diego, Calif.; of George A. Moffett and Benjamin Niport at Baltimore, Md., and of Titus A. Haffa, at Chicago, for violating the prohibition law.

Railroad That Moved Soil for Ford Is Fined

Trenton, N. J., March 3 (N.Y. W.N.S.).—The Pennsylvania Railroad was fined $1,400 here today by Federal Judge John B. Avis for transporting seven carloads of earth from the soil of Menlo Park, N. J., to Dearborn, Mich., in connection with Henry Ford's golden jubilee celebration of the invention of the electric light, without first obtaining a certificate from the Department of Agriculture showing that the soil was free from the larvae of the Japanese beetle.

The soil was found to contain the larvae when it reached Michigan. It was taken to Dearborn at the order of Henry Ford, who insisted on having not only Edison's Menlo Park laboratory for the jubilee but also the ground it stood on.

Wholesale Firms Do More Business

Turn for Better Since Last Month Is Reported by Reserve Board.

(Associated Press.)

A turn for the better in sales by wholesale firms of the Nation was reported yesterday by the Federal Reserve Board, along with a general sales increase in January of this year as compared with December of 1929.

At the same time, the chart issued by the board showed there was a decrease in sales in January, 1930, as compared with January, 1929. In last January the sales of groceries were 6 per cent higher than in December of 1929, while meats averaged 3 per cent higher, dry goods 17 per cent higher, shoes 68 per cent higher and drugs 11 per cent higher, with small increases in agriculture implements and silk goods.

As compared with January a year ago, sales of groceries were about the same, with meats decreasing 2 per cent, dry goods dropping 17 per cent, shoes decreasing 19 per cent, hardware 15 per cent and drugs 13 per cent.

Stocks on hand on January 31, 1930, showed generally a decrease as compared with January 31, 1929.

WALES RECOVERING FROM FEVER ATTACK

Prince, Stricken While on African Trip, May Leave Bed in Day or Two.

NO ANXIETY IN LONDON

Nairobi, Kenya Colony, March 3 (A. P.).—The Prince of Wales is making good recovery in his bout with subtertian malaria. He is in bed in Government House here, attended by physicians and nurses who have specialized in this curse of equatorial Africa. With their care and his own strong constitution and optimistic temperament, it is believed that any danger of complications or a relapse is slight. It is even stated that he hopes to be able to leave his bed in a day or two.

His fever developed while the royal hunting party was in a train between Kiu and Voi Friday night, and it wasn't until early Sunday morning that the party arrived at Nairobi.

The prince's future plans are naturally causing much speculation. He obviously will be reluctant to leave Africa without bagging an elephant—on which he had set his heart—but it is recognized that he will be ruled by the opinion of his medical advisers.

London, March 3 (A.P.).—Court circles feel no anxiety with regard to the attack of malaria from which the Prince of Wales is suffering at Nairobi.

A high official at Buckingham Palace said that it was not considered that there was any need for worry. Meanwhile King George and Queen Mary are being kept in constant touch with the progress of the illness by cable.

Important dispatches from Nairobi received in London today were conveyed immediately to members of the prince's household.

Cables received at the prince's residence, York House, today were of reassuring character. They said all the doctors agreed that the prince's illness was following a completely normal course and there was nothing to cause undue anxiety.

Col. Piers Legh, equerry who is with the prince, cabled that the attack was very slight and there were no complications whatever.

It was stated at York House it had not been decided whether the prince would have to curtail his African visit.

HOUSE MEMBERS PLAN SCHOOL QUIZ

ciations and the Citizens Advisory Council, cited numerous instances of alleged mismanagement by the present board, and declared that an investigation he had made had showed that members of the board "neveer" visited the schools and that the visits made by Dr. Ballou were extremely rare and of brief and casual nature.

He declared that conversations he has had with teachers and principals showed that they are anxious for abolition of the appointive system and substitution of an elective School Board, and cited cases where, he charged, Dr. Ballou had refused to oust unsatisfactory employes in face of frequent demands.

Unsanitary Conditions Alleged.

Dr. Havenner urged the congressional investigators to pay particular attention to school grounds, which he declared are "disgraceful, full of mud, broken glass and other refuse." He also emphasized the alleged unsanitary and unsafe conditions in many schools, citing instances where he had found windows opening to fire escapes nailed shut, and "shocking quantities of filth and refuse" in classrooms. He also strongly urged election as the only way to give women a chance to control the education of their children through membership on the board.

Throughout the hearing Representative Reid frequently reiterated his demands for "facts, names, dates, figures and places," pointing out that "I am for this bill myself, but I have to convince 434 other members of the House."

Oscar H. Brinkman, former clerk of the Senate District committee and now representative of proponents of the elective measure, declared that the five-year building program formulated by the School Board in 1924 was "a bit of strategy hastily rushed through to block threatened investigation by the United States Bureau of Education, which had been asked by Congress to prepare a program."

Estimate Errors Pointed Out.

Mr. Brinkman cited figures showing that in its program the board had erred in its estimates of requirements during the ensuing five years by at least 40 per cent. He asserted this figure was "rather high for those who set themselves up as experts" and "an excellent reason why the present appointed board, which has failed grossly, should be replaced with an elective board chosen by the taxpayers because of qualifications."

He charged further that the present board has spent "fortunes" for "decorative accessories," which might better have been spent in providing much-needed educational facilities. Pointing out that the elementary school facilities are too small to accommodate the pupils, "who are being refused schooling despite the compulsory educatoin law in the District," he declared that "it takes political pull to get a child into many District schools."

r. Brinkman concluded with the declaration that his former senatorial experience had shown him that there are more complaints received by Congress regarding the school situation than against any other division of the District government.

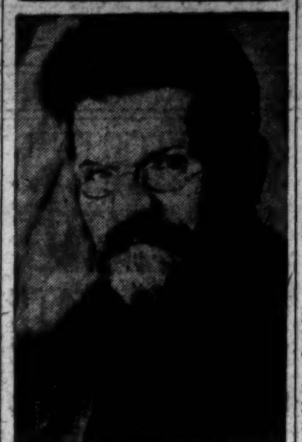
The charge was made by George A. Warren, representing teh Central Labor Union and the idcity Citizens Association, that the present system under which the school board is appointed by the District Supreme Court is defective, because the courts are so congested and the judges so overworked that they are unable to give proper thought to the selection of school board members, to name men qualified as educators.

Autoist Is Arrested on Rum Carrying Charge

Edward Richardson, 41 years old, of First street near M street northwest, will be arraigned today in Police Court on a charge of possession and transportation of liquor. Richardson was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sergt. G. M. Little and Policeman Leo Murray after they had found alleged liquor in his automobile.

Richardson was driving on New Jersey avenue, near L street northwest, when the two officers ordered him to stop. A pint of alleged liquor he had in his pocket he said he was bringing to his wife, who is ill. Further search revealed a half-gallon of alleged red liquor in the back seat of the automobile.

SOVIET PLEADER



MICHAEL F. KALININ.

RED PEASANTS TOLD OF VAST FARM PLAN

"We Have Begun to Remake Man," Kalanin Asserts of Collective Scheme.

WORK OR DIE, IS ORDER

Moscow, U. S. S. R., March 3 (A.P.). "Uncle Mike," better known to the outside world as Michael Ivanovitch Kalinin, president of the central executive committee of Soviet Russia, took the peasants of Voronesh familiarly into his confidence today and told them all about the government's decision to convert Russia into a vast area of state-controlled collective farms.

His speech was a remarkable one. President of the highest official body in the Soviet Union and himself a sturdy son of the soil, he straightforwardly declared to his peasant hearers, "We have begun to remake man."

In doing this, he declared, the government could no longer allow the peasants to labor unproductively on their farms or to waste their time in useless pursuits.

Therefore, the communist authorities have decided to mobilize the bulk of the country's 100,000,000 farmers on more productive collective farms, where labor and its fruits will be allotted equally to all toilers.

"If we succeed in attafning our goal of collectivism, no power on earth will be able to undermine or destroy us," he asserted.

"In this process of collectivising our farms and suppressing the kulaks (peasant proprietors) we should be considered to have no human feelings if we said such a drastic transformation carried with it no individual sufferings and misfortunes.

"But we know that this move toward socialization is best for the masses. Therefore we can not allow individual sufferings to influence us.

"However harsh and painful the extermination of the kulaks may seem, it is absolutely necessary, because it insures the healthy development of the collective farm organism and fortifies us against great expenditure of human lives in the future.

"If the peasants on these collective farms work out and carry into effect a good production and financial plan, each of them will receive his quarter of a pound of meat daily, but if they fail in this, then God help them to get their bread."

Kalinin's warning to the pessants if they fail to make the collective farm scheme a success compliements Stalin's warning yesterday. It indicates that the Communists, finding they are going too fast, are genuinely anxious to explain their plan, and to advance it by words and not by violence.

After Stalin's instructions to the party members to slacken the speed with which they have been realizing the scheme, Kalinin's speech attempts to explain the idea to the peasants. Between the two, the government apparently hopes to consolidate its gains and to avoid rousing the peasants to desperate acts.

President Is Told Of Anti-Red Order

Formation of 'Silent Women' Described to Hoover by Callers.

President Hoover yesterday was informed of the organization of "The Silent Women of America" during a call at the White House of Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, sister of A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, and Mrs. Frances E. Slattery, also of Boston.

The aim of "The Silent Women," Mrs. Putnam told the President, is to "fight and put out of business the United States Children's Bureau, which is seeking to nationalize, in regular Communistic fashion, the children of America."

In time, Mrs. Putnam said, some 40,000,000 women are expected to be enrolled in the cause—either silently or actively.

Insurgent Chief Made President

Gen. Estrella Urena Takes Oath as Dominican Executive.

Santo Domingo, Dominican republic, March 3 (A.P.).—Gen. Rafael Estrella Urena, chief of the recent insurgent movement against the Vasquez government, and recently appointed secretary of the interior by former President Vasquez, today became provisional president of the Dominican republic.

Before the national assembly he took the oath this morning in the presence of the American Minister, Charles B. Curtis, and other diplomatic and consular officials. In a brief speech afterward he promised to respect the constitution and the laws of the country, and to adjust his government to the normal political situation he had outlined in his earlier campaigns.

He emphasized this intention of guaranteeing free elections in May, and asked for the cooperation of the assembly and all citizens. President Estrella Urena telegraphed Senor Angel Morales, Dominican Minister to Washington, requesting him to withdraw his proffered resignation.

SENATORS WILL ACT ON UNEMPLOYMENT

3,100,000 OUT OF WORK

(Associated Press.)

Promise of early consideration of labor legislation came out of a spirited debate in the Senate yesterday over the unemployment situation.

Responding to demands by Senators Wagner (Democrat), New York, and La Follette (Republican), Wisconsin, for legislation to set up employment systems, Chairman Johnson of the commerce committee, invited them to lay their measures before him at the committee session, Thursday. He recently became chairman of this committee.

Senator Vandenberg (Republican), Michigan, replied to attacks upon the administration with a demand that the Senate "tend to business" and enact the two-month-old administration bill expanding the public buildings program by $230,000,000.

Blame Bandied About.

Blame was thrown back and forth in the two-hour discussion and various cures were offered. Senator Couzens (Republican), Michigan, urged action on the bill by Senator Brookhart (Republican), Iowa, to allow World War veterans to cash their bonus insurance certificates.

Senator La Follette deplored alarms being broadcast of a Communist demonstration on Thursday and condemned cries of a "red scare" as attempts "to drag a red herring across the trail of the millions of men and women who, through no fault of their own, are out of work."

Senator Wheeler (Democrat), Montana, also belittled the talk of a "red scare" and denounced a letter circulated by Matthew Woll, a vice president of the American Federation of Labor, ascribing unemployment demonstrations to Communist activities. He assailed the contention of Mr. Woll that William Foster, Communist candidate for President in 1928, was on his way here from Russia with $1,250,000 for propaganda. Senator Heflin (Democrat), Alabama, suggested that the Senate lobby committee summon Mr. Woll before it.

Tax Cut Repeal Suggested.

Senator Couzens said he had received information from high administration officials that there were 3,100,000 unemployed and that there were likely to be more. He also suggested that Congress might repeal the $160,000,000 tax reduction authorized for this year and apply this money to relieve unemployment.

Senator Wagner opened the debate with a demand for consideration of his bills to provide more accurate information on employment and to set up a long-range employment planning program. He denounced suggestions that delay in enactment of the tariff was responsible for unemployment.

The New Yorker also assailed the leadership of President Hoover in connection with tariff enactment, blaming him for any delay.

Senator Fess (Republican), Ohio, served notice that he would answer Senator Wagner today.

Robinson Hits Critics.

Senator Robinson (Republican) Indiana, jumped into the debate yesterday to demand of the administration critics what they proposed to have done. He asserted full responsibility is upon Congress rather than the Chief Executive.

Urging early consideration of the public buildings bill, Senator Vandenberg contended this would do more than anything else before Congress to help employment. He added, "It seems to me that the Senate can contribute more to national employment by less oratory and more legislation and by less challenge to the President and more attention to its own responsibilities."

Senator Glass (Democrat), Virginia, with a smile, suggested that another commission be appointed to examine the situation.

Senator Johnson said, "There is no evil which exists so far as I have been able to discern from utterances which have come from the White House."

Thacher Is Questioned On Retention of Stock

(Associated Press.)

The Senate judiciary committee addressed a letter yesterday to Judge Thomas Day Thacher, nominee for Solicitor General of the United States, asking if he intended to dispose of his stock in four power companies.

In a letter to Senator Borah, of Idaho, a member of the judiciary committee, Judge Thacher last week explained that he held stock in the four power companies. The Thacher letter was read yesterday at the meeting of the judiciary committee and consideration of his nomination was deferred until next week, after considerable discussion.

Shoup, Twice Governor Of Colorado, Reweds

Colorado Springs, Colo., March 3 (A.P.).—Oliver H. Shoup, twice Governor of Colorado, and Miss Mary Alice Hackett, of Colorado Springs, were married today. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mgr. Godfrey Raber, of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Miss Hackett for several years has been treasurer of various companies through which Mr. Shoup conducted his business activities and during his terms as governor was in charge of his Colorado Springs offices. Mr. Shoup's first wife died in 1927.

Two Frozen to Death In Pennsylvania Snow

Pittsburgh, March 3 (A.P.).—Two persons were found frozen to death today following the most severe storm that has visited the Pittsburgh district this winter. A blizzard swept the district for more than 20 hours, during which 5 inches of snow fell.

The victims of the storm were Martin Madden, 50, of North Braddock, and Mrs. Bertha Short, 54, Negro, of Pittsburgh. Harry Sievers, air mail pilot, reported that he made a forced landing near Cleveland while flying from McKeesport, near here, to Cleveland. He said he landed near Cleveland's lake front because of a high wind.

LAMONT PREDICTS GOOD TIMES AHEAD

Satisfactory Conditions in Two Months Seen by Commerce Head.

RAILROAD FIGURES CITED

Secretary of Commerce Lamont made the prediction yesterday that economic conditions will be on a satisfactory basis within the next two months.

No more optimistic statement has issued from Government sources since the stock market crash than the one from the Department of Commerce giving the Secretary's views in answer to the question, "How's business?"

The department headed the statement, "Business Outlook Promising," and cited that Secretary Lamont had expressed the opinion that "trade and industry, after going too fast, had paused to get its breath."

Quoting the Secretary indirectly, the department statement continued:

"He said that practically all dependable surveys of national scope indicated that business was amazingly well off, in view of what it had gone through.

"He said that he talked recently with on officer of one of the leading railroads which for many years has followed the practice of carefully surveying and estimating in advance its gross business for the year as a basis for expenditures. He said these statistics had shown uncanny accuracy. This railroad's figures for 1930, he said, were only 3 per cent under last year and the railroad officer told him that the information indicated that the dip below last year would come about in the early months of this year.

"He said many other railroad statistics checked with this information and that in his opinion railroad figures were one of the most dependable measures of business, as such a heavy percentage of everything manufactured or produced was hauled by rail.

"Secretary Lamont referred to recent figures from the American Federation of Labor indicating a 2 per cent increase in unemployment during January. He said he felt that the situation would be well in hand within the next two months. He added that two months is a long time to be out of work for a man without fneans and that the thing to do now is to find jobs for the men who need them. He said he would exert his influence to that end."

Contractor Asks Bankruptcy.

Matthew A. Welch, who describes himself as a plumbing and heating contractor, yesterday petitioned the District Supreme Court to adjudge him a voluntary bankrupt. He lists assets of $6,123.31 and debts of $17,599.03. Attorney W. H. Labofish appears for the petitioner.

CLEW SPURS SEARCH FOR MISSING PLANE

IN FORMIDABLE CANYON

Los Angeles, March 3 (A.P.).—Confident that J. T. Barber, a rancher, had located the Western Air Express transport plane, missing with its crew of three or more than a week, Sheriff Walter Shay, of San Bernardino County, today organized a posse to search for the ship in an almost inaccessible canyon of the San Bernardino Mountains 20 miles northeast of Lake Arrowhead.

The sighting of the wreckage of a large airplane was reported today by Barber. The rancher said he saw the disabled ship while sweeping the mountainsides with powerful field glasses. He estimated he was approximately a mile away from it and fixed the location of the wreck in Deep Box Canyon. He saw a red fuselage, which corresponds to the color of the Western Air Express ships, and said one wing apparently was missing from the plane. No sign of life was apparent, he reported.

C. C. Cole, superintendent of operations for the air lines, was confident that Barber had located the lost W. A. E. transport piloted by James E. Doles and notified Sheriff Shay who organized the posse and sent it to the isolated area.

The searchers were faced with cutting their way through trackless brush and climbing over exceedingly rough terrain. A driving rain and cloud-enveloped mountain peaks added to their difficulties. It was hoped the posse might gain a point near enough to the spot to bring back a definite report tonight.

Barber's report substantiated previous clews from persons who saw Doles' ship bucking a storm in the mountains a week ago Sunday, headed in the general direction of Lake Arrowhead. Doles was flying here from Kingman, Ariz., with Copilot A. W. Bieber and Steward John W. Slaton. He carried no passengers. Doles once before was sought when he failed to arrive at Albuquerque, N. Mex., but on that occasion he was missing only 24 hours, having landed on a mountain mesa to wait out a storm, later coming into Albuquerque safely with his passengers. Among his fellow pilots, he had the reputation of being a lucky flier.

Another Western Air Express flier, Maury Graham, has never been found since he supposedly crashed January 10 in a snowstorm somewhere between Las Vegas, Nev., and Salt Lake City. He was flying a mail plane.

TWO BOYS CONFESS THEY SLEW FATHERS

Youth in Virginia, Another in Louisiana Relate Similar Stories.

ABUSE CLAIMED BY BOTH

Norton, Va., March 3 (A.P.).—Jim Miller, 14-year-old boy, was in prison here today after confessing that he killed his father, Louis Miller, 38, in defense of his mother. He came to the police station yesterday and surrendered soon after authorities had received reports of the killing.

"Here I am, chief," he told Chief of Police Warren. "He was beating and cussing mother and had been whipping me and my brother and I shot him." Policemen went to the home and found Miller's body on the kitchen floor. Officials said they learned he had been drinking heavily.

Shreveport, La., March 3 (A.P.).—Police today were holding Ben Mondell, 16, after he had signed a written confession that he killed his father, Pasimo Mondell, 48, last Saturday night as he was preparing for bed.

The youth said that his father had threatened his life with a pistol in order to make him plow in the field. Mondell was slain by a charge of shot fired through the open doorway of the room in which he was sitting. Members of the family said Ben had declared he would kill his father if he kept abusing him.

Four Children Die When Homes Burn

Two of Parents Also Are Critically Injured in Rescue Tries.

Bluefield, W. Va., March 3 (A.P.).—Two children were burned to death, their mother was burned seriously, and five other children escaped by jumping from the second floor of their home today in a fire that destroyed the home.

The dead were Elizabeth Hypes, 3 years old, and Buddy Hypes, 7 months old. Physicians said the mother, Mrs. Hazel Hypes, 32 years old, may not recover.

Wichita, Kans., March 3 (A.P.).—Amos, 8 years old, and Betty Lee, 3, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Case, were burned to death today and their father received burns which may cause his death in a fire at their North Wichita dwelling.

The blaze was believed to have been caused by the explosion of a can of kerosene, ignited by an egg incubator.

NAPOLEON NECKLACE NETS OWNER $7,270

Townsend's power of attorney to sell the necklace and informed him that her friend, Baroness Annie Eisenmenger, would arrive in New York February 10 to take charge of it. The sale took place February 11.

On January 14, Mr. Steinhardt said Mr. Townsend was advised from Vienna that an offer of $175,000, which he had received for the necklace, was not acceptable. Mr. Townsend was also advised, Mr. Steinhardt said, that the owner was not desirous of spoiling a price by too great haste. He said Mr. Townsend was told confidentially that the owner would accept $375,000, and that smaller offers were absolutely useless.

Archduke Leopold, a nephew of the archduchess, residing in New York, has been asked to appear at the district attorney's office tomorrow to tell whatever he may know about the sale.

The Archduchess Maria Theresa was the grandmother of Karl, the last emperor of Austria-Hungary. She is 76 years old.

Negro's Name Presented As Annapolis Candidate

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—The name of William Chisholm, a Negro, is among the four candidates to be presented by Representative Joseph A. Gavagan for admission to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis. A Negro also is included in the list of four alternates.

Representative Gavagan announced today that the lists had been selected after the candidates who passed a written examination last month took an oral test at his office Saturday.

Washington attorney, who will lecture on the "Evolution of Law," over WRC at 5:45 p. m. today. This is the second of a series of law lectures being sponsored by the vocational guidance committee of the Kiwanis Club. Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes delivered the first, the "Ethics of Law."

Four Film Actors Fined in Tax Case

Eleanor Boardman Assessed $2,000 for Failure to Give Full Return.

Los Angeles, Calif., March 3 (A.P.).—Three motion picture actors and an actress pleaded guilty in Federal court today to criminal indictments charging failure to pay income taxes and were assessed fines totaling $3,500.

Eleanor Boardman, screen star, received the heaviest fine, $2,000. Raymond McKee, Malcolm McGregor and Hallam Cooley were fined $500 each.

The indictments were the outgrowth of investigations by Internal Revenue agents into the returns of a number of persons connected with the motion picture industry. As a result, Miss J. Marjorie Berger, an income tax counselor, was convicted of plotting to defraud the Government and sentenced to 30 months in prison. Edward Hayden, another tax adviser, is awaiting trial on similar charges.

Federal agents said they expected to bring Tom Mix, cowboy film star, and King Vidor, motion picture director and husband of Miss Boardman, into court tomorrow to plead to charges of failing to pay a full tax.

37 New Graft Quiz Indictments Made

Sheriff and Several High Officials Accused in Scranton Expose.

Scranton, Pa., March 3 (A.P.).—The Lackawanna County grand jury, investigating graft and corruption in connection with the operation of slot machines here, returned 37 additional indictments this afternoon, making a total of 142 indictments thus far.

Sheriff Gomer C. Davis and a large number of public officials in boroughs and towns in various parts of the county were among those indicted today on charges of extortion.

James Hobbs, chief of police of Carbondale, and several policemen of the same city were among those against whom true bills were returned. Chief of Police William Kelly, of Archbald, was also indicted. Another indicted was Vincent Brennan, Scranton business man. He was alleged to have acted as "bagman" for a former county official who was said to have collected $350 weekly from Samuel Graubart, who appeared before the jury today.

George Bursavich, high constable of Fell Township, who was removed today as a grand juror, was among those indicted later in the day. Graubart, authorities said, told them he paid Bursavich $100 a month for protection.

Two Drown, Five Saved As Storm Sweeps Bay

San Francisco, March 3 (A.P.).—Two men, members of a pleasure launch party on San Francisco Bay, were drowned and the five other members of the party, including a woman and a 6-year-old boy, were rescued early today near Pacific City, south of here. The men drowned were Louis Broman and Elmer McMullin, both of San Mateo.

The men presumably were drowned some time last night during a storm which swept the bay. The party left Alameda yesterday and the launch ran out of gasoline. Broman and McMullin left it in a small skiff to get more fuel. They were not seen again until their bodies were found. The five rescued were found by police and Coast Guardsmen safe aboard the launch, which was drifting helplessly in the south arm of the bay.

CABLED NAVY SLASH PLEA VEXES ENVOYS

1,200 Petitioners Might Tell Way to Get Cut, View of U. S. Delegates.

By JOHN L. BALDERSTON.

London, March 3 (N.Y.W.N.S.).—Receipt by Secretary of State Stimson today from New York of a 77-page cablegram weighing eighteen ounces and containing about 1,200 signatures urging the American delegation to the London Naval Conference to secure reduction in naval armaments, considerably upset the United States representatives here.

In view of the eminence of some of the signatories of the message surprise was expressed at their subscribing to pious hopes now out of date.

One fact which became known—that the head of the American delegation will reply to this ponderous communication by a letter, not by cable, addressed to a single one of the signatories—perhaps indicated the Secretary of State's feelings, although these were not made public.

Others Not So Reserved.

Other Americans were not so reserved and fervently wondered whether such personages as Nicholas Murray Butler have been reading the newspapers. They expressed the wish that, since the petitioners still want reduction, they had told the delegation how to get it.

If indicative of feeling in the United States this message shows that actualities have not yet sunk home. Our delegation knows now, if it did not when the conference started, that to talk about parity and reduction in the same breath is ridiculous. Parity means largely an increased building program for the United States unless Great Britain reduces her fleet far below announced limits.

Not only is there not one chance in a million of Great Britain's doing this, but the French program makes it appear probable that Great Britain will raise her figures beyond any yet named.

Parity Might Be Shelved.

Our delegation's feelings are that if the enthusiasts at home really want reduction in the American fleet, they should draw conclusions and recommend abandonment of parity with Great Britain.

It is this feeling that prompts some expressions of opinion that President Hoover's Armistice Day speech was based on a misunderstanding of the position in Europe when it spoke of parity and reduction in the same breath. That the two are incompatible is obvious, and there is no American here who does not know it.

Continuation of the conversations between Senator David A. Reed and Ambassador Tsuneo Matsudaira furnished the principal conference news today. The two statesmen met again last night, the American delegation considered the situation this morning. Senators Reed, Robinson and Theodore Marriner, of the State Department, saw first Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander and Robert Leslie Craigie, of the foreign office, this afternoon, and then Reed and Matsudaira conferred again at the Japanese Embassy.

Seaplane Carriers Defined.

Meanwhile, the subcommittee of experts succeeded in defining seaplane carriers to everybody's satisfaction, and this completed their task in regulating the status of special ships outside categories.

The heads of the delegations will meet tomorrow with the French Ambassador and talk categories, which means, in effect, that an attempt will be made to solve the sticky quarrel between the Americans and the British, the latter backed by Japan, as to whether the United States desires that 6-inch gun cruisers shall not be limited in size is to be granted.

Foreign Minister Aristide Briand's probable arrival as the head of the French delegation Thursday, with Premier Andre Tardieu left behind to sit on the political lid in Paris, is indicated by dispatches from the French capital tonight and gives general pleasure here, modified by belief that M. Briand will arrive with a security pact in his pocket to trade against the French warship program. That this pact will be one which either the American or British delegation can consider nobody in authority believes.

Japanese-U. S. Situation Quiet.

The Japanese-American situation can be described as stationary. The account of how Senator Reed proposed tentatively to Matsudaira that the United States might build 15 instead of 18 big cruisers and build up to parity with Great Britain in all classes of cruisers was confirmed officially today from Tokyo, where, however, it was inaccurately assumed that the leak came from an American source.

Matsudaira is believed to have delivered last night Tokyo's reply to Senator Reed's feelers, and to have objected that Japan declines to interest herself in the naval position in 1935 without some definite understanding as to what happens after that.

Senator Reed's bait to Japan was that in 1935, whether the United States sticks to 18 cruisers or comes down to 15 and tonnage parity in all classes with Great Britain, the United States will have only 15 big cruisers, 150,000 tons at most, in the water against 12 Japanese, totaling 108,000 tons. Thus the American suggestion meant that Japan would have in that year more than the desired 70 per cent.

Japan Voices Objections.

Japan, up to the present, isn't having any. She retorts that so far as has yet been made clear the United States proposes that Japan content herself with the twelve 8-inch-gun cruisers she now possesses, while America builds up to 15 and leaves three in the air without conceding the right of Japan to build more if those three are built.

Japan wants all this cleared up at this conference and not postponed. Nor does Japan, it is gathered, express gratitude for her submarine allowance, even as raised by Senator Reed to some 50,000 tons.

She stands out for 78,000 tons and expresses little pleasure at the concessions accorded her in destroyers and light cruisers.

SENATE PAIR URGES ENVOYS NOT TO QUIT

IN ACCORD WITH HOOVER

By ALBERT W. FOX.

Words of encouragement for the American delegates at the London naval conference came from the Senate yesterday when Senators George and Swanson expressed disapproval of the suggestion that President Hoover call the delegation home.

President Hoover and the Senate are in agreement on at least one phase of the work which the Americans are endeavoring to do at London. They agree that the United States should not be the prime mover in any plan to disrupt the conference. No matter how serious the difficulties become, the American delegation will not throw up the sponge in advance of the other delegations.

Senator George read a communication from one of his constituents yesterday expressing the hope that America's representatives at the conference would not be recalled. The senator then made a brief speech in support of the position taken by his constituent.

Statement by Swanson.

When Senator George had concluded, Senator Swanson said:

"Mr. President, I fully concur in the statement just made. I think it would be a great misfortune, and very far reaching, for our delegates to withdraw at this time from the conference. Our delegates went to London with the positive purpose of obtaining parity between the naval strength of the United States and that of any other nation, and also with the purpose of securing some reduction in naval armaments. The two ideas were emphasized.

"We made an offer of parity and reduction. I think it would be a most serious mistake for our conferees not to continue at the conference until there was a successful conclusion or until the attempt to attain those two ends was found to be utterly impossible of accomplishment. The conference has not taken any longer than was anticipated. Every one knew that difficulties would be encountered. Every one knew the trouble in obtaining parity and in obtaining reduction.

"For our delegates to the conference now to leave would be a most serious mistake, and it would not be in accordance with the purposes for which they were sent or the wishes of the American people and, I am satisfied, the desires of the Senate. It will be a difficult task. We have confidence in our conferees and I am satisfied that if they can not obtain parity and a reasonable reduction they will do the best that can be done under the circumstances.

Senate Will Decide Issue.

"When they enter into an agreement it will be for the Senate to determine whether it approves or disapproves. If the treaty entered into is not such that the Senate can approve it, it can either reject it or amend it. But it does seem to me that the last to quit the conference ought to be the delegates from the United States.

"I hope they will continue there and do all they can to achieve the purposes for which they were sent—parity and a reduction of naval armaments. I would look with a great deal of disappointment upon the situation if the delegates at this time should leave or suggest to the President that their mission is hopeless.

"I hope our delegates will continue to do all they can to obtain parity and a reduction of naval armaments."

Selden B. Daniel Rites Due Today

Well-Known Realty Man Will Be Buried in Fredericksburg.

Selden B. Daniel, 75 years old, who died Sunday in Georgetown University Hospital, will be buried this afternoon. Services were held yesterday afternoon at the Church of the Pilgrim. Interment will be in the family burial grounds in Fredericksburg, Va.

Mr. Daniel, who lived at 2308 Ashmead place northwest, had been engaged in real estate business in this city for 30 years, under the name of the Daniel Realty Co. He was a member of a distinguished Virginia family.

In addition to his widow he is survived by four children: Todd Daniel, of Philadelphia; Selden B. Daniel, jr., and Ann Ruth Daniel, of this city, and Mrs. Edward E. Farren, of Chevy Chase, Md.

Eminent British Earl, 77, Dies.

London, March 3 (A.P.).—Sir Algernon Hawkins Thomond Keith-Falconer, tenth Earl of Kintore, died today at the age of 77. He was former aid-de-camp to King Edward and King George and had a distinguished political career, during which he was a strong supporter of the Conservative party.

in order to keep himself in office at least until election day.

A third Haitian leader, Dantes Bellegarde, secretary general of the chamber of commerce and leading economist of the republic, told the commissioners that in his opinion intervention of the United States was not justified by international law despite the humanitarian reasons advanced in its defense. He is president of the Haitian League of Nations Society, an organization recognized by the league.

Charge Impresses Chairman.

He made three charges against the American administration of the republic. He asserted that the financial adviser had seized the people's money to become master of the economic resources, that the Americans had taxed the people but failed to give them representation in the government, and that Haiti had made no progress during the years of occupation. American intervention was approved by both houses of the assembly in November, 1915.

W. Cameron Forbes, of Pittsburgh, chairman of the Hoover commission, said the last charge was so grave that figures must be brought to prove it.

Ernest Chauvet, editor of the strongest anti-Borno newspaper, the Nouvelliste, and spokesman for all the opposition papers, told the commission that for the first time in years the Haitian press today had freedom "because the authorities are afraid to censor the news while the commission is here."

Chauvet served four terms in jail for publishing stories the authorities did not like.

Hannibal Price, former Haitian Minister to Washington and former Secretary of Agriculture who resigned after the student disorders of last fall, testified in private this evening, asking to be excused from a public hearing.

White Cheered for Act.

William Allen White, member of President Hoover's commission, excited the entire populace of this capital with an act of his Sunday night.

While a parade of Haitian women passed before White, who was standing at the gate of the Hotel Excelsior, where the commission is residing, one of the women, an aged Negress dressed in black, stepped in front of him and said: "Please, Commissioner, deliver us."

As she spoke she bowed. White grasped her hand, bowed himself and then kissed her hand. For a moment everyone was quiet. Then there was a roar of wild cheers.

Cries of "long live the commission" and "long live President Hoover" were heard on all sides. Women leaders cried with happiness and said the Emporia man's act was one of the greatest gestures of friendship the Hoover group could have made toward Haiti.

Five Youths on Fishing Trip Are Feared Lost

Tallahassee, Fla., March 3 (A.P.).—Search was begun today for five youths of this city who have been missing since they left Carrabelle yesterday in a launch for a fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico. They are Stetson Cochran, Buck Knight, Wilson Allgood, Hiram Upchurch and Horton Buchan.

Fear for their safety was aroused when they failed to return home last night. Plans were under way to secure an airplane to fly over the Gulf in the vicinity of Carrabelle.

DE LACY, ATTORNEY, DIES AT AGE OF 67

TAUGHT AT CATHOLIC U.

William Henry DeLacy, 67 years old, prominent attorney and for many years judge of the Juvenile Court after its creation and his appointment by President Roosevelt, died while asleep early yesterday morning in his home, 4 West Kirke street, Chevy Chase.

Death came suddenly and was believed to have been due to heart trouble. His failure to awaken at his usual time led members of his family to investigate.

Judge DeLacy was one of the best known residents of this city, where he had made his home continuously since his birth here on February 8, 1863, the son of Richard and Ann O'Brien DeLacy. He was educated at the Christian Brothers College, Georgetown University, and Catholic University, at his death holding the degrees of bachelor of science, master of arts, bachelor of law, master of law and doctor of civil law.

Was Law Teacher and Attorney.

Upon his graduation in law, he opened law offices here and was engaged in the practice, the administration or the teaching of law continuously since that time. At the time of his death he had maintained offices for a lengthly period at 719 Fifteenth street northwest in partnership with a son, William C. DeLacy.

In 1906 he was appointed the first judge of the Juvenile Court created by President Roosevelt as the outgrowth of a Nation-wide childrens' conference held here to center attention on child welfare conditions. He held that position until 1913 and enjoyed a national reputation as one of the leading pioneers in juvenile court activities.

Upon his resignation he resumed the private practice of law and also continued to serve as an associate professor of law at Catholic University, during the last year having been acting dean of the law school after a service there of approximately 25 years.

Help Found Institute.

He was vice president of the International Prison Congress at one time, a founder of the Criminal Law Institute, a trustee of St. Joseph's Home and School and St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum. During the World War he served on the legal advisory board and also served in Liberty Bond campaigns in the District and in Maryland, being a four-minute man the greater part of that time.

He was a prominent member of the Knights of Columbus and the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, a Catholic charitable organization, which he served as president here for 18 years until his resignation from that office last year. He also was a member of the District Bar Association, the American Bar Association, the Washington Board of Trade, the Elks, the Cosmos Club and the Roman Catholic Church.

Besides his widow, Mrs. Katherine Mary Clark DeLacy, he is survived by seven daughters, Emily M., Mary J. Margaret E., Katherine M., Ann K., Elizabeth Claire and Frances M. DeLacy, and two sons, John R. and William C. DeLacy.

Funeral services, to be held probably tomorrow, had not been finally arranged last night.

Funeral of Sigmund Kann to Be Held From Baltimore Home.

Sigmund Kann, president of the S. Kann & Sons Co., of this city, who died Sunday at his home in Baltimore, will be buried this afternoon. Services will be held at 2 o'clock at his late home, 1321 Eutaw place. Dr. William Rosenau, of the Eutaw Place Temple, will officiate. Burial will be in the Baltimore Hebrew Cemetery.

Many of the late merchant's friends in Washington will attend the services. Among the honorary pall bearers will be Myer Cohen, who has been attorney for the department store since its inception 37 years ago; and Dr. Harry M. Kauffman, a friend of the late Mr. Kann.

Out of respect for Mr. Kann, a meeting of the Advertising Club of Washington, scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed. A committee of officers of the club will attend the funeral.

With the announcement of the death of the head of the second department store established in the city, executives ordered the establishment closed. It will reopen tomorrow.

BINGHAM'S AIRPORT PLAN IS APPROVED

Senator Says U. S. Is Willing to Donate Half of Land for Field.

DISTRICT COST IS GIVEN

The Board of Directors of the Washington Board of Trade went on record at a meeting yesterday afternoon as favoring the development of three tracts of land south of Highway Bridge for an airport.

This action followed a conference between Lawrence E. Williams, chairman of the aviation committee of the Board of Trade, and Senator Hiram Bingham, chairman of the Joint Congressional Aviation Commission, in which Senator Bingham revealed that the commission would recommend that half of the property to be developed be donated by the Government. The other half would be paid for by the District through a loan, without interest, from the Federal Government, Senator Bingham revealed.

This announcement from Senator Bingham sheds new light on the proposed development of property south of Highway Bridge, it was pointed out by Mr. Williams at yesterday's meeting.

Five Tracts Included.

The property to be developed consists of Hoover Field, Washington Airport, the Department of Agriculture Experimental Farm, Columbia Island and Military road. Under the new terms proposed by Senator Bingham, the experimental farm, Columbia Island and Military road would be contributed by the Government, while the District would invest $2,500,000 for acquisition and development of Hoover Field and Washington Airport.

Senator Bingham revealed in the conference with Mr. Williams that he had not divulged this phase of the proposition before because he had not been certain of the price required for the two air fields. This price is now understood to be known. Approximately less than half of the $2,500,000 would be consumed in acquiring the land while the balance would be used for improvemnets, it was learned.

The board of directors of the Board of Trade approved the offer as outlined by Senator Bingham following talks by Mr. Williams, Maj. D. A. Davison, assistant to the Engineer Commissioner, and Robert J. Cottrell, executive secretary of the board.

Plan Called Only Solution.

Maj. Davison, in recommending approval of the terms, summed up the proposed development as constituting "the only solution Washington will get in its airport problem at the present time."

The board of directors of the Washington Chamber of Commerce will take definite action at a meeting tonight on the proposed airport development. The Merchants and Manufacturers Association will take action at a meeting next week.

If the property under consideration is developed, Military road would be moved and a bridge now planned to connect Columbia Island with Highway Bridge would be placed at another spot, Mr. Williams explained.

Secondary Port to Be Asked.

A second or auxiliary airport, to supplement the main airport near Highway bridge, is to be recommended to Congress by the Congressional Airport commission, it was revealed yesterday when the commission's report was made public.

The commission directs that the site for this auxiliary field be acquired by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, and suggests that it be situated on high land, so that it may be used whenever weather and atmospheric conditions make the field near the river a dangerous landing place.

The other recommendations of the commission are as follows:

"1. The passage by Congress of legislation similar to the Cramton bill providing for a loan by the United States Government to the District of Columbia for airport development purposes of $2,500,000, without interest, to extend over a period of ten years, and to be paid back in ten annual installments of $250,000 each.

Purchase of Land Urged.

"2. The acquisition, under the most advantageous terms obtainable, by the National Capital Park and Planning Commission, for immediate development, of the properties situated at or near the southern terminus of the Highway Bridge, known as Washington Airport and Hoover Field, as best suited to the immediate airport needs of the Capital.

"3. The passage of legislation providing for a change in the location and routing of that part of the highway known as Military road, lying between Washington Airport and Hoover Field, so as to afford uninterrupted continuity of these lands for airport use.

"4. The passage of legislation permitting the government of the District of Columbia to use such portion of the so-called Agricultural Experimental Farm lands lying east of the railroad tracks and adjacent to Hoover Field as may be required for municipal airport purposes.

"5. That the full control and management of the airport proposed to be thus established be vested in the government of the District of Columbia.

"6. The gradual development of the tract known as Gravelly Point."

Hughes Death Causes House to Recess Early

The death of Representative Hughes, of West Virginia, led to an early adjournment of the House yesterday, and resulted in consideration of the Lehlbach retirement bill being postponed to this afternoon.

When the House meets today Chairman Lehlbach, of the civil service committee, will ask that it be considered under a suspension of the rules. The bill will pass by an overwhelming majority, and then will go to a Senate and House conference.

$300,000 Grant Made By Guggenheim Fund

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—A committee of trustees appointed by Ambassador Harry F. Guggenheim, president of the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics, today announced a grant of $300,000 for the establishment of an aeronautical engineering center in the South had been made to Georgia School of Technology.

The gift brings the total grants by the fund to educational institutions to about 1,500,000. The award is teh final act of the fund, which officially ceased to exist January 31 last, after its officials said it had accomplished the purposes for which it was founded in 1926.

District Representation In Congress Advocated

Members of the Washington Highlands Citizens Association held their regular monthly meeting in the Congress Heights School last night, the principal speaker of the evening being Jesse C. Suter, who took as his subject "National Representation of the District of Columbia."

Mr. Suter imparted the information that over 50 National and State organizations and societies had endorsed the District's drive for the vote. He emphasized that should the District be given the right of representation in Congress the selection of such representation would not develop into a racial question.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c. 30c. 60c.

"THE SHADOW which pursues us all"
[John Greenleaf Whittier, 1807-1892]

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper form, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the lithe, youthful, modern figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette a man ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection—against irritation—against cough.

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

FORMER OFFICIALS GIVEN PRISON TERMS

Mayor, Police Chief and Two Detectives Sentenced in Rum Conspiracy.

ALL FILE APPEAL NOTICE

Hammond, Ind., March 3 (A.P.).—Former Mayor Raleigh P. Hale, of East Chicago, today was sentenced by Judge Thomas W. Slick, in United States District Court, to serve two years in Federal prison and to pay a fine of $2,000 for his part in the alleged East Chicago liquor conspiracy.

The same sentence was imposed upon former Police Chief James Ragan after Judge Slick had denied their motions for new trials. Notice of intention to appeal was filed and defense counsel were granted 90 days to perfect their pleadings.

Martin Zarkovitch, former chief of detectives at East Chicago, and Patsy Ramey, former detective, were sentenced to two years in prison and to pay fines of $500 each. The latter two also announced intention of appeal and were granted 90 days for the purpose.

Over 300 Persons Indicted.

The investigation, directed by special agents and operatives of the Department of Justice, lasted several weeks and resulted in the indictment of more than 300 persons, grouped in three major blanket conspiracy indictments.

Other defendants in the case were sentenced as follows:

Brice Chandler, Negro and alleged vice overlord, two years in prison and $2,000 fine on the conspiracy conviction and another two years for conviction of a Jones law violation, the terms to run consecutively.

Eldridge White and Sanford Overall, Negroes, four months in jail, and $100 fines each.

Enrique Orta and Bertha Popp, six months in jail and $1,000 fine each.

Tom Thomas and Joseph de Angelo, six months in jail and $500 fine each.

Two Get Extra Sentences.

Popp and Yaleski also were sentenced to one year and a day for liquor law violations.

Chandler told the court that former vice situation was a "shakedown," in which Phil Collenger, reputed Chicago gangster, collected tribute. After hearing Chandler, Judge Slick refused a request of Collenger's attorney for immediate sentencing saying he wanted to investigate the matter.

Collenger's bond of $25,000, the highest of the defendants, was maintained.

PRESIDENT FINISHES FIRST YEAR IN OFFICE

considered by his friends to be characteristic. The members of the "medicine ball cabinet" have found him as energetic there.

The medicine ball game, one the President and his friends have invented, is played with a four-pound ball, somewhat on the order of volley ball. The popularity of this form of exercise with the President probably dates from his return trip from South America, when, as President-elect after a strenuous campaign, he exercised frequently with a medicine ball aboard the battleship.

With the returning spring, the President is looking forward pleasurably to resumption of his week-end trips to the summer camp in the Blue Ridge Mountains. There it was his custom last year to fish, take long hikes and to ride horseback occasionally.

These trips were discontinued last fall. The roads to his camp in the mountains became almost inaccessible in the wintry weather, and, under the Virginia laws, his favorite sport, fishing, is forbidden. The Virginia Legislature offered to pass a measure which would permit him to fish out of season, but Mr. Hoover declined the proffered courtesy.

One of his few trips out of Washington since he was inducted into office was that to Florida a week or so ago for deep-sea fishing. He spent several days aboard a boat renewing an acquaintance with the deep-sea denizens that he had begun shortly after his return from South America before his inauguration.

500 to Take Part In Jewish Parley

Efforts Are to Be Pooled to Raise $6,000,000 for Work Overseas.

More than 500 men and women from all over the country have signified their intention to participate in the national conference of the Allied Jewish campaign, which will begin next Saturday night at the Washington Hotel, according to an announcement made yesterday by Felix M. Warburg, philanthropist and banker, who is one of its honorary chairmen.

The significance of the conference, according to Mr. Warburg, is in the fact that for the first time Jews who have worked separately for "overseas" causes will pool their efforts. The campaign, which is to raise $6,000,000 for the rehabilitation of hundreds of thousands of Jews in eastern Europe and in Palestine, will be jointly conducted by Orthodox, Reform and radically minded Jews, Zionists and non-Zionists.

The chairmen of the campaign are Paul Baerwald, David M. Bressler, Judge William M. Lewis and Morris Rothenburg. In addition to Mr. Warburg, who is also chairman of the administrative committee of the Jewish Agency, the honorary chairmen are Nathan Straus, the famous philanthropist, and Lieut. Gov. Lehman of New York State.

Expedition to Visit Alaska in Summer

Scientists to Study Changes in Famous Valley of 10,000 Smokes.

To trace the steps by which mother earth heals the great wounds caused by volcanic eruptions, the National Geographic Society will send an expedition to Alaska during the coming summer, it was announced yesterday.

The party, which will be led by Dr. Robert F. Griggs, will work in the territory around Katmai Volcano and the famous Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes, which Dr. Griggs discovered while leading the society's expedition in 1916. The various changes that have taken place in the valley, then a seething inferno, in the last eleven years will be noted.

Two sets of problems will face the expedition. The first has to do with the geology, physics and chemistry of the region, and the second with the way in which growing plants find their way back into a region from which all vegetation has been wiped out by the heat, ashes and pumice of volcanic eruptions.

Marco Polo Route To Be Blazed Again

French Explorer Planning Eight-Auto Caravan Across Asia.

(Associated Press.)

Georges-Marie Haardt, who led an expedition of eight automobiles through 15,000 miles of African deserts and jungles, has made known here that he plans a similar expedition across Asia, following, to some extent, the route of Marco Polo.

A bulletin issued yesterday by the National Geographic Society announced the proposed trip.

Two of the ten automobiles to be used, it said, will be equipped for recording "talkies," while another will contain a powerful short-wave radio station, which will broadcast daily news of the expedition to France.

The bulletin said Haardt hopes to provide a modern version of the famous Marco polo caravans, which brought to Europe its first news of Cathay's coal, paper money and all the pomp and power of Kublia Khan.

FORMER ASSISTANT IN CABINET INDICTED

Bribery Trial of A. N. Sager and Two Others in Utah Case Set for Today.

JUROR PAID $300, CLAIM

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—Indicted today by a Federal grand jury with two other defense attorneys in connection with the alleged bribery of a junior in the Utah Lead trial, Arthur N. Sager, former assistant to the United States Attorney General and former circuit attorney in St. Louis, requested an immediate trial.

Judge Warren W. Burrows, of Connecticut, who is sitting in this district and to whom the indictment was returned, set Sager's case down for trial tomorrow. The true bill, which resulted from an investigation into the mistrial in the Utah Lead case, contained eight counts charging bribery, conspiracy and obstructing justice.

Those indicted with Sager are Joseph Shalleck and Edward Reynolds. The three attorneys who represented Charles Beadon and seven other defendants accused of mail fraud in connection with stock sales of the Utah Lead Co. of Delaware, were charged with having bribed John Cruz, one of the jurors, to hold out for acquittal. The case lasted seven weeks and resulted in a mistrial.

United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle announced that Cruz had confessed to accepting more than $300 to "hang" the jury.

"The indictment filed today," Mr. Tuttle said, "while containing eight counts, charges in substance two offenses, namely, seducing the juror and, during the trial, defrauding the United States in the administration of justice of the impartial services of the court bailiffs by putting them on the defendants' pay roll.

"These charges, particularly when made against lawyers, are so serious in their consequences that in common fairness I ask the public to suspend judgment until the facts are developed at the trial."

$3,000,000 Docks Fire Fatal to Two

12 Injured as Blaze Sweeps Pier and Steamship at New Orleans.

New Orleans, March 3 (A.P.).—Two persons dead, twelve injured and property damage estimated at $3,000,000 was the toll of a fire that swept the Charbonnet Docks below New Orleans and the steamship Scantic, of the United States Shipping Board, last night.

Roland Kreher, 3-year-old son of Mrs. Charles Kreher, of New Orleans, who was guest of the ship's personnel at a dinner when the fire broke out, died today. The mother was among those seriously hurt.

Joseph Ryan, 36 messman of the steamship, was the other victim. His charred body was found on the deck of the Scantic after she was torn from her moorings by fire fighting tugs and towed into midstream.

FORCIBLE CROP REDUCTION.

There no longer need be doubt that the Government is determined to administer the farm relief act so as to help the farmer, no matter what the cost may be to the consumer. When the Farm Board went into the wheat markets with public funds to speculate in futures it was carrying out a program of this nature. But, as is generally recognized, the heart of farm relief lies not in Government speculation in futures but in the control of surpluses. In Texas, it seems that the Government has tackled this problem in a way that may help the producers of cotton, but which, if carried through, is bound to cost the consumer a pretty penny.

Col. C. C. Walsh, agent for the Federal Reserve Bank in the Dallas district, has advised bankers to be cautious in making loans to cotton farmers who decline to go along with the Farm Board program to curtail acreage. Most of the banks are dependent, directly or indirectly, upon the Federal Reserve Bank for credit accommodation and the farmers, in turn, are dependent upon the local banks for credit with which to prepare their crop and carry it through to maturity. The Federal Reserve warning, therefore, is more than a veiled threat. It means that cotton acreage around Dallas must be reduced, and that cotton farmers in the Dallas area who are so foolish as to attempt to produce to the limit of their ability are to be brought face to face with the insurmountable wall of financial stringency.

This scheme, so far as its practical effect is concerned, is somewhat superior to the plan recently adopted by the Mississippi Senate. That body approved a measure under which no person or corporation would be permitted to "plant upon the same land in any one year any crop of cotton the acreage of which exceeds 60 per cent of the acreage planted in all crops upon said land." This scheme similarly seeks to limit production by force rather than agreement, and would destroy initiative as well as interfere with individual rights. If it were to become law, and if it could be enforced, it should serve to limit cotton production in Mississippi, but it would not keep planters in neighboring States from expanding their acreage in order to obtain as much benefit as possible from the increased prices that the limiting law seeks to bring about. That there would be many who would attempt to take such advantage of this situation need not be doubted. Wherever arbitrary limitation of this sort has been imposed, the scheme invariably has failed because of the shrewdness of the producers in neighboring areas.

The Federal Reserve scheme, however, could be applied throughout the country. If crop acreage could be reduced by withholding credit in Dallas, it could be reduced by withholding credit in each of the Federal Reserve districts. The fact that the farm relief act as adopted does not sanction the withholding of farm credit so as to influence acreage curtailment is not important. The Government has an effective club with which farmers can be forced to adopt a program that will raise the price level of agricultural commodities. What if the consumer, in whose ranks are included practically all industries, will have to pay more for cotton as a result? He doesn't matter; it is the farmer who has to be relieved.

STALIN'S LYING STATEMENT.

Dictator Stalin's widespread announcement that the Soviet will no longer use force in carrying out its collectivization program is not to be taken seriously. The statement is obviously intended to deceive the Russian people who are rebelling against the communistic plan.

In spite of the fact that the Russian revolution is more than twelve years old, the communistic ideals of the bolshevists have not been imposed on any great number of people until recently. Attempts were made to "educate" the people to communism, without success. It was found necessary to force them to give up their private property and become members of collective farms and industrial groups. Many of the poverty-stricken peasants made no resistance, because they had nothing to lose. But the kulaks, or richer peasants, offered such resistance that Stalin decreed their extermination. Their land was confiscated. They retaliated by slaughtering their cattle to keep them from falling into the hands of the Soviet. Now the kulaks have been forced into exile, imprisoned, and in many instances executed. This policy has caused thousands to migrate to adjacent countries, but reports from Poland indicate that the would-be immigrants are now being slaughtered with machine guns as they cross the border.

Stalin, the dictator, writes under the title of "Dizziness From Successes," but his article reveals the utter failure of the Soviet to incorporate a large portion of the Russian people within Communist organizations. They have met with defiance of their program to destroy personal initiative and freedom of action. The protest from outside of Russia counts for little, but the bolshevist dictator can not persist in ignoring the antagonism his policy has stirred up among the Russians themselves. Only meager accounts of what is going on in Russia reach this country. The rebellion against communism may be far more serious than it has been represented.

There is nothing to indicate that the bolshevists have given up their objective to communize Russia. The statement shows an inclination to soft-pedal the drive against the independent peasants until the opposition has subsided. Stalin intends to tighten the thumbscrews as much as possible without provoking disastrous reaction. He sends out a conciliatory statement through the press, prating of education and persuasion. But the remorseless robbery and murder of the kulaks goes on.

PUTTING WASHINGTON IN DEBT.

When the Cramton Park purchase bill was under consideration it was pointed out that the method of financing contemplated therein would set a dangerous precedent. This prophecy has materialized all too quickly. The compromise airport bill evolved by a joint congressional committee involves a similar system of financing. It is proposed that the Government shall lend the District the sum that will be needed for the development, namely, $2,500,000, which the District will repay out of its general revenues over a period of years. Local taxpayers would thus be saddled with a national obligation.

Because Washington is the National Capital it is to be developed on an elaborate scale. This is quite proper. The Federal city should have a comprehensive park system and, in time, there will be needed an extensive airport. Washington, the municipality, however, can not afford to create out of its general revenues the elaborate park system or the kind of airport that will be required. The city can do no more along these or other lines than any city of comparable size without burdening its citizens unfairly. It is up to Congress to assume the expense of developing Washington over and beyond the normal requirements of a city of 600,000.

The Cramton park bill and the airport scheme are unjust. The park bill seeks to fasten upon local taxpayers the burden of creating parks that the city as a city does not need and can not afford. The airport measure seeks to make local taxpayers buy and develop an airport located outside of the District. Both measures would throw Washington, a city that long has prided itself that it "pays as it goes," in debt. Together, they would create debts totaling $18,500,000, to pay for enterprises that are partly national in character and which should be financed in part by the Federal Government.

SIGMUND KANN.

The untimely death of Sigmund Kann, cofounder of the house of S. Kann & Sons, is felt keenly in both business and private circles in Washington. Mr. Kann had been closely identified with the development of business in this city. His influence is manifest in the high commercial standards that have come to be observed. As a pioneer in the promotion of a great modern merchantile institution his life work has made a deep impress on the commercial history of the Capital.

It is not only as a merchant, however, that Mr. Kann was known. While he craved no public honors, he never failed to respond generously to charities and to public duty. He endeared himself to all who knew him by his kindly nature and sympathetic understanding. His influence was potent in public organizations concerned with the upbuilding of the National Capital. Mr. Kann was proud of Washington and eager to promote its well-being. The city gratefully acknowledges his services and mourns his death.

MRS. OWEN'S VICTORY.

The unanimous decision of the House committee on elections that Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, of Florida, is entitled to a seat in that body may be considered a victory for women who are seeking to remove legal discriminations against their sex. William C. Lawson, opponent of Mrs. Owen in the election of 1928, sought to have her unseated on the ground that she had been a citizen of the United States but three years. The committee decided that her right to a seat was not impaired because she had married a foreigner.

At the time of Mrs. Owen's marriage the law provided that American women marrying foreigners should forfeit their citizenship. The Cable act of 1922 allows American women thus discriminated against to regain their citizenship by naturalization. Mrs. Owen was repatriated in 1925 and elected to the House in 1928. The Constitution requires that a member of the House shall have been a citizen for seven years.

The decision of the House committee is, in effect, that Mrs. Owen regained through the Cable act not merely her citizenship, but her previous status. To all intent and purposes she has never been a foreigner. This is a sensible construction of the law. The effect of that untenable arrangement under which an American woman became an Englishwoman through a marriage contract, should not be perpetuated, now that the measure has been supplanted. Another wrinkle in the question of women's nationality seems to have been ironed out, but plenty remain to furnish amusement for any one who has a propensity for riddles.

A COALITION DOLE PLAN.

For six months the Democratic-insurgent coalition in the Senate has been engaged in a drive against the American workingman. At first the raiders were content to deny protection to industries that are hard pressed by foreign competition, but recently they have been slashing existing duties without giving the interests affected a chance to protest. They are trying to whittle away the foundation of American prosperity.

The most brazen confession of this outrage against the workingman now comes from Senator Brookhart, in the form of a resolution which would appropriate $50,000,000 for the relief of unemployment. Having sponsored legislation that would throw millions of men out of work, this member of the coalition now proposes a dole system whereby the Government would feed their families. Jobs and high wages would be replaced by idleness and a pittance from the Government. Shameless as this program is, it must be admitted that the dole proposed by the senator from Iowa is a logical sequel to the coalition's tariff program.

Mr. Brookhart seems to sense the inadequacy of the proposed dole as a substitute for steady work at good wages. "Fifty million dollars will not go far," he says, "but it will be a start." Does he vision an item of a few hundred millions in future budgets, to care for the men and women whose economic standing would be sacrificed by the coalition in its assault upon industry?

The coalition may well be concerned over unemployment. Failure of the country to recover quickly from the depression caused by the stock market collapse may be laid squarely at the door of this threat from the renegade Republican and Democratic group. Coalitionists are complaining that the industrialists who met with President Hoover and pledged themselves to proceed with "business as usual" have laid off large numbers of men. The truth is that every one cooperated with the President in his effort to restore prosperity, except the coalition itself. Republican leaders in the Senate have been helpless before the onslaught led by party traitors. A large share of the confidence so carefully built up by the President has been torn down by the continued raids of the coalition upon the American protective policy. If agricultural prices are depressed still lower because of a reduction of the amount of food consumed due to unemployment in industrial centers, the farmers will have their counterfeit champions in the Senate to thank for it.

"A dole for the industrial worker and an export debenture for the farmer," would be an excellent slogan for the coalition. It is surprising that none of its illustrious members have thought of it before. Those who have feared that the coalition would offer no substitute for well-paid jobs and good markets have grossly misjudged the combination. Its members do not intend to kill prosperity without making arrangements for a decent funeral.

Out in Detroit they're threatening to invoke the law to stop a dance marathon, but up in Nutley, N. J., a radio-listening marathon has been going well over 100 hours and no one threatens to invoke the law. Maybe the radio listeners are being punished as they go.

EMPIRE FREE TRADE

From the New York Herald Tribune.

Undeterred by the ignominious collapse in Parliament of his "new policy for prosperity," Lord Beaverbrook has launched a fourth political party to advance the great cause of "empire free trade." No doubt it will be received with that chill disdain with which the eminent have met most of Lord Beaverbrook's efforts to save the state. The policy, in brief, is to establish the British Empire as a tariff union; and on the surface it would seem to be impossible. Australia has just jacked up her tariff, and a distinguished Australian spokesman has told an English audience that "without the tariff we could not hold our population." No less an authority than Sir Herbert Samuel has summed it up on an acid note: Empire free trade, he says, advances two proposals: "Within the empire it would promote free trade; externally it would establish protection. The first proposal is desirable, but is not practicable; and the second is neither the one nor the other."

This note seems the complete answer. Lord Beaverbrook claims to have 100,000 "empire crusaders" already enrolled; and if that astute publicist thinks that he can see an issue in it, one can believe that there must be another side. Yet statistics indicate that Great Britain gets two-thirds of her imported food and raw materials from outside the empire and only one-third from the dominions and colonies; while the major dominions, on the other hand, get two-thirds of their total imports from outside countries and only one-third from the United Kingdom, and all of them are striving to reduce their manufactured imports from any source. Tariff barriers which would raise the price on two-thirds of the United Kingdom's food and raw materials would be no less impossible than tariff preferences which would expose dominion industry to destruction by British exports.

Lord Beaverbrook, however, argues that the statistics are in part misleading. When one counts Canadian wheat exported through American ports, "the truth is that already 70 per cent of our wheat imports are empire-grown." As is true of the United States, establishing the empire as an "economic unit" would not require the cessation of all outside trade. And, finally, once an assured market, protected from "dumping" or the accidental fluctuations of free world trade, were offered to dominion food and raw material producers, Lord Beaverbrook believes that the dominions could develop their production so that Great Britain would be fully supplied from them without any very great rise in price.

So stated, the position becomes, if not more practicable, at least more reasonable. To basic producers in the dominions the "empire crusade" holds out something not so very different from what our Farm Board is trying to give our farmers. To the dominions the bait is not so much high prices as stabilized prices, so that, for example, meat producers in Australia can make their investment and start their business without fear of extinction because of a sudden surplus in the Argentine. On the other hand, Lord Beaverbrook is unable to offer the British wage earner the bait of unrestricted markets in the dominions for English manufactures; the greatest care is taken in the propaganda to insist that the dominions would maintain their protection for "key" industries, admitting only specialized manufactures.

It is all rather vague and all obviously very much in the future. The dominions have given the crusaders no encouragement. Yet one may predict that the idea will not die. In May the empire chambers of commerce are to meet in preparation for the coming imperial conference, and "empire free trade" will have a prominent place in the discussions.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

SUGGESTION FOR MEN.

She ordered her lunch, and then as she sat
At the table she took off her little blue hat;
Held up a mirror as wide as a book
And sideways and frontways proceeded to look.
She picked up a comb and she tossed back her hair,
She pulled it out here and she tucked it in there.
As I watched her I said to myself: "There's a hunch!
That's something to do while you're waiting for lunch!"

From a tube she squeezed stuff on her pink finger tips
And calmly proceeded to varnish her lips.
She penciled her eyebrows an ebony black
And I wondered what else she could have in that sack.
She tinted her cheeks till they beggared the rose,
And the maid brought her food as she powdered her nose.
"Now there is a first-class idea," thought I.
"If the girls can do that, why should men be so shy?"

A neat little package, with soap in a can,
A razor, a brush and a looking-glass small,
So neat that his pockets could carry it all?
This is one of the sayings the classics produce,
"The sauce for the gander is sauce for the goose."
After ordering lunch, precious time could be saved
If, while waiting, he got out his razor and shaved.

For a man to be openly kind to his face.
With a neat pocket outfit, like this I suggest,
Man could always contrive to appear at his best.
At noon time, on street cars, with moments to spare;
At the dentist's, while waiting his turn in the chair,
Or while dummy at bridge, unconcernedly grave,
He could take off his necktie and collar and shave!

A Hard Bed Is a Blessing If It Makes a Lazy Man Get Up.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

WHEN a son was born to a preacher, 50 years ago, the neighbors solemnly shook their heads and pondered over the mysterious law of contrasts that doomed the little fellow to be ornery in boyhood and tough in early manhood.

Preachers' sons, by common report and belief, were no good.

It is possible that the neighbors were disappointed because they expected too much—possible, also, that the boys pretended to be more wicked than they were in order to overcome the suspicion of the "fellers."

In any case it is now definitely established that preachers' sons climb higher than the sons of other men, lay or professional.

In "Who's Who" the sons of preachers lead the field by a wide margin.

And this superiority of the sons of clergymen is so well established and so obvious that a national organization devoted to the upbuilding of the race seriously suggests a bonus or pension to encourage and support preachers in the accumulation of larger families.

Students of eugenics are mistaken, however, in their assumption that the preacher's son is superior solely because of his inheritance.

And moralists are mistaken in their belief that early training makes the preacher's son superior.

Teachers, artists, lawyers, physicians and merchants—their number far greater than the total number of clergymen—are equal to the preacher in natural ability, in physical vigor, in culture and in ancestry, and they bequeath to their sons every natural advantage the preacher can bequeath to his.

In the matter of early training the preacher's son doubtless has advantages above the average, but among the hosts of laymen there are fathers, equal to clergymen in number, who give their sons training in religion, morality, ethics and gentility equal in merit to that received by the sons of preachers.

Where, then, is the advantage of the preacher's son?

What has he the others lack?

He has poverty.

He climbs high because he inherits a good mind and body, develops in an atmosphere of refinement and decency, absorbs a respect for ethics, receives a good education, and, finally, learns to hate poverty.

It is the ambition to "be somebody" that makes men successful.

The seed of that ambition is discontent, and thus poverty becomes the added advantage that enables the preacher's son to outdistance men of equal merit.

RUDY VALLEE AND THE PRESIDENT

("Rudy Vallee, after appearing for Women's Congressional Club, was received by President Hoover at the White House."—News Item).

Mr. Hoover: Good morning. What is the name again, please?

Rudy: Vallee. Rudy Vallee.

Mr. Hoover: I remember hearing the name. You're a professional golfer.

Rudy: No, I play and sing.

Mr. Hoover: Oh, now I know. You sing over the radio. I've heard of you.

Rudy: And I've heard of you, too, sir.

• • • •

Mr. Hoover: What are you doing in Washington, Mr. Glenn?

Rudy: Vallee is the name. I came here to play and sing for some congressmen's wives.

Mr. Hoover: You have a voice that sways people, they say.

Rudy: So I am told.

Mr. Hoover (sadly): I wish you'd sing to some of the congressmen. Nothing that I've been able to do has seemed to sway 'em.

• • • •

Mr. Hoover: What's your regular business, Mr. Gully?

Rudy: Vallee, not Gully. Singing is my regular business.

Mr. Hoover (incredulously): You mean you have no real business? You just go about singing. How curious! Do you find it interesting?

Rudy: Very. Don't you ever sing?

Mr. Hoover: Hardly ever. I've often thought I'd like to.

Rudy: And I've often thought I'd like to be President. Nothing to do but fish and issue warnings. It must be great fun.

Mr. Hoover: I used to think so, but I was wrong. You lead a band, too, don't you, Mr. Chasm?

Rudy: Yes. And the name is Vallee, if you don't mind.

Mr. Hoover: I don't mind if you don't. I used to know a Mississippi Valley once. Any relation?

Rudy: No.

• • • •

Mr. Hoover (pensively): What fun it must be to lead a band!

Rudy: Would you like to try it?

Mr. Hoover: I haven't had much luck as a leader lately.

Rudy: Maybe you have the ability but just need that certain something to put you over big.

Mr. Hoover: That what?

Mr. Hoover (very interested): Break in the voice?

Rudy: Yes, it moves millions.

Mr. Hoover: I used to have a break in my voice, but it's gone.

Rudy: Nonsense. I didn't have it at first.

Mr. Hoover: How did you get it?

Rudy: I'll show you.

Mr. Hoover (full of hope): So I can sway people everywhere—even in Congress?

Rudy: Absolutely.

Mr. Hoover (enthusiastically to his secretary): Close all the doors and cancel all other appointments for this week. I'm going to be very busy going over a most important matter with Mr. Canyon—beg pardon—with Mr. Vallee.

PREMATURE SPRING SONG.

The birds are singing in the trees,
Lambs gambol in the park;
The squirrels and the bumble bees
Are having quite a lark.

The people swelter in the street,

Proclaims the weather man.

A strange light gleams in lovers' eyes
And from these signs I know
We'll soon have sleet and lots of ice

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Law Can Not Make People Temperate—Only Character Can Do That.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The difficulty of the prohibition question is apparent when we consider the vagueness of proposals for its solution. When the Volstead law was enacted its modification opponents were unanimous on the assertion that the saloon must never be permitted to return. As a matter of fact the saloon was not a cause, but an effect. The statesman lawmaker knows this. He knows that for the moral advancement of the country we must consider the material with which we build.

The American people, if we are to have real temperance, must be educated to the point where we will drink as well as eat with discretion.

Conditions today are bad, although no worse than in the days of the ill-regulated licensed saloon, but wet or dry, it is already demonstrated that the country can not be made temperate by statute. That must be done by education—by character building, by the continued development of the self control which was evident in the American people before the eighteenth amendment was ratified.

FEDERALIST.

Eight-Hour Law for Women Workers Not Enforced in the District.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I think this is a very opportune time to call to the attention of the Bureau of Efficiency of the District government the lax enforcement of the eight-hour law for women.

I personally know a clerk who was employed for over six months in a business establishment and her card was not inspected during that time. The laundry companies in their branch offices are among the chief violators of this law.

If insufficient personnel is responsible for the lack of enforcement of this law, I think Congress should be asked for additional inspectors in this department, as well as in the building inspector's office.

The fact that an employe's time conforms with the law is no proof that she is not working longer than the law allows. She understands that she has to fill the card out to suit her employer or lose her position.

If some of the business houses were inspected late in the evening around the last of the month it would be found that bookkeepers and clerks were working twelve hours instead of eight.

Why take up time making laws that are not enforced and simply become a farce?

A Voice of Protest Against Tearing Down Metropolitan M. E. Church.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Call it "progress" if you will, but to us it seems like desecration to remove all the time-honored structures in this city because a certain plan for building has been evolved. We all love beautiful and symmetrical arrangement, but when a place like Metropolitan M. E. Church stands in the way of such plans, could it not be included? It would be all the more remarkable, like old Trinity Church in New York City. Can you imagine tearing down old Trinity to make way for a municipal building?

America can never have anything of historical value while we encourage the custom of tearing down or otherwise getting rid of a thing regardless of its associations. Small wonder that the English look superciliously on our love of display and our lack of sentiment.

AN OBSERVER.

Newcomer Complains of the Smoke Nuisance.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: We are disappointed in Washington. We came from the West to spend the winter, and do not find the city air very conducive to health. We took an apartment overlooking Rock Creek Park, thinking the air would be clear and good to breathe. We have found it otherwise. I can see black smoke pouring out of a dozen chimneys from large apartments. Can nothing be done? If Pittsburgh, which was the dirtiest city in the United States, can be clean, why not our beautiful Capital?

A STRANGER.

Employes of Long Service Should Have Better Retirement Annuities.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: While the Lehlbach bill corrects the injustice to high-salaried employes, who have contributed more to the retirement fund than low-salaried employes, should not another correction be made to allow more pension to employes who have served more than 30 years, which seems to be the limit of service allowed by all the retirement bills?

How about an employe who has served nearly 50 years? Should not he get more pension than one who served only 30 years?

G. H. M'CARTHY.

As She Is and Should Be Spoke, According to Miss Hill.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: In a community such as Washington, where culture runs rampant and trained intelligence fairly infests the largest buildings, it pains one to read "from whence they came" as the local conception of a proper phrase for a commercial play presenting women's dress styles. "From" is superfluous, an evidence of business English, than which there ain't nothin' "more funnier," unless it be "Yours Received and contents noted, and in response beg to state that per said invoice."

EVELYN JANET HILL.

Dr. Church Has a Convert to His Proposed Liberal Party.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: Permit me to express, through your columns, my high admiration of Dr. Samuel H. Church, of Pittsburgh, for courageous denunciation of the present day evils attendant upon prohibition. On with the formation of the Liberal Party for the preservation of our rights and heritages!

BERENGUER DENIES ROLE OF DICTATOR

Premier Tells Liberal Leader He Hopes for Freedom of Political Speech.

NATION REPORTED QUIET

Madrid, March 3 (A.P.).—In an interview with a prominent Liberti politician, Premier Damaso Berenguer today denied his government had brought back to Spain the dictatorship that fell with Primo de Rivera.

The premier told Senor Melquiades Alvarez, leader of the constitutional reformist branch of the Liberals, that he hoped the country would be ready within four weeks for the resumption of freedom of political speech.

In no case, he said, did the government wish to recreate the dictatorship and he reiterated the government's desire to reestablish constitutional government, parliamentary institutions and the constitution of 1876.

Liberal Postpones Speech.

Melquiades Alvarez had been forced to postpone a scheduled speech because of the government's changed attitude since the outbreak of anti-monarchy demonstrations after the Sanchez Guerra speech last week. He came today to make inquiries of Premier Berenguer.

The government's preparations to suppress disturbances apparently had the desired effect today, for Spain was quiet. Gen. Enrique Marzo Who, as minister of the interior, is responsible for domestic welfare, asserted that the whole country was in a state of tranquility.

Strike Is Not Attempted.

The general strike threatened at Valencia in sympathy with Sagunto metal workers, was not attempted after the authorities had taken precautions to handle any situation that might develop.

Madrid students appeared composed after receiving assurance from Gen. Marzo that students were not being singled out for police action. He told them, however, that any riotous groups parading the streets with subversive cries would be arrested regardless of who they were.

Schools and universities will not be reopened until Thursday because of the government's campaign against disorders.

RIVERA'S SON HURT IN DUEL IN SPAIN

about 8 a. m. In the first round Miguel was wounded in the wrist by Rexach, but insisted that he could continue fighting. In the second, Miguel twice wounded Rexach in the wrists and the seconds said that he could not go on.

Two parties then went separately to a hurried breakfast of coffee and rolls and departed in different directions. Miguel stopped long enough to send a telegram to his father in Paris, assuring him of his safety.

Every effort was made by the duelists to keep their meeting secret, and it was only discovered today when the authorities found the telegram sent by Miguel to the former dictator.

Young Primo de Rivera recently was sent out of Spain to prevent his fighting duels. He had challenged several officers whom he accused of having insulted his father, slapping a general publicly in one of Madrid's most fashionable cafes. He was escorted to the French frontier at that time by a police guard.

Army Musician to Wed Girl in New York City

Oscar Urban, 29 years old, a musician of the Army Band, stationed at the War College, and Miss Helen Dusek, 18 years old, of 1483 York avenue, New York City, obtained a license there yesterday for a wedding they said would be solemnized at the John Huss Church, in New York.

Mr. Urban was born in Petersburg, Va., the son of Joseph and Helen Tesek Urban, while Miss Dusek is a native of New York, the daughter of Otto and Caroline Mysticka Dusek.

The Listening Post

—By CARLISLE BARGERON—

ONE naturally wonders just why our town printer, Mr. Carter, should declare a one-man war on our Police Department at a time when it is just settling down to normalcy. This is without regard, of course, to the merits of Mr. Carter's charges, of which we have no knowledge and still less concern.

But as biological, physiological or psychological study Mr. Carter's efforts do afford a most interesting study.

Ordinarily, printers are not of the crusading type, and quite frankly, we know but few of them who would make any claim to being angels. Yet, surrounded by printers, with printers to the right of him and printers to the left of him, in the midst of a flock of printers, in fact, in an indisputably printing atmosphere, Mr. Carter is a crusader.

* * * *

THIS is not his first crusading effort. One recalls, somewhat vaguely because of the intervening years, of his clash with his employe printers once before and the same issue was at stake then as there is now—booze and the ponies.

Mr. Carter was crusading then and if our recollection is not faulty he won out. All the printers took the pledge and quit playing the ponies or maybe it was just a moral victory that Mr. Carter won. The point is that he came out on top of the controversy as we recall and there were times when the printers' journal was calling for Mr. Carter's scalp.

* * * *

NOW why is this? Why is Mr. Carter such an irrepressible, such an incorrigible crusader, in fact? Why is it that he just must come out and challenge our constabulary at this time when the more timid of us crusaders would say let a sleeping dog lie.

A visit to Mr. Carter's office, we believe, would give the answer.

It is not nearly as difficult to see the President of the United States as it is to see Mr. Carter. One goes to the White House and tells the nature of his call to Mr. Akerson and if it is of sufficient importance he is ushered promptly into the President.

But is Mr. Carter seen this easily? He is not.

* * * *

IN the first place upon entering the building wherein is Mr. Carter's office, one has the sneaking sensation he is entering a bastille. And this nervousness, of course, does not help him when he is accosted by Policeman No. 1. If he is fortunate he gets to see Policeman No. 2, and if one of iron nerve he may advance to the third of the Printing Office Guard.

He has not begun to run the gantlet of the secretaries and secretarial buffers yet.

And once in Mr. Carter's office he finds a man utterly alone, a single figure in a great big, forbidding room, a darkened room, a room inaccessible to the sunlight.

It is as if the man were shut up, as if he always had been. And this is believed to be the reason for his crusading spirit. It is a suppressed desire to get out and stretch himself, to get to the sun, in short, to just kick up and raise Cain. If his office were a tent in the middle of the Ellipse, where the warm and cold winds might alternately beat around him, it is not believed he would be as he is.

Duce Felicitates Church in Speech

Extends Olive Branch to Vatican in Praising Pioneer Fascist.

Rome, March 3 (A.P.).—What was interpreted as an olive branch tendered the Vatican featured Premier Mussolini's speech today before the Fascist "Corporative Chamber," commemorating Michele Bianchi. Referring to the death of the pioneer Fascist, one of the original four who led the march on Rome in 1922, Il Duce remarked:

"He wanted to die as a Catholic, in the comfort of rites and hopes of the 1,000-year old religion of the Italian people."

The remark was viewed as further evidence of harmony between the Italian government and the Vatican since the signing of the conciliation treaties.

Detroit Council Would Cut Noncitizen Employes Off Payroll Tonight.

Detroit, Mich., March 3 (A.P.).—The city council today took steps to make its order sweeping all aliens from the municipal pay roll effective tomorrow night.

Only a veto by ayor Charles Bowles of a resolution adopted last Tuesday can save the jobs of 1,553 persons, not citizens of the United States, employed by the city government.

The vote to make the order effective tomorrow night was taken after additional reports had shown that the alien employes numbered about 800 more than originally reported. The mayor has not indicated his attitude toward the resolution, which provides that if "extenuating circumstances' 'are found in individual cases, such aliens may be reemployed.

Jurists of League Agree on Change

Attempt Is Made to Remove Threat of War Seen in Article XV.

Geneva, March 3 (A.P.).—The international committee of jurists tonight agreed upon an amendment designed to eliminate the possibility of war which now exists under the terms of Article XV, paragraph 7, of the League of Nations covenant.

The formula which the committee will recommend to the assembly provides that where the council can not agree unanimously—not counting the votes of parties to the dispute—it shall seek the best appropriate procedure and at the same time the council of its own motion, or at the request of one of the disputants, may ask the World Court for an advisory opinion on the legal points involved.

The amended form omits the phrase in the present article which permits members to take such measures as they think fit to maintain right and justice—which opens the door for war.

UNTERMYER CITES "SLUGGING" OF FOX

Stuart and Otterson Sought $10,000,000 of Magnate, Counsel Charges.

"TALKIES" STUMP JUDGE

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—In arguing a motion to restrain Harry L. Stuart, of Halsey, Stuart & Co., and John E. Otterson, president of Electrical Research Products, Inc., from voting to the stock of William Fox, Wednesday at a special meeting of Fox stockholders, Samuel Untermyer, counsel for Fox, today told Supreme Court Justice Aaron Levy that Stuart and Otterson tried "to slug Fox for $10,000,000" in their refinancing plan.

"They tried to slug him," Untermyer repeated. "If somebody tried to do it for $10 he would probably go to jail."

"They claim," Justice Levy interposed, "that the publicity given all over the country to their trusteeship with Fox over his voting rights makes it a grave duty for them to continue their trusteeship even if Mr. Fox declines to continue the trusteeship. It is idealism.

"aMterially, they claim besides the mere money owed them by Fox, that they have valuable contracts with Fox Films lasting until 1944, for leases on 'talkie apparatus. I don't go to the movies, I haven't time, so I'm not sure of the term—and it would be manifestation of selfishness to neglect those 1944 contracts."

Untermyer explained that Fox had signed an agreement with Stuart and Otterson to act with him as trustees of his voting rights, which were a majority of the voting rights in Fox Films Corporation and Fox Theaters Corporation. Fox put up his stock and was also to hand in the resignations of the majority of the boards of directors. But he refused to do this, Untermyer said, and repudiated the trust when a plan of Stuart and Otterson to refinance his companies was disclosed as seeking to displace Fox as president.

Richard E. Wwight, representing Stuart and Otterson, denied Untermyer's charge that they wanted to disrupt Fox's enterprises and said that they were ready to present a plan of refinancing at the stockholders' meeting. He said they wanted to protect the "talkie" contracts by which electrical research products leases talking pictures equipment to the Fox companies.

Justice Levy reserved decision on the motion.

Members of Congress To See Air Mail Pickup

Members of the Senate and House of Representatives are to be given a close-up demonstration of an air mail pick-up device, the invention of Dr. Lytle S. Adams, beginning at 8.30 this morning at Hoover Field.

Trow Sebree, of the Clifford Ball Line, which maintains a mail route between Pittsburgh and Cleveland, will be the pilot in the demonstrations which are to last throughout the rest of the week. Special tests are to be made for the Postoffice Department.

THE FIRE INSURANCE AGENT

—A Useful Factor In Every Community

In no other business does agent mean so much as in the fire insurance business as transacted by the Stock Companies. More than a century ago these companies established relations with property owners through responsible local representatives.

The system has grown with the insurance needs of the country. Today hundreds of the best citizens of every state are in contact with the public as representatives of the Stock Companies.

Great Authority

In no other field is the relation between agent and principal more intimate. In no other activity is the agent entrusted with greater authority.

The Stock Fire Insurance agent has at his command all the facilities of the companies in engineering and research to make life and property safer. He has access to systematic hazard measurements; authentic information about proper building construction; the work of Underwriters' Laboratories in testing materials and devices, and other forms of service for the benefit of the insuring public.

Leaders in Civic Affairs

In every community the insurance agents are leaders in civic affairs. They have been faithful factors in the steady reductions that have been made in the average rate charged for fire insurance during the last twenty years.

The local agent is in position to know his client and his client's property. He is prepared to study the needs of each one—brings to each the special service required—and may save you money if you will permit him to use the many available facilities and will cooperate with him in improving your risk.

Air Attache Of Italy Will Leave Capital

Maj. Sbernadori Arrives As Successor to Comdr. Scaroni.

By JEAN ELIOT.

THE arrival of Maj. Paul Sbernadori from Rome to serve as Air Attache of the Italian Embassy calls attention to the disquieting fact that Washington is to lose one of the most dashing of its group of bachelor diplomats in Commander Silvio Scaroni, Maj. Sbernadori's predecessor in the post of Italian Air Attache. He is due to leave town in about three weeks and will return to Italy for duty.

Young and extremely good looking, Commander Scaroni has been a great favorite since he arrived here for his first embassy assignment. He is leaving town heart whole and fancy free so far as Washington girls are concerned, but there are rumors that he is to marry an Italian girl shortly after he goes home. He is said to prefer old-fashioned—or ultra-new-fashioned—girls, with long hair, long skirts and absolutely without make-up, so for a long time he has been the despair of the fascinating flappers. Commander Scaroni, who is an honorary aide de camp to the King of Italy, has recently been visiting in Nassau in the Bahamas, but returned to town in time to instruct his successor in his new duties. Maj. Sbernadori is staying at Wardman Park Hotel.

With Brig. Gen. Augusto Villa, also of the Italian Embassy, gone, Senor Don Mariana Amoedo, Counselor of the Spanish Embassy; Signor Leonardo Vitetti, of the Italian Embassy, and Mr. Walter Rufenacht, of the Swiss Legation, soon to go, interest centers in their successors. Lieut. Col. Marco Pennarolli arrived some time ago to succeed Gen. Villa as Military Attache of the Italian Embassy, but successors to Senor Amoedo and Mr. Rufenacht have yet to be appointed. There is, however, an attractive new bachelor diplomat in town, Mr. Knut Lykke, who succeeded Mr. Christian Hvistendahl as Attache of the Norwegian Legation.

Apropos of departures, Maj. Victoriano Casajus, for many years Military Attache of the Spanish Embassy, will be greatly missed. Senora de Casajus, an invalid, did not come to Washington in the long period of his residence here, although one of his daughters occasionally visited Maj. Casajus, and this agreeable soldier-diplomat was a boon to hostesses casting about for an extra man to round out a dinner party. Maj. Casajus returned recently to Spain, his recall following the fall of the Spanish dictator, Gen. Primo de Rivera, who was his lifelong friend.

Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, wife of the Chief Justice of the United States, has returned to New York to superintend closing her house before establishing permanent residence in Washington.

Count and Countess Wrangel Are Guests of Envoy.

The Minister of Sweden and Mme. Bostrom have as their guests Count and Countess Wrangel, who are visiting in this country from Sweden and are now on their way to Palm Beach.

Count Wrangel is a former Minister of Foreign Affairs of Sweden and for many years served in the diplomatic service, during which time he was Minister to the Court of St. James.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Belmont entertained at luncheon yesterday in honor of Count and Countess Wrangel.

The Minister of the Netherlands and Mme. van Royen have recalled invitations for the dinner they were to have given this evening in honor of the Vice President, Mr. Charles Curtis, because of the critical illness of former President Taft.

Gen. John J. Pershing has been joined at White Sulphur Springs by his son, Mr. Warren Pershing, who went from New York. Gen. Pershing has been passing some time at the resort, where he is engrossed in chronicling his memoirs.

Mr. and Mrs. March Postpone Dinner.

Mr. Charles H. March, Federal Trade Commissioner, and Mrs. March postponed the dinner they had planned for last night in honor of the Attorney General and Mrs. William DeWitt Mitchell because of the illness of former President Taft.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt entertained at supper last evening at the Carlton for Miss Mary Matthews, of New York, who is her guest. The other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Silliman Evans, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Folger, Mr. William Starbuck, Miss Annabell Matthews, Mr. George Brabson and Mr. Waverly Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gassaway Davis 3d, with the former's mother, Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, are passing several days at Pine Lodge in Newport while Mrs. Vanderbilt inspects Beaulieu, the estate of the late William Waldorf Astor, which she recently purchased.

Mrs. E. C. Ellis, wife of Representative Ellis, will entertain at a luncheon tomorrow at the Hotel Roosevelt in honor of Mrs. Herbert Hadley, wife of Gov. Hadley of Missouri.

Sir Eric Geddes Arrives In New York for Sojourn.

Sir Eric Geddes will arrive in New York today on the S. S. Berengaria. A brother of Sir Auckland Geddes, former British Ambassador to the United States, Sir Eric is also well known in this country. He served as head of a British naval mission which came to Washington during the war.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre are passing a few days at the Ambassador in New York.

Ynsfran; the Charge d'Affaires of Colombia, Senor Jose M. Coronado; the director general of the Pan-American Union, Dr. L. S. Rowe, and the assistant director of the Pan-American Union, Dr. E. Gil Borges.

This was a farewell hospitality, as Dr. Velarde, now dean of the Diplomatic Corps, will sail on Friday for Europe.

The Washington Principals Association entertained the Board of Education and the officials of the N. E. A. at a banquet in the Garden House of the Dodge Hotel last evening.

The Minister of Guatemala and Mme. Recinos entertained at dinner last night at the legation in honor of the newly appointed Minister to Guatemala and Mrs. Sheldon Whitehouse. The other guests in attendance were the Minister of Bolivia and Mme. Diez de Medina, the Minister of Costa Rica, the Minister of Nicaragua and Mme. Sacasa, the Charge d'Affaires of Salvador and Mme. Leiva, the Chief of the Latin-American Division of the State Department and Mrs. Dana G. Munro, the President of the Carnegie Institution of Washington and Mrs. John C. Merriam, Dr. Carlos Salazar, Mr. Walter C. Thurston and Mrs. John E. Thurston, Miss Angela Castro Quesada, the secretary of the legation, and Mme. Fernandez.

Miss Molony Is Wed To Mr. Donald Wade.

The marriage of Mrs. Louise Milton Molony to Mr. Donald Wade took place on Saturday evening at the Church of the Immaculate Conception with the Rev. Francis J. Hurney officiating. The bride wore a tailored suit of blue novelty cloth, with hat and shoes to match. Mr. and Mrs. Wade will make their home on their nearby estate, in Maryland.

U. S. Envoys Are Visitors In District

Albert Washburns and A. C. Ratsheskys Are Among Guests.

Several interesting members of the diplomatic service representing the United States in foreign lands are in town and seem to have concentrated in one spot as they are guests for a time at the Mayflower. The United States Minister to Austria and Mrs. Albert H. Washburn have returned to Washington from a trip to Hanover, N. H. The newly appointed Minister to Czechoslovakia and Mrs. Abraham C. Ratshesky are making a short visit in Washington before their departure for Europe. This is Mr. Ratshesky's first post in the diplomatic service. A prominent banker of Boston, Mr. Ratshesky was assistant food administrator for Massachusetts during the World War and also served as executive manager of the Massachusetts Public Safety Commission.

Mr. and Mrs. Ratshesky were to have been the honor guests at a dinner tonight given by Mrs. Alvin Dodd, but the hostess recalled the invitations because of former President Taft's illness.

Also in Washington are the Minister to Nicaragua and Mrs. Matthew Elting Hanna, who are at the Mayflower.

Sailing tomorrow for Europe are Mr. Henry W. Shoemaker, recently appointed Minister to Bulgaria, and Mrs. Shoemaker, who have been in New York for a stay prior to embarkation. They were the guests in whose honor Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Pierson Grant gave a dinner Sunday evening at the Dorset in New York.

The English visitors who were entertained at the Arts Club on Sunday afternoon—Sir Archibald and Lady Flower and members of the Stratford-upon-Avon Festival Company—must have been interested and entertained at the appearance of three Navajo Indians, the men in blanket and war bonnet and the one woman of the group in picturesque Indian dress, who were among the guests.

Under escort of Mr. Berton L. Staples, lecturer on Navajo art, these famous craftsmen of their tribe are spending several days at the Dodge Hotel and their visit to the Arts Club was a feature of a "seeing Washington" expedition. Mr. Staples, who is a New Englander, adopted into the Navajo tribe, is on a 9,000 mile tour of the United States speaking on Indian art, with the Navajos in his party giving practical demonstration of their work. They are proficient in the arts of weaving, silversmithing and sand painting. In the group are I-He-Nei-Bah, whose name signifies "they went to war with her;" Haske-yi-Don-Yah and Haske-yi-Ha-Dale.

Mr. William Rufus Scott, prominent journalist, was the guest of honor and speaker at the weekly forum luncheon of the Woman's National Democratic Club yesterday. Mr. Scott who recently visited Russia, gave his "Impressions of Soviet Russia."

Among those entertaining at the luncheon were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woolley, Mrs. Rushmore Patterson, Mrs. Harry N. Rickey, Miss Ethel Ketcham, Miss Ruth Oberly, Miss Eleanor Smith, Mrs. Charles Hamlin, Miss Lillian Otto, Mrs. Kate Trenholm Abrams, Mrs. E. A. Stewart, Mrs Raymond Lee, Mrs. Amory, Miss Mapel, Mrs. Myron W. Whitney, Mrs. J. E. Mills, Mrs. Frank Hiram Snell, Mrs. Bertram Chesterman, Mrs. Edward B. Meigs, Mrs. Donald MacDonald, Mrs. W. W. Hubbard, Mrs. Roland K. Smith, Mrs. John H. Small and others.

Col. and Mrs. Glenn S. Smith are in Asheville, N. C., where they are passing some time at the Grove Park Inn.

Shopping with Bab

DEAREST GENEVIEVE: What are you giving up in Lent? Not shopping, surely, for that is the time to spend in doing just that thing, particularly because you will have more leisure then than later.

With the shops full of violet and blue and pink and yellow frocks with hats in felt and straw to match, it is difficult to withstand the temptation to buy one of everything.

Princess Elizabeth Set the Style

—for yellow in children's clothes, and now it seems to be the favorite selection of nearly all little girls and boys. J. Rand, 1702 Connecticut avenue, has all colors imaginable in the little knitted silk and wool suits and frocks from England, but shades of yellow seemed to disappear most rapidly.

Nothing could possibly equal the trim fashioning of these Mastraknit garments. They are knitted on hand looms, and may be had in all wool, in silk and wool and mercerized cotton (nice for warmer weather). J. Rand is up the same staircase you go to Margaret Gray's.

Inexpensive Frocks From Schwartz

—cause more comment where they appear, than you could possibly imagine, were you to judge from the price alone. Schwartz, 1325 Connecticut avenue, has on display all the time the most satisfactory range of colors that you could imagine. I have never yet asked for a color in this shop except they were able to show me several shades in it, and several styles of design. This is important when you are anxious to carry out a color scheme.

Schwartz, 1325 Connecticut avenue, make a point of frocks for $19.75. Some frocks are less, and some are more. The range of prices is as gratifying as the type of garments you buy. Have you seen their window?

The Lovely Salon of Margaret Gray

—is always a happy place in which to inspect exhibits of clothes. This is exactly like Parisian shops. There is not one model in sight when you go in, but in response to your request the most delightful frocks and suits make their appearance.

Yesterday I saw such charming models in crepe with angora coats in the dusty yellow and pinks so much in vogue. There were two models in gorgeously printed chiffons. One had a deep yoke and bandings of ecru Alencon lace, and the other a frill of black lace. An evening gown in the new basque shade is beautifully cut and has an ornament on one side worked in fine turquoise beads and diamente. Margaret Gray, 1702 Connecticut avenue.

Pasternak Specializes In Youthful Fashions

—and this year has given more than usual attention to the needs of the school girl. Smart little frocks and suits at small prices are demanded by girls who want an endless variety of costumes. You may be surprised when you see what these models include and their low markings.

Pasternak, 1219 Connecticut avenue, has long been the mecca for fastidious women and girls who must be perfectly gowned. You may depend upon the styles you find at Pasternak's. This name is synonymous with superb tailoring. It means perfect hats, wonderful coats and everything in fact which make up the wardrobe of a well-groomed woman. Formal gowns, frocks for tea dancing, lovely tailleurs await your inspection.

Brides Find At Mrs. Dulany's

—all the gorgeous lingerie and negligees and tea gowns which they feel a trousseau must include. Mrs. Dulany's, 1901 Q street, is one of the few places which specializes in the finest French imports, and all accessories for the boudoir, silk and satin coverlets and pillows, trimmed in real lace and exquisite hand work. Peach color, turquoise blue, nile green, petal pink, greet you in a galaxy of pastel tints in all displays at Mrs. Dulany's.

Brides give their orders in plenty of time to have deliveries made for the proper date. However, it is always possible to buy in quantities within reason from the regular displays, and the sizes are in such variety that you can no doubt be fitted.

The Parafine Pack at Elizabeth Arden's

—is one of the new beauty secrets which this world-famous establishment has recently discovered. In the new salon, 1147 Connecticut avenue, special rooms have been equipped for this treatment. Go in and find out about it. They will tell you how you are covered with parafine and put in a hot pack and then peeled in the most wonderful way, leaving you simply beautiful.

Swedish massage, artificial sun baths and needle showers are available at Elizabeth Arden's, too, and all in the most luxurious, imaginable surroundings.

Nancy Carter Has Spring Things —which are so adorable and so moderately priced that you will scarcely be able to believe your eyes when you have seen the models, and then have peeped at the prices.

That is the thing which has undoubtedly made this shop such a spectacular success in this the first year of its existence. Nancy Carter knows how to select clothes for young girls and older women with satisfaction to both.

Tailored suits, little sleeveless frocks with tiny jackets, frocks to be worn with a fur neck-piece or with a topcoat, all may be found here in infinite variety. Nancy Carter, 1021 Connecticut avenue.

Caroline's Cafeteria Serves Dinner

—as well as luncheon. This is the place I have told you of, where you can sit for an indefinite time after dinner with your coffee and cigarettes and any other amusement you have on hand.

The vegetable plate is very popular here, because crisp spring vegetables are used, fresh from the gardens. Other delicacies on the menu are equally good. The atmosphere of Caroline's, 734 Fifteenth, is bright and sunny with canary yellow tables and chairs or high-back settles in the same color.

Dinners are 65 cents, which is enough to make you try this place once. Once you have tried it, you will go back again and again.

Affectionately,

Dinner was served in the Palm Court of the hotel and all the foreign attaches and the United States naval officers wore dress uniforms. Music was furnished by the Navy Band Orchestra.

Concert Is Planned By G. U. Glee Club.

Among the pre-Lenten concerts will be that of the Glee Club of Georgetown University and the choir of St. Paul's Catholic Church which will take place tonight at 8:15 o'clock in St. Paul's Auditorium. Prof. Edward P. Donovan will direct. Among the patrons and patronesses are the Ambassador of France and Mme. Claudel, the Ambassador of Spain and Senora de Padilla, Senator David I. Walsh, Representative and Mrs. James M. Fitzpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Tumulty.

The Rev. J. Lawrence Kilkenny is directing plans for the concert.

Mrs. Edward Slater Dunlap left yesterday for New York to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clifton Thomas, jr., and to make the acquaintance of her granddaughter, Barbara Edith Thomas. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas will return to Washington with Mrs. Dunlap for Easter.

Mr. Kermit Roosevelt, of New York, is a guest at the Willard.

Miss Virginia Harris, niece of Representative and Mrs. William Hull, has sailed for four weeks' cruise in the West Indies.

Mrs. M. Tilghman Goldsborough will come from New York the first of the month and will be at the Wardman Park Hotel for some time.

Representative and Mrs. Charles Gifford have had with them at the Hotel Roosevelt for the last month their daughter, Mrs. H. P. Clausen, who has left for her home in Dedham, Mass.

Miss Ladue Is Wed To Lieut. Hall.

The marriage of Miss Louise Ladue, daughter of the Engineer Commissioner and Mrs. William B. Ladue, to Lieut. Gordon Hall, U. S. M. C., will take place this afternoon, the wedding reception to be held at 5 o'clock in the Officers Club of the Army War College. The ceremony will be performed in the presence of only members of the two families and will immediately precede the reception.

Cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Gadsden Guignard from Columbia, S. C., announcing the marriage of their daughter, Susan Guignard, to Mr. Robert Hitt Sparks. Mrs. Sparks was presented to Washington society by her uncle, the Rev. Meade Bolton MacBryde, two seasons ago, and she visited in the Capital last winter, when a number of parties were given in her honor.

The English-Speaking Union and the Shakespeare Society of Washington will entertain jointly at a buffet luncheon at the Willard today in honor of the members of the Stratford-upon-Avon Company. Gen. Henry T. Allen, president of the English-Speaking Union in Washington, and Mr. Bryant, president of the Shakespeare Society, will receive the guests.

Mrs. Frank B. Steele, chairman of the benefit bridge to be held Friday afternoon and evening at All Souls Unitarian Church, announces that the party will be postponed due to the serious illness of former Chief Justice William H. Taft, an honored and beloved member of the church.

The Rector's Aid of St. Andrew's Church is arranging a chicken dinner to be held in the Parish Hall on Thursday from 5 to 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Hoes Is Guest Of D. A. R. Chapter.

Mrs. Rose Gouverneur Hoes was the guest in whose honor the President Monroe Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution entertained at tea yesterday afternoon.

In the receiving line with the guest of honor were Mrs. David D. Caldwell, State regent of the District of Columbia; Mrs. George Hillyer, jr., Miss Laura Ruff, regent; Mrs. Daisy Richards, vice regent, and Miss Wheeler, secretary of the President Monroe Chapter. Presentations were made by Mrs. J. C. Weedon.

Those who presided in turn were Mrs. James Madison Cutts, Mrs. Jacob G. Moore, Mrs. W. D. West, Mrs. Mabel Ward and Mrs. John Knox Arnold. Assisting in serving were the younger members of the chapter, Miss Catherine Hicks, Miss Margaret Hicks, Miss Marjorie McKenney and Miss Hattie May Dunlap.

Mr. Edgar Hamilton Funk passed the week-end in Montross, Va., as the guest of his sister, Mrs. Henry Garnett Reamy.

Mr. Louis Dergans To Be Host at Tea.

Mr. Louis S. Dergans has sent out invitations for a tea at the Arts Club on Sunday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock at the Arts Club, when an exhibition of his paintings will be on view. A portrait of Mr. Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, is among those which will be shown and the exhibition also includes many landscapes.

Capt. and Mrs. P. M. Watt, of the Navy Yard, Philadelphia, are guests at the Powhatan.

Because of the illness of former President Taft, the North Carolina Society's reception and dance in honor of the North Carolina delegation in Congress, which was to have been held tonight at the Carlton, has been postponed until the evening of April 22. Plans for an informal meeting on March 18 are being made.

Mrs. Lucius Wilmerding returned to New York Sunday night after a visit with her aunt, Mrs. Julian Morton, of the Ontario Apartments.

Steele-Yearly Betrothal Is Announced.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Sara Durant Yearly, daughter of Mrs. McKee Barclay, of Baltimore, and the Rev. Samuel Targart Steele 2d, of Baltimore. A graduate of the National Cathedral School in 1928, Miss Yearly has a large circle of friends in Washington, particularly among promoters of the drama through her clever work in "Quality Street," produced by the Junior Players then appearing at Wardman Park Theater. During her school years here Miss Yearly played in a number of amateur productions. She was presented to society in Baltimore last year.

Mr. Steele, who is rector of St. David's Protestant Episcopal Church, Roland Park, is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. I. Nevitt Steele, and also of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Madison Thompson, and has distinguished connections in Maryland, Virginia and New York.

Mrs. Turner Is Visiting Mrs. J. Ward Mankin.

Mrs. Roscoe Turner, wife of the president of the University of West Virginia, is visiting Mrs. J. Ward Mankin. Mrs. Mankin entertained at bridge followed by tea on Saturday afternoon for her guest. Nutting, Mrs. Haven Mankin and Mrs. William McClaine.

Fifth Ave. Fashions NEW YORK

A PRECIOUS little frock for playtime for wee tots of 2, 4, 6 and 8 years is shown in cotton broadcloth print in yellow and white.

The Peter Pan collar is of plain white, which appears again in cuff bands of long sleeves. Two large yellow bone buttons contribute further smartness to scalloped front closing, with an inverted plait below to add necessary flare to hemline.

Shoulders of the front and the back of the dress are gathered into the sleeves, that extend to neckline. The sleeves may also be made short, as seen in miniature back view.

See how simple it is to make and how smart the finished garment is! I'm sure you'll want to make two or three in different color schemes.

Style No. 8013 takes but 1½ yards of 40-inch material with ¼ yard of 27-inch contrasting for the 4-year child.

Light blue chambray with blue and white checked gingham collar and cuffs, rose linen with white, peach shantung with white, orchid voile with white organdie, sprigged dimity in rose-pink tones with pink organdie, nile green pique with white and French blue wool jersey, with collar finished at edge with button-hole stitch in rose, with rose buttons, are cute ideas.

All patterns of Lucille Lorraine styles are 15 cents each. Mail your order to our Fashion Department, The Washington Post, 359 Fifth avenue, New York City. Be sure to write your name and address clearly and give the number and size of the pattern.

SEVENTEEN DOLLARS A DAY

For Special Prizes During the Second Period of The Post

$20,000 Opportunity Campaign

$175 MUST GO TO OUT-OF-TOWN CANDIDATES

$175 MUST GO TO CITY CANDIDATES

During this period, which began February 20 and ends at 9 P. M., March 12, nearly seventeen dollars a day—$16.66 2-3—is being appropriated to make a grand total of $350 in GOLD which will be awarded to candidates making the best showing during these three short weeks. $100 will be awarded to the candidate from out-of-town who turns in the greatest amount in new subscription payments during this period and a similar amount to the city candidate who turns in the greatest amount from his division. The runner-up in each division will receive $50 and the third candidate in each division $25 in gold.

New Entrants Are On an Equal Footing With Present Candidates

This is "a campaign within a campaign." No subscriptions previously received will count toward winning one of these special cash awards or toward the 90,000 EXTRA VOTES that will be given for each $20 worth of new subscriptions turned in within this period. It is therefor evident that candidates who enter today have exactly the same chance to win a portion of this $350 in gold as have previous entrants. Fill out the nomination blank printed below and send or bring it to the campaign manager's office on the third floor of The Washington Post Building. He will furnish you with all necessary instructions and materials to enable you to share in these special prizes and in the final distribution of 12 autos and 16 radios.

Wants All the World to Know

"About ten years ago I got so weak and rundown that I felt miserable all over. One day my husband said, 'Why don't you take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' When I had taken two bottles I felt better so I kept on. My little daughter was born when I had been married twelve years. Even my doctor said, 'It's wonderful stuff.' You may publish this letter for I want all the world to know how this medicine has helped me."—Mrs. Horten Jones, 208 48th Street, Union City, N. J.

FIRM HITS U. S. BAN ON ALCOHOL SUPPLY

INDICTMENT IS CITED

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—An injunction suit against Andrew W. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury; James M. Doran, United States prohibition commissioner, and Maurice Campbell, New York prohibition administrator, was filed today by C. H. Selick, Inc., perfume manufacturers, asking that the defendants be permanently restrained from shutting off the firm's supply of alcohol.

Federal Judge John M. Woolsey ordered the defendants to show cause tomorrow why a temporary injunction should not be issued pending trial of the suit.

Selick, Inc., was one of the 186 firms and individuals indicted in Chicago February 10 on charges of conspiring to violate the Federal prohibition law. The injunction suit charged that since the indictment the firm had been "unable to obtain alcohol because of informal orders to the United States Industrial Alcohol Corporation, its source of supply."

The firm alleged it had outstanding orders for $113,000 of its perparations and was unable to fill them because the alcohol needed in their composition could not be obtained. In its complaint the corporation alleged it had no knowledge of any illegal uses to which its products were said by the Government to have been diverted.

The complaint added that if manufacturers may be so penalized whenever customers, without the manufacturers' knowledge, violate the law, it will be next to impossible for any business houses to carry on with safety.

Deputy Shot by Youth At Bay Dies by Wound

Albuquerque, N. Mex., March 3 (A.P.).—Charles Cunningham, deputy sheriff, who was one of three men wounded by Bonifacio Torres, 19-year-old youth in a gun fight at Jarales Saturday, died in a hospital here today. The condition of Sheriff Ignacio Aragon in still critical. Daniel Sanchez, the third man wounded, is recovering.

Torres was slain after a posse had set fire to the house in which he took refuge and stood off 200 men all Saturday afternoon. Torres was wanted for incorrigibility, the complaint being issued by his mother.

Revue Is Feature Of Caravan Fete

Midwinter "Ladies Night" Is Held by Order of Alhambra.

Alcantara Caravan, No. 12, Order of Alhambra, was host last night to 300 members and guests at its annual midwinter "ladies night" at the Willard Hotel. Under the general heading of "A Night in Paris," dinner, a cabaret revue and dancing were offered for entertainment.

One end of the ballroom, roped off, had been converted into a "Deauville Beach," with artistically painted backdrops forming a representation of the famous French resort, while real sand formed a beach tenanted by young women wearing the latest Deauville modes in bathing suits and beach pajamas.

Last night's entertainment was one of an annual series given by the caravan. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock, and the interval before dancing was taken up with specialties by a group of entertainers furnished by Jack Mullane. They included the Deauville Girls, Jose and Edythe, with dancers; Riley and Sugrue, tap dancers; Marion Lee, acrobatic dancer, and others.

Fire Fighting in Kansas.

Savonburg, Kans., March 3.—Although there had been no fire in the business district here for 40 years, this city purchased a new chemical tank last spring for the Volunteer Fire Department. After the purchase was made, two buildings in the downtown area, the City Opera House and a blacksmith shop, burned to the ground.

Birthday Celebrated By Hebrew Sisterhood

The Sisterhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday yesterday afternoon with a silver anniversary jubilee at the Jewish Community Center. There were more than 700 members of the organization present, and a large number of guests.

Allen V. De Ford, president of the Brotherhood of the Washington Hebrew Congregation, extended greetings to sisters and visitors. The jubilee was directed by Mrs. Earl Klein and Mrs. Robert Patterson, and the corps of entertainers consisted of about 100 of the younger members of the sisterhood. A tea followed the main events, under the leadership of Miss Ricke Gans.

Rear Admiral's Condition Unchanged.

S. S. Berengaria, March 3 (A.P.).—Heavy weather prevented Rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones from spending a good night, but his general condition remained unchanged today. Admiral Jones is returning from the London naval conference for treatment in the United States.

Alley Dweller Census To Be Completed Soon

Completion of the police census of alley dwellers in the District is expected within ten days, Maj. Henry G. Pratt, superintendent of police, said yesterday.

The census is not only to include the number of alley houses inhabited and the number of persons living in each, but also is to include the rental paid for each house. This latter information is desired by those who contend that they can find houses on streets for alley dwellers at a rental about the same as they now pay for their alley houses. Instructions to begin the census, together with the prepared forms, were sent to all precincts yesterday.

Millions for Illinois Roads.

Springfield, Ill., March 3 (A.P.).—Illinois will spend $30,000,000 on new paved highways in 1930. Engineers also are making a study of possibilities of improving the secondary road system, connecting the farmer with arterial highways.

Robbers Are Shot Dead, Pistol Beam Is Target

Detroit, March 3 (A.P.).—Two policemen, with only a beam of reflected light from a robber's pistol as a target, shot and killed two men who were attempting to rob the safe of the Harper Theater in Harper avenue at 4 a. m. today.

The gun battle, in which powder burns on face of one of the officers were the only injuries received by either policeman, occurred in the dark attic of the theater above the main floor of the auditorium. The robbers were identified as Philip J. Twomey, 30, and Leo Garbada, 30, both of Detroit. Twomey lived until admittance to receiving hospital, but Garbada apparently was instantly killed.

Justice Gordon on Appeals Bench.

Justice Peyton Gordon, of the District of Columbia Supreme Court, yesterday sat on the bench of the District of Columbia Court of Appeals. It was Justice Gordon's first appearance on the bench of that tribunal. His presence was due to the fact that Associate Justice Charles H. Robb is ill.

Music to Entertain Patients in Hospital

Tuberculosis Hospital patients will be entertained tonight by the Tuesday Evening Music Club, under the direction of Mrs. Frank P. Howard and a male quartet of the Kiwanis Club, led by William R. Schmucker. The music club includes 20 young women.

Kiwanians composing the quartet are George P. Morgan, Charles H. Frame, Peyton B. Fletcher and Mr. Schmucker.

TAXIMAN ASSAILANT SUSPECT ARRESTED

VICTIM RALLIES SLIGHTL

While Harry Martin Melton, 44-year-old cab driver, lay at the point of death in Emergency Hospital, too weak to give any information that might lead to the capture of the persons who slugged and injured him early Sunday near Hyattsville, Police there late last night made the first arrest among several forecast shortly in the case.

Jack Taliaferro, of 4 Maryland avenue, Hyattsville, was taken in custody for investigation by Sergt. Harvey G. Machen and Constable Andrew Gasch, of Prince Georges County.

They said they located an automobile, owned by Taliaferro, a short distance from the spot where Mr. Melton's taxicab was found Sunday morning when the investigation was started. The Taliaferro machine was said to have been out of gas and unoccupied.

Driver Regains Consciousness.

Gaining consciousness for a few moments after a 30-hour coma, Mr. Melton yesterday failed to shed any light on the case.

Detective Sergt. Carlton Talley, of the central office, was at Mr. Melton's bedside when the cab driver regained consciousness, but due to the injured man's grave condition, was prohibited from questioning him closely regarding the attack.

Mr. Melton, according to Talley, stated that there were either two or four persons who employed him to drive them to a farmhouse, half a mile from the Hyattsville limits. After making inquiries at the house, the occupants returned to the cab and apparently without warning began beating the driver.

Lead Pipe Was Used.

A piece of lead pipe, found in the cab, was used to beat him into semi-consciousness before the assailants fled. Despite his weakened condition, the cab driver managed to stagger to the home of W. J. Stevens at Hyattsville, who drove him to Emergency Hospital. Authorities found Mr. Melton's cab near the Chillum Manor Inn, a short distance from the scene of the attack.

His brief account of the attack before again lapsing into unconsciousness, Detective Talley stated, was vague and almost incomprehensible, due to his condition. Mr. Melton, who is married and has four children, resides at 726 Tuckerman street northwest. He has compound fractures of two places of the skull.

WHO'ZAT?

("WHOZIT?" is a test of your knowledge of history and current events. The statements below describe a character whom you should be able to identify. Match your knowledge and memory against those of your friends.)

1. He was an American.
2. For nearly twenty years he served as a member of the House of Representatives from a Southern State.
3. After he retired from the House he served two terms in the Senate, retiring voluntarily in 1927.
4. He was prominently mentioned as a possible candidate for the Presidency in several national conventions.
5. His name is attached to an important revenue law enacted in 1913.

Answer to yesterday: Alfred Lord Tennyson.

Real Estate Ring In Capital Denied

House District Group Told One Could Not Exist in District.

There is no real estate ring in Washington, nor could one operate here, John A. Petty, secretary of the Washington Real Estate Board, declared yesterday before the House District committee.

The committee met to consider a bill to regulate the real estate business here, and, in the course of the hearing, Representative Patman, of Texas, voiced the fear that the bill, which is designed to drive dishonest dealers out, might leave the city in control of a powerful few. This drew the denial from Mr. Petty.

Oscar H. Brinkman, former clerk of the Senate District committee, and now an attorney here, urged the House committee to substitute for its own bill one which he drafted at the suggestion of Senator Blaine (Republican), of Wisconsin.

Firm Recovers Confiscated Auto

Decision of Police Court in Seizure of Car Is Reversed.

The District of Columbia Court of Appeals yesterday reversed the Police Court in a case involving the seizure of an automobile under the prohibition law.

Louis Malinow, of Baltimore, according to the record, bought the automobile on a conditional sales contract July 25, 1928. This contract is said to have provided that the machine was not to be used in illegal transportation and that if it was the company from which the purchase was made could repossess it. Testimony was to the effect that the automobile was confiscated in October, 1928, while in possession of a man and a woman, both of whom pleaded guilty to violating the prohibition act.

The decision of the Appellate Court is in favor of the Automobile Brokerage Corporation, a concern which intervened when the Government sought to confiscate the automobile.

Two Hurt in Work On New Structure

One Falls, Another Struck by Beam at Commerce Building.

Two men were injured, one seriously, while at work yesterday on the new Department of Commerce Building under construction on Fourteenth street northwest.

Losing his balance while at work on the second floor of the structure, J. M. Roundtree, 28 years old, an iron worker who rooms in a house on E street northwest, near Second street, plunged about 40 feet to the pavement.

Picked up unconscious, the man was hurried to Emergency Hospital in a police automobile and was treated by Dr. John Schwarzman for fractures of both legs and injuries to the back and face. The physician reported his condition serious.

Struck by an iron beam which was being hoisted to an upper floor of the structure, William Driscoll, 27 years old, of C street northwest, near Third street, suffered a fracture of the right arm. He was also treated at Emergency Hospital.

Fatal New Year's Day Fall Held Accidental

A verdict of accidental death in the case of William Harry Weible, 30 years old, employe of the Department of Agriculture, who was fatally injured in a plunge from his third-story apartment at 1900 F street northwest on New Year's morning, was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday at the District Morgue.

Testimony revealed that Weible and his fiance, Miss Lou Purvis, of Cleveland, with several friends, had attended a New Year's Eve party at the Wardman Park Hotel. He and Miss Purvis quarreled, it was said, and returned to his apartment. The quarrel continued and Miss Purvis locked herself in a room. In a signed statement the day he was injured, Weible declared he had been drinking and fell through the window when he raised it to get some air.

Universal Auto Co. Files Bankruptcy Plea

The Universal Auto Co., of 2819 M street northwest, yesterday filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in District Supreme Court.

The company, in a statement filed with the petition, states that the action is approved by the stockholders. Assets of $6,067.53 and liabilities of $17,911.10 are listed. Attorney T. L. Jeffords appears for the company.

Good-Morning Biscuits
baked in a jiffy

Just try this time-saving scheme and we'll wager your family will have hot biscuits for breakfast often.

Whenever you make biscuits for the evening meal, mix up enough extra dough for the following morning. Have your biscuits all cut out, put them in the pan and keep them overnight where it's cold. All you have to do the next morning is to heat your oven and bake them.

Try this tested recipe for biscuits given below. Made with Crisco they are light, tender, fluffy and snowy-white. And, of course, their flavor is sweet. How could it be otherwise when the flavor of Crisco itself is so sweet and fresh?

2 cups bread flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons Crisco
¾ cup milk or water (for "drop" biscuits) or
½ cup milk or water (for "rolled" biscuits)

Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Work Crisco in with fork. Add liquid gradually.

Form dough into shape, roll ½ inch thick, cut. For scone-shaped biscuits, cut squares, then diagonally in half. Brush top of biscuits with melted Crisco or milk. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 12 biscuits.

Taste Crisco

Then you'll understand why its own sweet, fresh flavor so improves the taste of your cakes, pies, hot breads, cookies and fried foods.

Crisco is a great time-saver. Easy to cream, easy to mix—winter or summer.

Mabelle Jennings, "News":
"The success of such a welter of diversion is absolutely dependent on the worth of the entertainers brought to its promotion, and Mr. Fox has looked well to this . . . I was kicked half to death by 2,500 females trying to get in."

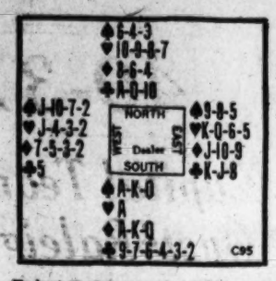
WORK ON BRIDGE

MISPLAYED HANDS I HAVE MET.
(The play in this hand would be the same at both Auction and Contract.)



Today's hand was played in a game of Contract Bridge, and South's first bid placed him in one of the most trying situations imaginable. He bid three No Trumps. I think it would have been wiser to try for game at Clubs; the probability was that he would not lose more than two Club tricks, whereas the other twelve Hearts might be distributed so that with a Heart opening at No Trump, game would be lost with one winning Club adversely held.

In Auction Bridge with this freak holding I think South should bid one Club, although most players would say one No Trump.

With a Contract declaration of three No Trumps, South was greatly relieved when West led a Spade instead of the dreaded Heart. South won the trick, false-carding with the Ace, led a Club and finessed dummy's Queen. East won and returned his partner's Spade; South won and led another Club. Of course, East won a second Club trick, but the Declarer made five-odd.

THE CORRECT PLAY.

East contributed the misplay in this hand. When dummy played the Queen of Clubs from Ace-Queen ten on the first round of that suit, East should have known that the lead was from a six-card suit because if Declarer had held less than nine Clubs in his two hands he would have tried the Ten (double) finesse and not the Queen (single) finesse. Dummy had three Clubs and East three; if South had six, West must have held a singleton and consequently must have held four cards of each of the other three suits, as his original lead of the Deuce showed that he opened a four-carder. As West has four Hearts, South can have only one, which probably is the ace; but be it what it may, game almost surely can be saved if East leads a small Heart to trick 3 instead of returning the Spade.

Admittedly the key play by East called for some reasoning; but, assuming that the Declarer was finessing his Clubs soundly, East's deduction would be infallible.

16th Radio Bridge Game Broadcast by WRC Today

One hundred honors in aces greets South in the sixteenth radio auction bridge game to be broadcast by Station WRC at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. The games are prepared under the personal supervision of Milton C. Work, international authority and teacher of bridge.

The hands follow:

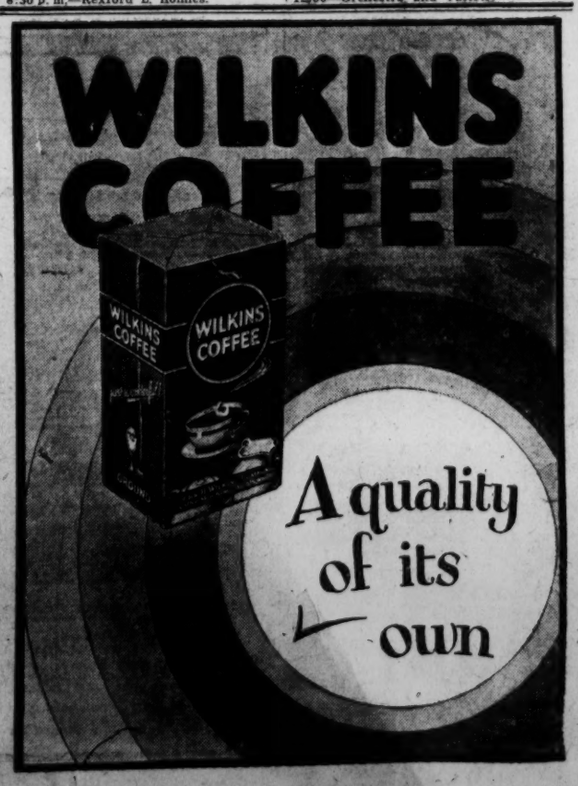
Miss Rosamond Vahey, Boston, "South," the dealer, holds: Spades, A, J, 9; Hearts, A, 8, 6, 4; Diamonds, A, Q, 2; Clubs, A, J, 4.

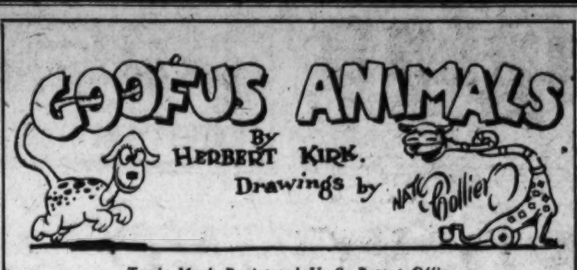
John T. Slade, Hingham Center, Mass., "West," holds: Spades, 8, 5; Hearts, K; Diamonds, K, 10, 8, 7, 3; Clubs, Q, 9, 8, 7, 2.

C. Drummond Jones, St. Louis, "North," holds: Spades, K, Q, 10; Hearts, 9, 7, 3; Diamonds, J, 5, 4; Clubs, K, 6, 5, 3.

Mrs. Edward Goldsmith, Danville, Ill., "East," holds: Spades, 7, 6, 4, 3, 2; Hearts, Q, J, 10, 5, 2; Diamonds, 9, 6; Clubs, 10.

Tomorrow morning a summary of the game will appear exclusively in this paper. It is suggested that the readers clip these summaries and thus keep a permanent record of the hands as broadcast. These can not be obtained other than through The Post.





The Goofus Yum-Yum

The Goofus Yum-Yum has a way of Cracking Nuts the live long day.
He puts the nuts right near the clock
And lets the hands hit them a sock
And as they're cracking from the beating—
The Goofus Yum-Yum goes on eating!

Wives of Tomorrow

By FRANCES M'DONALD

His Pin—And His Heart.

DEAR Miss McDonald: Spending a vacation in your city and reading your paper I came across your column, so decided to write to you and wonder if you or some college boy could help me.

When do college boys ask girls to wear their pins, and why don't they? I had been very good friends with a boy for about two years, then he went to college, came home at Easter with a lovely fraternity pin; the night before our return to college I supposed he would ask me to wear it, but he did not; so I asked him for it, but he was quite surprised; his pin? no, no, he was not letting any girl have that. A cool good-by. Returning to my college several of my girl friends had come back with pins; ask me why I did not. I told them, and they nearly mobbed me. "Where was my pride; ask him for his pin; he should have begged me to wear it." What was he keeping it for? Who wants a pin when they are out of college? Mean and cheap, they called him; told me if I married him he would "count the pears in a can." "Give him the air."

So, when I returned from school, although I did not write to him, he came to call on me the second night I was home. He wanted me to go to a show, but I refused; told him I did not care to have him call, and I would not go out with him again. He asked the reason, and I told him he was too mean and cheap. He never said a word; kind of hung his head and walked away. Yes. I know I hurt him, but he hurt me, too. I have only seen him twice since; never to speak to. I heard last fall that he was going around with a high school girl, and then during the Christmas vacation one night I was with a crowd in a tea room when he and his high school girl and another couple; his bosom friend and a young lady, came in. Well, I had a look at her; shiny silk stockings, gaudy silk dress, cheap fur coat, rouged to the zenith degree, and I even heard she bought her rouge in the 5 and 10 cent store. But she was wearing his fraternity pin! Where did I fail? With grand looks, clothes, college, the use of a car? Forget him? I can't. I am thinking of him always. I go out with other boys, but there is none like him; so kind, so loving his arms around me, his goodnight kiss, soft and sweet. "Goodnight, dear; right to bed and dream of me." "Dream of me," but he would not let me wear his pin. Why? ELAINE.

Elaine, we would probably all love spinach if somebody had not tried to force it upon us at some time when we were not inclined to have it forced upon us.

Men are like that about love, and about girls. Many a man has missed the real love of a lifetime through the energetic intensity with which some well-meaning matchmaker tried to force the girl upon him. He retreated by instinct, and that is what your boy did. Self-preservation is the strongest instinct in us, we are told, and it is stronger in the male than in the female, especially when his freedom is threatened.

You are a head-long child, Elaine, and being so you go at things in a way that startles others. At present you believe you can never forget this incident. But within a year some other man will arrest your attention and in equally intense fashion. When that happens keep a tight rein. Remember that even the 1930 type of man prefers to make the advances, do the arguing, smash the obstacles. He does not want the girl to ruin the picture of his heroic conquest by dashing up all out of breath and informing him that she is his. Men love to languish, and debate the matter, and plan how they are going to win a girl, and it just spoils the fun when she steps forward and announces that she is all won and waiting. You can see that. Often the only triumph that ever comes to a man is whatever triumph he may have over woman. So let him have at least that to stimulate his good opinion of himself!

You are young, and you made two mistakes, first in taking the initiative and asking for the pin, second in turning upon the poor boy so fiercely when he asked you to the theater. It must indeed have been a shock to the poor lad. Men are terribly sensitive, Elaine, and we can lacerate their feelings without half trying. Remember that. Be as unreasonable, as willful, as you choose and they will go on worshiping just the same, but do not slash their feelings and expect them to forget their pain.

Next time, let the boy offer his pin, or his heart or whatever he happens to have that you want, and if you want to give him a real thrill pretend to hesitate about accepting it. He will feel he has justified his existence, when at last you have reluctantly capitulated.

It's quite a game, Elaine, and lots of fun!

Prices realized on Swift & Co. sales of carcass beef in Washington, D. C., for week ending Saturday, March 1, 1930, on shipments sold out ranged from 15.00 cents to 22.50 cents per pound and averaged 19.12 cents per pound.—Adv.

Behind the Screens

With NELSON B. BELL

OCCASIONALLY there recurs to mind a sunny July many years ago at Atlantic City when every afternoon a group—and a large group, too—of distinguished people of the stage would congregate in the palm room of the famous old Young's Hotel and "fan" about the season just closed, amusing incidents that had happened during performances, tough breaks, funny ad libs, and all the other things stage folk chatter about when they gather for nothing more pressing than to pass the time of day—or night.

Among those I distinctly recall were Lew Dockstader and his minstrel men, including Al Jolson, then doing a specialty in the "olio;" Tom and Charlie McNaughton, and Tom's charming wife, Alice Lloyd; Max Rogers and Flo May, of the "Rogers Brothers" companies, and Avita Sanchez, of the same, the only Porto Rican dancer ever to achieve fame on the American stage, to the best of my knowledge; old Doc Munyon, of "There Is Hope" fame; Harrison Fisher, the illustrator, and his pal, Jean Havez, Dockstader's advance man and author of the song, "Everybody Works But Father;" Gene and Willie Howard, Nora Bayes and many more whose names do not this many years after spring immediately to mind.

Never before or since have I enjoyed such rapid-fire banter, crossfires, "gags," and the like, as that midsummer month imprinted on my memory. The nearest I have come to it is the "Stage and Screen Club" sequence in "Happy Days" now packing them in at the Fox. The atmosphere is identical.

Perhaps that is why I early went overboard for the picture and expect to go back and see it three or four times more!

It has not been particularly stressed, but it seems to me that the specialties presented by Freddy Clark and his R-K-Olians from the orchestra pit at Keith's are not so much overtures as they are acts.

This week, for instance, the boys are putting on a burlesque of the favorite radio hours that is nothing if not keen and clever satire. The band, to be sure, is terrifically handicapped by being presented from the floor of the orchestra. On the stage, their travesty would be hailed as a comedy bit worthy of serious attention and Fred Clark probably would be listed up there among the more agreeable of the masters of ceremonies.

Speaking of stage hits, there is a comedian-artist in Fanchon and Marco's "Screenland Melodies" revue, on the Fox stage, who is stopping the show as surely at every performance as the overflow crowds are stopping the exits for those who have seen the bill and are reluctantly trying to get out. Lamberti is the lad I mean, although I seem to recall that Alexander Callam introduced him as that "great Swedish master, Mr. Axel Woodcraft."

I don't know about the "Swedish" part of the recommendation, but the "great" is oke with me. Lamberti is as capable a xylophonist as I have ever heard and combines with that gift the further endowment of a real sense of humor. The fellow is funny.

But what I am trying to get around to is that he has one of the finest instruments to which I have ever listened. Mr. Franklin Adams, of the Pan-American Union, once sent me an interesting brochure telling all about the method of manufacturing Guatamalan marimbas and these kindred media for what some wag has termed "kindling wood solos," and it would be just my luck to have it turn up missing when most needed. If I had it now, I might be able to determine some definite reason for the Lamberti xylophone's possessing the finest tone ever pounded out of any similar contraption. The thing is perfectly tuned and genuinely musical.

Although I believe Mr. Brusiloff had announced a special arrangement of Dvorak compositions as the Fox overture this week, the overture time is being utilized as an aid in getting the crowds in and out of the theater between performances and no orchestra number is being presented. It is, however, being carefully preserved for use next week.

Herbert Brenon, I judge, was never a drill sergeant. In "The Case of Sergeant Grischa," at RKO-Keith's, two guards are facing each other, east and west. Their commanding officer gives the order, "Right face, forward march," and both turn and walk south, abreast—which looks to me like a "left face" for one of them.

Hon. Thomas D. Schall, the blind senator, attended the Metropolitan Saturday to hear himself in the Paramount Sound News. Other notables in the week's newsreels include former President and Mrs. Coolidge in the West Coast movie studios; Aimee McPherson, playing with the lions in the Los Angeles zoo; Sir Oliver Lodge, who simplifies science for the masses; William Wrigley, and his Chicago "Cubs," and Al Smith addressing the newsboys in New York.

It certainly looked yesterday as if those tulips that had started to come up had got themselves into a tough spot!

What Today Means to You

"PISCES."

IF March 4 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from noon to 1:30 p. m., from 6 p. m. to 7 p. m. and from 10:30 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 11 a. m. to noon and from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m.

A day of illuminating experiences is forecast for this date. Time and thought will be focused upon the less serious affairs of life—pleasures will come before business. Your emotions will be greatly awakened.

Children born on this March 4 will have considerable literary talent, which they will probably develop into commercial use. They will be energetic, ambitious and positive, and will probably develop very radical views about life in general. They will always have a large circle of friends.

You have a prohibitive temperament, and you are never really yourself except in negation. You are indefinite and casual in manner when you are telling what you may do, but you become firm and exact when you are telling what you may not do. If you would say "yes" and mean it with the same force with which you say "no," your pathways would be less uphill than they are now. You allow an element of pessimism to enter into your thoughts when you think about your capabilities or possibilities. You are almost a chronic doubter in regard to your own good fortunes. Your unlucky star lies in your mind and not in the heavens above.

You have plenty of energy, but you are extravagantly wasteful of it—you have not as yet learned how to use your mind to save your heels. You need to retard your accelerator and to mind the speed at which you as an individual can carry on with the most efficiency. You need to cultivate poise—both mental and physical. You have very set ways, and it is difficult for others to influence you. You are very close mouthed and you never betray a secret. You are careful with money, and show good judgment in its expenditure.

Successful people born March 4:
Rebecca Gratz, philanthropist.
Samuel Colman, artist.
Peter Moran, artist.
Carleton Wiggins, artist.
Samuel Cook Edsol, bishop.

Uncle Sam's Home Hints

STORAGE PLACES.

(U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

It is easier to keep a house in order if it is equipped with adequate storage facilities. "A place for everything and everything in its place" is a good old adage which, if heeded, saves time and strength. Less time is wasted in looking for misplaced articles if similar ones are stored together and if the contents of boxes, drawers and closets are suitably labeled or listed. Things that have outlived their usefulness should not be stored, even if there is ample space, for they simply add to the material that must be cared for without giving any service in return.

Such household storage places as attics, basements, cellars and sheds do not, of course, need to be so frequently or carefully put in order as the living rooms, but they should be gone over often enough to keep their contents in good condition and to prevent dirt from being carried from them into the other parts of the house.

The cellar or basement may be damp and therefore requires special care, both because things stored in it may spoil and because the quality of the air in its affects that all over the house. It should be regularly ventilated, preferably with a cross current of air, and open windows and doors should be screened against insects and in some cases against dirt. Unplastered walls should be whitewashed occasionally, because the light color reflects the light and the whitewash is a germicide. In most cases the boxes or shelves in which things are stored should not be set directly on the floor, but raised on racks or blocks of wood, to avoid dampness and mustiness. Old newspapers, magazines and paper boxes should not be stored here because they tend to absorb moisture.

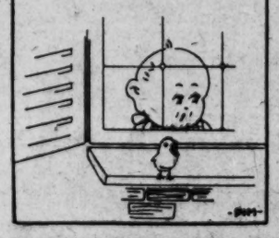
Compact and orderly arrangement in a clothes closet makes cleaning easier. Dresses, coats and like garments may be kept on hangers on a rod across the closet and shoes may be kept on a shelf near the floor of the closet. The clothes closet should be aired each day; leaving the door open every night is a good plan.

Occasionally everything stored in the closet should be taken out and floors, walls and shelves thoroughly cleaned. Dusty closets are likely to harbor moths.

Novena Tonight At St. Xavier.

A Novena of Grace will be held in honor of St. Francis Xavier beginning at 7:45 o'clock tonight through March 12 at St. Xavier Church, Twenty-seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast. The Rev. Joseph V. Buckley is pastor.

Baby Mine



It's a Piquant Mode That Combines

Moire and Pique

A most unusual and becoming frock . . . moire faille silk that is positively old-fashioned in its glorious heavy quality. Beautifully and simply fitted by a belt in back and inverted pleats in the skirt. For a final touch of sophistication . . . crisp, white pique collar and cuffs.

Daré INTERPRETS the MODE

Afternoon elegance expressed in black georgette, with stitched pleats and ecru lace incrustation. (Courtesy of Martial et Armand, Paris.)

Paris, March 3.

WHY is there something so antagonistic about the "lady with the lorgnette?" Oh, the lady with the lorgnette! You always want to slap her or kick her under the chin, and sort of half hope that the waiter will slide her ice cream off the dish down her back decolletage or something like that.

Yet the poor woman is actually probably nothing more or less than myopic, and hasn't the slightest idea of how her lorgnette attitude affects the bystanders.

Of course, to use a lorgnette as an accessory to elegance is too silly to even write about or against. But a lorgnette as a necessary substitute for glasses, to enable one to see, is another matter. I heartily recommend them, and they are one of the answers to "how can a lovely lady be lovely and wear glasses."

* * * *

But if you use a lorgnette you must know how to be graceful about it! Graceful and gracious, too, because one of the most detestable traits of the lorgnette-wielder is that of using her lorgnette as a sort of screen behind which she can stare to her heart's content, for all the world as though she thought no one could see HER behind her glasses!

And graceful means—well, why the necessity of the haughtily arched head in conjunction with the lifting of a lorgnette?

* * * *

Going about the business of being simple, naive and elegant, the Martial et Armand dress I sketched for you today is quite successful. Just black georgette with stitched pleats, and ecru lace encrusted on the cape-collar and on the sleeves—and a normal waistline, of course.

* * * *

"Pensez vous!" Which is French for—have you planned your new Easter ensemble, and if not, why not—make it yourself? Simplest thing in the world to do when you have the illustrated leaflet of directions! And it's no task to send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the leaflet.

You can buy a very inexpensive material to practice on, and then wear it for the deranging business of shopping, while you're making another one of really good material. Try it and see!

* * * *

'N there's such a charming version of a new dress hat developed in black satin, that I could just see it being worn with the black dress, so I sketched the hat for you, too!

* * * *

It isn't only elegance that we have to think of, but pocketbooks! Gone, but not forgotten, and still mourned, are the days of two and a half and three yards of material to make an evening dress. Today an evening gown requiring only four yards is considered a marvel of ingenuity on the part of the couturier, while fifteen and twenty yards are none too much to allow for in the case of some fine chiffons and tulles—shades of cleaners' bills, dressmakers' bills, wardrobe allowances!

* * * *

By the way, you'll find many interesting and helpful ideas in the weekly Dare fashion letter—in The Washington Post every Sunday.

Johnson Eyes Two Rookie Catchers

By FRANK H. YOUNG
(Staff Correspondent of The Post).

BILOXI, Miss., March 3.—With nothing expected of the pitchers at this early stage in their training period, Manager Walter Johnson is giving most of his attention to his young catchers, Gordon Phelps and Nelson Jester. Those lads, almost Washingtonians, as the first named hails from Bowie and the latter from Chincoteague, Va., are showing considerable promise, considerable promise.

Saturday and again this morning Jester, who claims to be an infielder as well as a backstopper, was given a chance to show his wares as a shortstop and displayed a fair game. He handles himself well, and both he and Phelps are fast despite the fact that they are carrying a poundage of close to 200.

Batting practice was on the schedule today, and while the pitchers were not allowed to use speed, both of the youngsters showed plenty of power and signs of possessing batting eyes. Of the two, Phelps has impressed more, Manager Johnson remarking today that he believed this lad has a future provided he can keep his weight down. His build is such that he will have to keep active the year round or soon be eligible to join the jolly fat men's club.

Players Enthused With Biloxi.

Biloxi seems to be wearing well on the players as training camp. When they first arrived they were not particularly enthused, largely because of the fact that the ball park is so far away from the hotel. All here seem to be used to this condition already. As to climate, the weather here is better than that of Florida for baseball training. It is warm enough, although there is a slight chill in the air, and this combination keeps the players full of life and pep. The continued work of Old Sol in the Alligator State, on the other hand, proved quite debilitating and the diamonders frequently were practically all in after a session, and sometimes appeared to be forcing themselves to do the necessary work.

Outfielder Goose Goslin continues to saw wood and say nothing in connection with his 1930 contract and gives every indication of intending becoming a real holdout, something the Nationals have not had in many moons. President Griffith admits that he has received no communications of any kind from the "Wild Goose of the Potomac" for several weeks. He also strongly avers that he does not intend making any more overtures to the player.

Spencer Silent Despite Ultimatum.

New Orleans has nothing on Biloxi in one respect, each having a Mardi Gras, with tomorrow being the big day. Nick Altrock and Al Schacht, the Nats clowns, have been named judges to select the funniest costumes and masks.

Pitcher Ad Liska signed his 1930 contract calling for a salary of $4,200 and a bonus of $800 if he wins ten games. Liska came up from Minneapolis after he finished the 1928 season with 20 victories and four defeats for the best 1928 record in the class AA circuit.

President Clark Griffith has not yet heard from the ultimatum laid down to Catcher Roy Spencer. If no acceptance of terms is received from the player by Thursday the Nat owner plans to slap on a $100 fine, to suspend the player and withdraw the offer already made. The suspension would make it necessary for Spencer to get himself into condition satisfactory to Manager Johnson at his own expense before he would be in good standing again.

NET LEAGUE MEETS.

The Capital City Tennis League, which had a successful season last year, will be reorganized next Monday night at the residence of the president, A. W. Grant, 3201 Fifteenth street northeast, at 8 o'clock. Teams which competed last year are requested to have two representatives in attendance and teams wishing to be admitted are invited to be represented. Unaffiliated players are urged to be present so that they may be assigned to teams.

HARRIS SHOWS ROOKIES HOW

Bush, Undaunted, Depends On Rookies to Boost Chisox

This is the second of a series of first-hand Associated Press stories on major league baseball prospects.

By GAYLE TALBOT, Jr.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 3 (A.P.).—Given anything like an even break with his young talent, Donie Bush, rotund new pilot of the Chicago White Sox, should put a team in the American League race capable of finishing several notches higher than last year's seventh-place unit.

That is, if a few of the youngsters like Victor Frasier, Irving Jeffries, Smead Jolly and Ernie Smith even approximate their promise, the Sox figure to be a tough club to beat. Bush does not predict a first-division team—it is too early for that—but he is far from discouraged at the prospect.

Just at present, Bush is entirely too absorbed in the task at hand to become exercised over the absence of Art Shires, the well-known first baseman.

Prepared to Proceed Without Shires.

Contrary to popular belief, he is losing absolutely no sleep over the great one's failure to sign a contract. He would like to have Shires on his ball club; concurs in the belief that Shires is quite a first baseman, and promises to give him "every chance" if and when he reports. There is the impression, however, that the Chicago White Sox are quite prepared to go on without him. Bud Clancy is on the ground and wants a first-basing job the worst way.

Incidentally, and officially, there is no chance of Shires reporting until he signs the contract offered him and makes his peace with Charles Comiskey. He still is a suspended player and will have to promise a number of things before he draws a uniform.

Also, the contract proffered him did not call for $11,000.

The remainder of the Sox infield promises to be well cared for. The veteran Willie Kamm is back at third, Chalmer Cissell definitely has been shifted from short to second, and a trio of hustlers are battling for the short field post.

Irving Jeffries, brilliant recruit from Dallas, of the Texas League, so far appears to have an edge on Ernie Smith, up from Birmingham, of the Southern, and Bill Hunnefield, veteran holdover. Jeffries, a converted third sacker, has made a great

Hitting the Baseball Trail

By BRIAN BELL.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 3 (A.P.).—Winter, returning to the lap of spring, today curtailed baseball operations along all fronts in Florida. With ten days of perfect behavior by the weather gods the baseball machinery was becoming well oiled when the weather monkey wrench was tossed in to cause a temporary slow-up.

The unexpected cold snap took some of the edge from the season's debut of Babe Ruth. The big slugger, although not signed to a contract for 1930 play, reported to Manager Bob Shawkey and took his place with the other Yankees in his first baseball workout of the year.

Carefully Guards His Valuable Hands.

The big fellow, wrapped in the generous folds of a sweatshirt which had no chance to perform its proper functions today, ran around a lot, played first base a little, threw a few balls and went to bat a dozen times. He carefully guarded his valuable hands, not yet even mildly accustomed to swinging a bat, and made no effort to hit a ball hard. The Babe opened to a smaller gallery than usual, only the hardened fans turning out.

The Yankee workout was somewhat abbreviated on account of the cold weather. "Uncle Wilbert" Robinson, manager of the Brooklyn Robins, took a weather observation early in the day and decided that his players could best keep warm by working, so he ordered two practice periods instead of the one his previous spring schedule has called for. He announced that two workouts would be the order of each day until the exhibition games start.

Arthur Vance, the "dazzler" of the Brooklyn pitching staff, gave a tip to the youngsters on the squad when he ran around the big baseball field at Clearwater an even dozen times. The strike-out star exercised his legs instead of his arms and refrained from throwing a baseball at either practice.

Harris Guards Tigers Against Colds.

Stanley Harris, manager of the Detroit Tigers, nursed a cold at Tampa and told his athletes to be careful in an effort to avoid falling victim to the sudden change in the weather. The Tigers worked harder than ever today, probably for the reason that the only comfortable persons in the field were those in motion.

Robert R. (Fats) Fothergil, pinch hitter extraordinary of the Tigers, was among the players reporting today. Fothergil, who carries plenty of weight to keep him warm, laughed at the weather as his fellows shivered.

Managers, trainers and players of the major league clubs all rushed to the defense of the abused weather man. They said in his defense that he could be pardoned today's slip in view of his exemplary conduct since the annual baseball invasion began.

Miami Body to Ignore Protest of Johnston

Miami, March 3 (A.P.).—The Sharkey-Scott fight decision today remained just as much of a closed chapter in the annals of the Miami Boxing Commission as it was Saturday before Jimmy Johnston, Phil Scott's manager, announced he would seek to have Referee Lou Magnolia's license revoked for deciding in favor of Jack Sharkey, American heavyweight title contender.

The boxing commission, it was learned, will not take any action on Johnston's complaint. The manager maintained that Magnolia told him, while Scott was lying on the floor, after his first complaint of foul, that he would disqualify Sharkey.

Alabama Five Meets Duke In Finals

Blue Devils Triumph Over Kentucky in Semifinals.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 3 (A.P.).—Alabama and Duke earned the right to compete in the final game for the Southern Conference basket-ball championship tonight by defeating Tennessee and Kentucky in the semifinals of the annual tournament.

Alabama overshadowed the Volunteers from the start, to gain a 32-to-22 victory, while Duke was more closely pressed to defeat Kentucky, 37 to 32. Duke was a finalist also last year, losing in the championship game to North Carolina State, which met defeat in the first test of the current tournament.

The final game will be played tomorrow night.

Faust scored a field goal for Tennessee shortly after play started, and Corbitt and Greenblott following with shots from the field to give the volunteers a 6 to 1 lead after five minutes play. Hood had made a foul shot for Alabama.

Laney bagged a couple for Alabama but Corbitt countered with a field goal for Tennessee. Hood made good another foul shot but Corbitt sank another from the field. Wamby scored a field goal for Alabama and Smith followed with another. Faust sank one for Tennessee and followed with another, making the score stand 15 to 12 in favor of Tennessee.

Smith sank two foul shots and Hood sank a field goal to place Alabama in the lead, 16 to 15, for the first time during the game. Smith grabbed one off the backboards to count another two points and give Alabama the lead at the half 18 to 15.

Purdue Beats Michigan, Clinching Court Crown

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 3 (A.P.).—Purdue University Basket Ball Team won the undisputed championship of the Western Conference here tonight by defeating Michigan, 44 to 28, in the Wolverines' last home game of the season.

Johnny Wooden put the Boilermakers in the lead with a field goal during the first ten seconds of the game and they never were headed. "Stretch" Murphy and Glen Harmeson went on a scoring spree and between them made enough points to win the game.

The victory game Prudue a clean slate in the conference race with one game remaining on the Riveters' schedule.

BOTH QUALITIES ARE NOT FOUND IN ONE BALL
What points should a golfer take into consideration in choosing the proper type of ball to play with?
Answered By
ABE G. ESPINOSA
One of America's Leading Professionals. Western Open Champion, 1928. Chicago District Open, 1928.
There are many prices and qualities of balls on the market. If a player does not have to consider economy in a ball he should select one with good wearing qualities—in other words a tough cover—and that is lively as well. If a player has to consider price he must decide whether he wants a good wearing ball or one that is active. Both qualities do not go together in a cheap ball.

SOUTH'S RING HONORS TO FLORIDA

V. M. I. Is Second and Tulane Third in Tournament.

Special to The Washington Post.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 3. Florida won the Southern Conference boxing tournament here tonight, scoring 13 points to 11 for Virginia Military Institute. Tulane was third with 10 points and North Carolina fourth with 6 points. Virginia and Georgia each scored five points and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Duke brought up the rear with three points apiece.

Seven new Southern Conference boxing champions from five institutions emerged from the finals, in which 12 teams were entered. Two of last year's champions were toppled from their thrones—Southgate Martin, the slugging bantam from Duke University, and Capt. Archie Allen, of the University of North Carolina.

Minardi, of Florida, started the evening by taking the bantamweight title from Martin, of Duke. The Gator outpointed last year's champion in every round. From the beginning he solved the attack of his opponent which had carried the Carolinian to victory in the early matches of the tournament.

Russell Defeats Fowler.

The featherweight title went to Capt. Russell, of Georgia, who clearly outboxed Towler, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

In last year's tournament Russell fought his way to the finals, having six fights in two days.

The lightweight scrap brought two favorites into the ring—Capt. Phil O'Connell, of Florida, and Noah Goodridge, of North Carolina. The Gator representative won the decision after an extra round, his second conference crown in two years. The Tarheel's crouching tactics could not stop the well-directed blows of his opponent, who bored in almost at will to land telling blows which gradually wore down his opponent.

The outstanding fight of the night's program was in the welterweight division in which Capt. Bob Rainey, of Virginia, outclassed Capt. Archie Allen, of North Carolina, to cop the

Dempsey Announces Plans for Comeback

Cleveland, March 3 (A.P.).—Jack Dempsey, former world heavyweight champion, announced definitely here today he would fight again for the championship in the event that Max Schmeling should defeat Jack Sharkey in June and provided Dempsey can reach fighting condition again. The former "Tiger of the Ring" was in Cleveland to act as master of ceremonies at the Ohio Sportsmen's Show.

Dempsey said he believes Schmeling is overrated and that Sharkey can defeat the German. If this belief proves true, Dempsey said his "comeback" plans would be abandoned.

TECH LEADER TO RECEIVE LETTER

MacCartee Will Get Award Despite Rule on Robey.

DESPITE the refusal of Eastern High School authorities to award Joe Robey a varsity basket ball letter for the 1929-30 season because he played with an independent team before the close of Eastern's court campaign, Principal Frank Daniels, of Tech, last night announced that Capt. Carl MacCartee, of the championship Tech Five, would be given his letter, although guilty of the same offense that kept Robey from receiving his award.

MacCartee two weeks ago played with an outside team and the following day was declared ineligible for further participation with the Tech Five.

Violation Was Unintentional.

In announcing his decision, however, Daniels stated that MacCartee had not intentionally violated the rule prohbiting high school players from performing with outside teams before their school had finished its season and should not, therefore, be deprived of his rightfully earned award. MacCartee was granted permission to play in the game by his coach the day before, and was ignorant of the fact that he was committing a misdemeanor.

Robey had not sought permission to play in the game, by which he became automatically ineligible.

Opposes Naugatuck, Defending Champions, Today.

Special to The Washington Post.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 3.—Western High School, of Washington, D. C., advanced to the third round in the high school division of the tenth annual University of Pennsylvania interscholastic basket ball tournament here today. Western started as if on a rampage and administered a 40-to-31 defeat to Raleigh (N. C.) High, runner-up for the State crown. It was the second defeat of the season for the losing combination.

With its offensive and defensive play at full strength, Western piled up 18 points in the first ten minutes before their rivals scored their first marker. The Southern Quintet braced starting the second quarter and outscored the victors, but could not overcome the early disadvantage. Western led at half time, 28 to 17.

Everett Buscher was the scoring luminary for the winning aggregation. He caged six field goals and one foul for a total of 13 points. Four of his field goals came in the first half. Freeman collected four twin counters and Summers, a substitute, three.

Western Favored In Game Today.

Western is scheduled to play tomorrow at 3 p. m., and will have a stern test. Its opposition will be Naugatuck High, defending champion in the High School division.

Although Naugatuck landed its opening game today without too much of a struggle, it did not look too impressive and Western is favored to win. The title holders have only one member of last year's squad back.

Tech Faces Fracksville In Tourney Debut Today

Tech High, interhigh basket ball champion for the last two years, will play its first game in Penn tournament competition at Philadelphia today against the Fracksville High Five of Pennsylvania. The Maroon and Gray will be the last of the three local high schools entered in the tournament to get into action, Central and Western having played their initial games last Saturday.

As was the case of Western, it will be Tech's debut before Pennsylvania fans, the Maroon and Gray never having entered the post-season classic before.

Not exactly the same team that took the local honors will be presented in the tournament, however, as Tech will be missing its most important link in the championship chain with MacCartee, banned captain, unable to patricipate.

Artie Boyd, the Tech coach, has not been exactly idle, however, in an effort to plug this gap and at present, has one of the stars of his 1929 team playing bang-up ball with the team, Edgar Johnson, '29 regular but ineligible throughout the championship series this year, has regained his eligibility and will peform for Tech at Penn.

Certain combinations present themselves, but the one most logical for Boyd to use appears to be, Johnson and Russell, forwards; Lassise and Oiverson, guards; and Johns, center.

Central, the third Washington team entered, will not resume tournament play until Wednesday night at 7 o'clock, when it meets the winner of the Hagerstown High-Westbury game. In its first game, Central swamped the Stroudsburg High Team, 36 to 7.

Tilden, in Rare Form, Wins Over Austin, British Star

MONTE CARLO, March 3 (A.P.).—Bill Tilden, although 37 years of age, is still good enough to take on two of the greatest players in the world in successive days and beat them both in straight sets.

In the final of the Monte Carlo singles championship today he trimmed Henry Austin, of England, by scores of 6—4, 6—4, 6—1, demonstrating his superiority as decisively as he did in eliminating the Italian star, Baron H. L. de Morpurgo, yesterday.

The American champion's service again was a powerful weapon against Austin, the ranking English star being unable to break through for a single game. The veteran also proved better able to adapt his game to the peculiar weather conditions. Throughout the match the courts were swept by a terrific wind which affected Tilden's fierce drives little, but blew Austin's gentler returns yards outside on some occasions.

Tilden was never in the slightest danger of losing the match and the nine games that Austin was able to win were scattered. The Englishman managed to take one more game than De Morpurgo did yesterday, however.

Tennis followers who saw Tilden deal successively with the puzzling styles of De Morpurgo, who is ranked ninth among the world's great players, and Austin, No. 7, in the same list, declared Tilden has never played better in Europe in recent years. Last season, it was recalled, De Morpurgo forced him hard in a hotly contested five set match.

In subduing the Italian and English Davis Cup aces Tilden has beaten the two best European players now competing on the courts of the continent except the French and justified his own present world ranking of third behind Cochet and Lacoste just when most critics thought he was slipping.

Fields Suffers Broken Leg In Mishap

Leishman Sustains a Broken Collar Bone Also in 1st Race.

Get Goin's Fall Is the Cause; Shack Destroyed.

MIAMI, Fla., March 3 (A.P.).—Featured by a series of spills that resulted in the injuring of six jockeys, the closing week of thoroughbred racing at Hialeah Park was ushered in today.

The most serious of the three accidents occurred in the first race, when Robert Leishman, contract rider for W. J. Salmon; George Fields, well known New York jockey, and F. Halbert went down in a heap. Leishman and Fields were rushed to a hospital, the former with a broken collar bone and minor injuries, and the latter with a broken leg. Halbert escaped with only slight bruises.

Get Goin,' with Halbert in the saddle, and Janie G., with Fields aboard, were the first of the trio of juvenile thoroughbreds to fall. Leishman, who was following close behind on General Keeps, made an attempt to clear the fallen horses, but failed. The Salmon rider was tossed along with the other two jockeys beneath the flying hoofs of the remainder of the field. All three boys were knocked unconscious, but Halbert quickly recovered.

Renick and McCoy Also Hurt.

The second accident took place in the third race, when Baby Blimp, S. Renick up, stepped in a hole and Theolax, with J. McCoy stride, fell over her. Both boys were taken to the track's emergency hospital. Renick recovering to ride Your Play to a surprising victory in the sixth race.

Ballot Girl started the last of the accidents, when she jumped on Shack at the clubhouse turn. In the mixup Ballot Girl fell, throwing Jackey Dick Townrow heavily to the ground. Shack broke down and was destroyed. Townrow was not seriously hurt.

The fourth race, a gallop of a mile and a sixteenth, topped the card of claiming events. It was won by Nursery Rhymes, the favorite, with Blade second and Shepherdess third.

Bill Morris, Lame, Loses First Race of Turf Career

New Orleans, March 3 (A.P.).—Bill Morris, a king in the juvenile turf realm, bowed his head in defeat for the first time in his short racing career as Prince d'Amour created a new 3-furlong track record in winning the Louisiana Juvenile Stakes and $3,425 at the Fair Grounds today.

But the big brown colt from the stable of Knebelkamp & Morris went down to his initial defeat in five starts with a perfect alibi. After displaying a gameness seldom seen on the turf, the champion pulled up lame. Even while parading before the grand stand preceding the race, the colt was noticed to be favoring his right hind leg. Upon his return to be unsaddled the youngster appeared to be limping more than ever and judging from the manner in which he returned to his stable, it probably will be some time before he is seen under colors again.

Even with Bill Morris lame, Prince D'Amour ran a great race, clipping one-fifth of a second off the old track record made by Miss Minerva in 1922. His time was 34 2-5 seconds.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—PRINCE D'AMOUR, $8.30, $3.90, $3.80; LAURA NEGLEY, $26.30, 19.20; SCHOONER, $5.20.

PRINCE D'AMOUR, breaking fast, moved into the lead and, displaying a brilliant order of speed, easily held away to the end. LAURA NEGLEY followed in closest pursuit of the pace and held on well. SCHOONER raced prominently all the way and had no mishaps. BILL MORRIS appeared sore going to the post and was unable to keep up. DICK WEIDEL raced evenly.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,200; allowances. The Hamilton Canada Goodwill. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:17½. Off at 4:19½. Winner, Mrs. O. Chaney's b. c. (4), by Sand Mole—Clover. Trained by O. Chaney. Value to winner, $850; second, $200; third, $100; fourth, $50. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MOLE HILL, $16.80, $6.10, $3.50; DISTURB, $4.50, $3.50; KLINGSTONE, $3.20.

MOLE HILL, going in his best form, raced reservedly off the early pace until the stretch, where he moved up fast and, overhauling the leaders, won going away. DISTURB displayed the most speed in pacemaking and held on well after being headed to save the place. KLINGSTONE moved up stoutly on the inside entering the stretch, but tiring slightly in the final drive.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse, $1,000; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good. Won easily; place, driving. Went to post at 4:52. Off at 4:54½. Winner, W. L. Johnson's b. g. 14 QUINTETS ENTER W. & L. TOURNEY

Only Sixteen to Play This Year; Starts Thursday.

Special to The Washington Post.

LEXINGTON, Va., March 3.—The list of entrants for the Seventh Annual Scholastic Basket Ball Tournament, to be contested in Doremus Gym, Washington and Lee University, here, on March 6, 7, and 8, was today swelled to fourteen with the acceptance by the tournament committee of the application of Fishersville (Va.) High School, Danville (Va.) Military Institute and Charleston (S. C.) High School.

The tournament committee plans to hold the entries down to a smaller number than previous years by the exclusion of participants who have not won 50 per cent or more of their games. It is hoped that the entry list can be held to sixteen teams.

Of the teams entered to date, Massanutten Military Academy, of Woodstock, Va., appears to have the best record, winning eleven of their twelve games. Franklin and Marshall Frosh marred the Cadets' record with a 54-34 win.

Norfolk Team Has Impressive Record.

A newcomer to the tourney, St. Mary's Male Academy, Norfolk, Va., also has a strong team with 21 victories in 24 starts. The Norfolk team scored 862 points to their opponents' 470.

Greenbrier Military Institute, Lewisburg, W. Va., with a record to date of thirteen out of fifteen games won, figures as a strong contender for tournament honors. Several more applications received before the close of entries, Friday, February 28, will be considered by the tournament committee.

Millen, Forest Hills, Long Island, star; Craig Biddle, Peacedale, R. I., an internationalist, and Karl H. Rodges, St. Louis, ranked by the Missouri Valley Association.

POTOMACS VS. EASTERN PREP

Potomac Boat Club and Pontiac A. C. Fives tonight will resume efforts to reach a decision in a game at Eastern High School Gymnasium, starting at 9 o'clock. In their previous meeting two weeks ago, Rice, guard, of Pontiac, was injured in the third quarter, and Potomac, although leading, 16 to 10, agreed to call off the game as Pontiac was left with only four players. Rice will play tonight.

HOLD 3-BALL TOURNEY.

To finance the trip of a representative team to the national duckpin tournament at Waterbury, Conn., the Knights of Columbus League will hold a three-ball tournament at Convention Hall tomorrow from 1 p. m. to 1 a. m. The Cornell Lunch Team will continue its similar affair at the Coliseum all day today and tonight.

BAKER PINMEN MEET.

The Rice Team of Bakery Bowling League will meet the Rice Team of Baltimore at Convention Hall Saturday night in the second five-game block of a match started at Baltimore last week. The local team gained a 94-pin lead in the first block.

OSLO SKIER WINS.

Oslo, Norway, March 3 (A.P.).—Gunnard Anderson, of Oslo, defeated the greatest ski-jumpers of Europe today in a contest billed as the world's championship. Reid Anderson another Norwegian, was second.

Mutuel Closing Time Earlier in Maryland

Special to The Washington Post.

Baltimore, Md., March 3.—Beginning with the opening of the Maryland turf season on April 1, at Bowie, the speculative fans will have to wager earlier, according to a new rule promulgated by the Maryland Racing Commission. The rule governs when the parimutuel ring shall be closed on all the tracks. In the future the closing bell will be rung when the last horse passes the judges' stand, and the bell will be operated from the judges' stand instead of from the parimutuel department. Previously the bell was not rung until after the lead pony reached the starting point.

When starts are made at various intervals in the home stretch the bell will ring as the last horse crosses the finish line, but when the starts are made on the back stretch the bell will not be sounded until the horses return past the grand stand and the last passes the judges' stand.

D. C. Enters 31 Teams In National Pin Tourney

Thirty-one of the 163 teams listed to compete in the third anual National Duckpin Bowling Congress tournament at Waterbury, Conn., starting next Tuesday, will represent Washington and suburban areas. Twenty men's teams have been enlisted from the Capital and environs, it was announced yesterday, and eleven women's teams have been entered from this section.

Although the number of team and individual entries from this section does not rival those of the past two years, practically every outstanding man and women bowler in this section will compete in team, double and single events.

MEN'S.

G. W. and Hopkins List Swimming Meet

George Washington University will engage Johns Hopkins in a swimming meet at the Ambassador Hotel pool on March 17 or 18, it was announced yesterday at the G. W. athletic office. Definite selection of the date will be made this week. This will be the third swimming contest of the season for the Colonial natators, a home-and-home series already having been arranged with Catholic University. Next Tuesday George Washington will visit the C. U. pool, and on March 19 the Cardinal Team will return the visit at the Ambassador.

Coach Max Farrington is holding nightly practice sessions for the G. W. swimmers. At persent he has a squad of likely varsity material composed of Longfellow, Strauss and Connelly in the dashes; Polkinhorn, 440; Hoffman, Whitehouse and Adams, breast stroke; Hoffman, backstroke; Amos and Strauss, fancy diving, and English, Longfellow, Connelly and Thompson, relay.

Daytona Beach Speed Trials Get New Entries

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 3 (A. P.).—A Diesel-engined roadster entered by C. L. Cummings, of Indianapolis, will be brought here for the Daytona Beach speed trials March 15-30, Val Harnesnape, director, announced tonight. He said also that Kay Don, British racer, would bring a 2,500-horsepower Sunbeam.

Shorty Cantlon, Michigan racer, will drive a Miller special racer in the 183-inch displacement class, seeking to lower records now held by Don. The car is entered by the Schofield Engineering Co., of Los Angeles, under management of William White, Hollywood sportsman.

Cliff Bergere, sixth ranking driver of last year, has wired an entry for a front-drive Miller, to attempt new records in the 91-inch class.

Army Medico Quintet Wins Sectional Title

The Army Medico Five won the northern championship of the Third Corps Area last night by trouncing the Tanks Corps passers from Fort Meade at the Hyattsville Armory, 27 to 19. The victory sent the Medicoes into the Third Corps final game which will be played at Fortress Monroe, Va., next Saturday, against Langley Field, winner of the southern championship.

Off to a slight lead, the Medicos were tied before intermission at 12-all and had to put on a spirited rally in the second half to outdistance the hard-playing Tankers. Hodson's two spectacular shots in the final period gave the Tank Team momentary hopes, but they came too late.

Lawnicki and Brown stood out in the Medico defense. Daine, Swarkola, Patterson and Hobson also performed brilliantly.

GRAYS AND FRENCH MEET.

United Typewriter Grays and the French A. C. will meet at 9 o'clock tonight in the Silver Spring Armory in an Independent Pro League contest. In a preliminary, the Woltz Photographers will meet the Business Whirlwinds at 8 o'clock.

POTOMACS WEIGH IN TONIGHT.

Manager Finion, of the Potomac A. C., requests the following to report at 7:30 tonight at the Boys Club to be weighed in for the A. A. U. basket ball tournament: Ager, F. Rosenbaum, R. Rosenbaum, N. Rosenbaum, A. Rosenbaum, Fawcettt, Spivake, Kinnahan, Fifer and Wilson.

MONROE NINE RETURNS.

Edward D. Coleman, manager of the Monroe A. C., announced last night that members of the Coleman White Sox and old Monroe A. C. Nines will perform under the Monroe colors this season and not with any other team.

SALLY AND ILLANA HAD BEEN WHISKED AWAY TO MARS IN THE SPACE SHIP OF THE TIGER MEN. BUT WHAT COULD WE DO ABOUT IT? I SPENT LONG HOURS IN THOUGHT.
WHY CAN'T WE BUILD A SPACE SHIP? INERTRON, WHICH LIFTS OUR SHIPS AND OF WHICH WE MAKE OUR JUMPING BELTS, WOULD REPEL GRAVITY ON MARS AS ON EARTH, AND——
OUR ROCKET MOTORS WORK BETTER IN VACUUM THAN AIR. WE COULD STEER WITH THEM AND ATTAIN TERRIFIC SPEED IN OUTER SPACE; THEN "COAST" ALONG WITH NO GRAVITY OR AIR FRICTION TO SLOW US DOWN.
ROARING ROCKETS! THERE'S NO REASON WHY WE CAN'T DO IT! WE'LL SHOW THESE MARTIANS WHO'S WHO IN THIS SOLAR SYSTEM!

RAILS PROVE FIRM AS STOCKS DECLINE

STEEL SHARES HEAVIER

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—The stock market turned distinctly reactionary under the pressure of heavy selling at times during today's trading session, but professional operators for the advance made vigorous efforts to stem the tide, and were partially successful. Losses were in the majority at the close, however, a score of important industrials and utilities ending the day 1 to 5 points lower.

Rails held fairly steady, the oils gave a better account of themselves than they have of late, and the tobaccos and several low-priced specialties were bid substantially higher. Steel shares, however, were conspicuously heavy. The bullish enthusiasm for the amusement stocks appeared to have waned for the moment at least, and several important utilities gave up part of their recent advances. Trading was in the largest volume since the last abrupt break in the market, which occurred February 20, and was particularly heavy when the market was declining. Transactions aggregated 3,634,260 shares. The index of 90 leading stocks, however, declined only 6-10 of one point, compared to 3 4-10 February 20.

Business news and analyses appearing over the week-end were not of a character to clarify the rather murky outlook for the near future. The market appeared to reflect speculative uncertainty with the beginning of the new month, a month in which the trends of spring business usually appear in fairly clear outline. The statement by Secretary of Commerce Lamont that he expected business would return to normal within two months was somewhat reassuring.

Steel Output Declines.

On the other hand, trade reports indicating that the steel business had a little of the vigor of recent weeks tended to inspire caution. The National City Bank, in its monthly survey of economic conditions, pointed out, furthermore, "that business in general has lagged behind the steel industry," and concluded, "the situation still lacks balance, and it is not clear as to how soon full recovery can be expected."

U. S. Steel lost more than 4 points. Gulf States was depressed more than 3 points by abandonment of the merger negotiations with American Rolling Mill. Rolling Mill is selling on a higher earnings ratio basis, and a favorable exchange offer had been hoped for by many Gulf States stockholders. Bethlehem Steel lost 2 points.

American Telephone sold up more than a point to a new peak price for 1930 at 243¼, in response to publication of its annual report, showing the Bell system the first $4,000,000,000 commercial enterprise in the world, and earnings on American Telephone stock of $12.57 a share on the capitalization of December 31. The stock soon reacted, however, and closed with a net loss of a couple of points. American Water Works lost 2 and Standard Gas 3 points. Electric Power & Light and Columbia Gas, however, reached a new high for the year and closed with small net gains while American Power & Light sold up 5 points to a new peak and closed up 4.

Such recent favorites among leading industrials as American Can, Eastman Kodak and Westinghouse Electric lost more than 2 points each, and Johns-Manville nearly 4. Auburn Auto lost nearly 5, and Radio, Radio Keith, Paramount and Warner Bros., a point or so.

Merchandising Shares Firmer.

Merchandising shares were firmer, Montgomery Ward rallying a couple of points. Among the lower priced specialties, Commercial Solvents, the Curtiss Wright issues, Eureka Vacuum and Oliver Farm equipment reached new high levels for the movement. Oils were firmer in response to more favorable California production figures.

A further break in wheat futures was not unexpected in view of the smart rally from the recent lows, but contributed to the unsettlement on the stock market. Closing prices were 2⅝ to 4¾ cents lower. The modification of the Farm Board buying plan was regarded as a dominant factor in the wheat market.

Corn lost about a cent, and cotton futures declined 55 to 85 cents a bale.

Credit conditions were easy, with call loans at 4 per cent at the loan post, and available at 3½ per cent outside. Foreign exchanges generally sagged. Which led to further talk of a lower discount rate to prevent any disturbance of London's gold supply. Sterling cables reached 4.85⅞, a new low for 1930. The Spanish peseta was further depressed, reaching a new low level at 11.96 cents. Some of the Far Eastern exchanges were buoyed by the Chinese plan to impose an import duty on silver.

RAIL BONDS CLIMB IN DULL TURNOVER

Telephone 4½s Prove to Be Active but Lose Before Close.

REPUBLIC IRON DECLINES

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—Dullness characterized the trading in all groups of bonds today. The general undertone was firm, but inquiry was light. Rails averaged a trifle higher.

The money markets were plentifully supplied with funds. Time accommodations eased in the shorter maturities, while call loans held at the renewal figure of 4 per cent. However, the demand for money of either description was small. Bankers expressed the opinion that interest rates would be virtually unaffected by the income tax payments on March 15.

Transactions in Government bonds were inconsequential, suggesting a quiet Saturday rather than a full five-hour session. Gains matched losses in the net changes, running close to one-sixteenth of a point in either direction. Although the terms of the mid-month Treasury financing have not been announced, it is believed in some quarters that the Government will finance entirely with a low-coupon certificate, postponing an additional offering of the discount bills. The maturing treasuries bear 5½ per cent interest.

French Republic 7s Gain.

French Republic 7s finished with a flourish, rising to 116¾, a new high for the year. The 7½s were more active, but failed to move appreciably. Belgium 8s advanced a point. British 5½s moved within the unusually wide range of 1⅜, but closed at the bottom, 102⅝, for a small net loss.

Last week's favorites again led the convertible group. American Telephone 4½s touched 162¼, a high for the year, at the peak of the stock's strength and then steadily declined for a 1¾-point net loss. The other active issue was the Parmelee Transportation 6 which also made a 1930 record price of 86⅜. The close was at the top and represented a gain of 1⅞. Missouri Pacific 5½s rose a point.

Investment rails gave a rather dull performance. Nickel Plate "A" 5½s, Missouri, Kansas, Texas prior lien 5s, Northern Pacific prior lien 4s, and Great Northern 7s were firm. Pennsylvania 6½s touched 109 and then slipped back for a decline of ⅜. Canadian National 5s lost ⅞. Erie 5s moved narrowly on the announcement that the road was planning a $50,000,000 long term issue of the same coupon, to be held in the treasury until favorable terms were obtainable. Ulster & Delaware 5s, stamped, slumped more than 2 points to a new 1930 low.

Industrial List Eases.

The industrials eased. Armour Real Estate 4½s sagged to a minimum for the year. Republic Iron & Steel 5s lost a point, but Dorillard 7s advanced by the same amount to score a new high at 109. Goodrich 6½s and Goodyear 5s were firm.

Several utilities attracted attention while the upward movement in stocks of that group was under way. International Telephone 5s were the favorites, but made no gain on the day. Specialties were featured by a rise of nearly 3 points in the Pathe 7s without warrants.

The American & Foreign Power Co.'s $50,000,000 bond issue is being offered tomorrow. The securities are debentures 5s with a 100-year maturity and will be sold at 90. Proceeds are to be used for retiring current indebtedness and other corporate purpose.

Other new offerings scheduled for Tuesday include a $6,000,000 issue of Louisiana 5 per cent highway bonds, maturing 1931 to 1950, priced to yield 4.50 per cent.

TELEPHONE INCOME GAINS $95,000,000

World's First $4,000,000,000 Corporation Earned $12.67 Per Share.

LAST YEAR SETS RECORD

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

The annual report of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., made public yesterday, stated that for the system as a whole, revenues from local exchange service increased $47,000,000 or 7.3 per cent over the previous year and those from toll and long distance service increased $45,000,000 or 14.5 per cent. The increase in total operating revenues was $95,000,000 or 9.8 per cent.

Total plant and other assets at the end of the year amounted to $4,228,000,000, making it the world's first $4,000,000,000 corporation. Net earnings were at the rate of 6.8 per cent on the cost of plant and other assets. Over one-half of the present telephone plant of the Bell System has been constructed during the last five years.

Measured by the number of telephones added to the national network, about 900,000, the largest in any year, by the amount of money expended for growth and service improvement, 1929 was a record year in the history of the Bell System, according to the report in which President Walter S. Gifford tells the 469,801 stockholders the result of operations last year.

Stockholders Increase 15,205.

Stockholders increased 15,205 during the year and the average number of shares of capital stock outstanding was 13,113,746. Net earnings per share available for dividends were $12.67, the corresponding figure for 1928 being $12.11 per share.

Important developments affecting the Indian Motorcycle Co. are expected to be announced within the next few days. Recent activity in shares of this company on the "big board" has attracted unusual attention the past week.

According to officials of the company, which has been under new management for several months, indications are that the current year sales will amount to more than $5,500,000, which it is claimed is a conservative estimate of net profit of more than $3 a share.

W. R. Winslow Reelects Officers.

At the recent annual meeting, stockholders of W. R. Winslow Co. reelected the following officers, all of whom serve as trustees; W. R. Winslow, president; Joseph C. Klinge, secretary; L. A. Smithers, treasurer.

Copies of a tentative constitution for the Ticker Club, proposed mutual cooperative and protective association of the sixteen local financial houses having membership in the New York Stock Exchange have been forwarded to their home officers for approval.

Following the closing of a large contract for stainless steel forgings from the Industrial Alloy Corporation, Transue & Williams have just closed an order to furnish Austin cars with crank shafts.

Since January 1 the company's business has shown an increase as compared to January, 1929. During 1929 net income of the company amounted to $3.26 per common share as compared to $2.26 per share for the previous year. The book value of the company was $34 per share last year as compared to $31.90 the previous year.

Col. Grayson M.-P. Murphy, head of the firm of G. M.-P. Murphy & Co., is visiting the company's local offices this week.

Capitol Title & Guarantee Officers.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Capitol Title & Guarantee Co. yesterday present officers and directors of the corporation were requested to continue in office until a future meeting at which time a report will be heard from a special committee having in charge negotiations for a further extension of the company's business and field of operations.

The committee is composed of the following stockholders: James S. Barbour, William J. Latimer, Daniel Ellison, Harry Watten Scheidt and Edward W. Wickey. Officers of the company are Maj. Julius I. Peyser, president; Louis A. Dent, vice president; Elliot H. Thomson, secretary-treasurer; Don R. Hutchinson, assistant treasurer. Directors are Morris Cafritz, Louis A. Dent, Fred McKee, Maj. Peyser, John H. Duncan, William H. McNeal, William S. Quinter, W. Clark Taylor, Eliot H. Thomson, W. Meade Holladay and Carey L. Meredith.

NEW YORK COTTON.

New York, March 3 (A.P.).—Cotton was generally lower today under liquidation or reselling by recent buyers who were evidently influenced by the renewed weakness of wheat, further decline in silver and reports that sales of fertilizer tags in the South up to the first of March were in excess of last year. May contracts after selling at 15.30 early, declined to 15.13 and closed at 15.16. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 11 to 17 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 1 point to a decline of 8 points. There was some buying of near months on the relatively steady showing of Liverpool, but it was very soon supplied. Sentiment appeared to be unsettled by the change announced in the policies of the Farm Board with reference to purchases of wheat and the weakness of the wheat market. This was reflected by some local and Western selling, and while offerings were comparatively light, the market seemed to be attracting very little support. March sold off to 14.85 and October to 15.48 during the early afternoon, or about 15 to 16 points net lower, but closing quotations were a few points up from the lowest with near months relatively steady in the late trading on covering.

According to reports received here from New Orleans sales of fertilizer tags up to first of March in nine Southern States aggregated 1,434,000 tons, compared with 1,156,869 last year and 1,671,271 two years ago. There appeared to be some selling on these figures, while a private report stating that preliminary prospects pointed to a decrease of 3 to 6 per cent in acreage also came in for some bearish comment. Trading in new contracts continued relatively quiet, but there seemed to be more disposition to switch from old to new contracts at a difference of 19 points on October and December and about 15 to 17 points in the case of January.

Selling on the fertilizer tax sale figures and the reports of only a moderate reduction in acreage was dominant the late months, which were relatively easy in the late trading. At the close May was 32 points under old October, compared with 36 points at the close Saturday.

Liverpool cables said that covering and buying for a reaction had absorbed continental and Bombay selling in that market but complained of a poor business in cotton cloths and yarns and said that order lists were running down.

Exports today, 22,366, making 5,470,254 so far this season. Port receipts, 11,127. United States port stocks, 2,120,445.

On the Rules of Traffic
By WILLIAM ULLMAN

The sound of a siren on a fire engine, police car, or ambulance is the motorist's cue to stop. The District of Columbia traffic regulations are quite specific on the point. These emergency vehicles have unquestioned right-of-way under all circumstances.

Giving chase to emergency vehicles, often a strong temptation, also is prohibited by the regulations which specify that no vehicle shall approach within one city block of any fire apparatus or other such vehicle while in use.

Example: A motorist is proceeding out Massachusetts avenue when he hears the siren of fire apparatus from behind. The street being wide, he pulls over near the curb and proceeds along at a slow pace, assuming the emergency vehicles to have plenty of space to pass. He has violated the law, which requires that he stop and wait for the apparatus to go by.

THE DAILY LEGAL RECORD

COURT OF APPEALS.

ARLINGTON ZONING CHANGES ARE MADE

Citizens of Lyon Village Victorious in Their Protest.

NEW RULES PROPOSED

BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Citizens of Lyon Village were yesterday victorious in their protest over the zoning of that area along the Lee highway opposite Lyon Village, from Cranada terrace to a point below Rucker avenue, opposite the site for which a permit has been granted to Mrs. Marie Clark Bell for a gasoline station, when the county board of supervisors changed the classification of that section from commercial to residential.

It was pointed out by the board that Mrs. Bell still will have the privilege of exercising the permit for a period of 90 days. Should this be the case, the gasoline station would still be allowed, but if at any time it became vacant and remained so for two years it could not again be reopened.

Further consideration was given the citizens of Lyon Village when, upon the recommendation of Supervisor B. M. Hedrick, that section lying along Wilson boulevard, from Oak street to Virginia avenue, was changed from commercial to residential. It is provided in this change that the four corners at each point remain in the commercial area.

Considering a proposed ordinance prior to its first adoption, the section lying just below the Highway Bridge, which had been zoned residential, was changed, upon the motion of Supervisor Edward Duncan, to commercial. Changes were also made in the Barcroft section along the Columbia pike from commercial to residential.

Strongly opposing the location of the Sun Oil Co.'s plant, for which the supervisors have granted a permit, Supervisor E. C. Turnburke, who voted against its being granted, made efforts to have that section within Washington district along the Lee highway changed from commercial to residential. No action was taken. Chairman Duncan stated that further consideration will be given to that area. County Engineer C. L. Kinnier presented a letter from the owner of that property asking that it all be zoned the same. It appears that a small section is now zoned residential.

The board, after much consideration, removed that clause regarding side yards in all business areas as now outlined in the ordinance as drafted.

Chairman Duncan warned the members of the board not to make the ordinance too severe as to run people from the county. It stated that the automobile licenses were now too high and was not helping Arlington County.

Chairman Duncan announced that the ordinance, as changed, will be rewritten and another meeting held at a date to be later announced prior to its final adoption.

The county, in accordance with the ordinance as drafted, is divided into six classes of districts as follows:

The location and boundaries of the several districts are well defined on the maps which are to be found in the office of the county engineer at the courthouse.

The ordinance provides that in any "A" residential district no building or premises shall be used and no building shall be hereafter erected or structurally altered unless otherwise provided in the ordinance except for any one or more of the following uses:

One-family detached dwelling, the office of a resident member of a recognized profession.

Customary home occupation, such as dressmaking, that such occupations shall be engaged in only by residents on the premises.

Churches and other places of worship including parish houses and Sunday schools.

Small professional or announcement signs, not over one square foot in area, fixed flat against the wall of a building. Real estate signs not over 6 square feet in area, providing such signs are set back of building line and are only used to advertise for sale the property on which they may be located.

In the "B" residential district, the ordinance provides for semidetached houses, apartment houses, duplex dwellings and family hotel not carrying any merchandising, provided that only one sign shall be permitted, advertising each such business and shall not exceed 2 square feet in area.

In the local business district the ordinance provides for any retail trade or service providing that no industry or manufacturing shall be permitted except the making of articles to be sold in the property.

The ordinance provides in the heavy industrial area any class of business except such business as abattoirs, or slaughter houses, crematory, ammonia, bleaching powder of chlorine manufacturing.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the American Capital Envelope Co. will be held the evening of March 10 at 7:30 o'clock at the offices of the company located in Rosslyn. Election of a board of directors and the receiving of annual reports from the officers will be the principal business of the meeting.

There will be a benefit card party held Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Mary Lockwood. The proceeds will go to the Arlington District Public Library located at Clarendon.

Pleading guilty to a charge of illegal possession and transporting, Evelyn Coates, colored, was held for the action of the grand jury yesterday by Police Judge Harry R. Thomas. Bond was fixed at $500.

Sparks said to have come from the burning of trash near the Clarendon Health Center yesterday for a time threatened the loss of the building.

Dr. C. P. Boyland, county dentist, who, with Mrs. M. A. Rudasill, was at work in his office when they noticed smoke. They quieted mothers and children who were at the time in the building.

Firemen from Clarendon and Ballston, who were called, soon had the blaze under control. Damage to the building was slight.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Parent-Teacher Association of the James Monroe School this afternoon at the schoolhouse at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting has been called for the purpose of discussing activities of the association for the year.

Arthur Orr, president of the Lyon Park Citizens Association, announces the following committee assignments: Sanitation, T. D. Sowers, chairman; J. G. Crunkilton, D. B. Looney, sr., and H. B. Hartung; roads, streets and sidewalks, C. K. Lewis, chairman; A. A. Moore, G. P. Taylor, sr., R. P. Dodge and Maynard Saunders; schools, De Witt M. Evans, chairman; H. B. Armstrong, D. O. Throgmorton, W. M. Whitlock, J. C. Folsom and G. E. Douglas; street lights, E. A. Weisman, chairman; A. H. Kautz, N. B. Medley and W. E. Sias.

T. P. Gary and C. K. Lewis have been appointed a special committee to act with a like committee from the Woman's Club to arrange for a dance to be given in the community house Saturday night.

Before a capacity audience numbering more than 500 persons, the Edward Douglas White Council, Knights of Columbus, gave its sixth annual minstrel show last night in the auditorium of St. Charles School.

The cast included Eugene Shreve, George J. Stewart, Russell Hendley and J. Robert Raeburn as endmen; A. A. Moore, John I. Feeney and James A. Cook, specialty soloists; B. F. Toulotte, interlocutor; Stephen J. Garrity, musical director and accompanist; Joseph P. Brown, J. Leo Morrissey, Howard Druckenmiller, A. S. Poole, E. L. Berkley, F. L. Deppert, Martin I. Cook, H. W. Hendley and Robert James. A feature of the program was the solo dance by Theresa Childs.

Following the show dancing was enjoyed until midnight. During the evening refreshments were served.

The show will be repeated again tonight.

The proceeds will go to the building fund being raised for the building of the Knights of Columbus Hall in Clarendon.

A letter from Dr. Frank T. Stone, president of the Back-to-the-District Association, was read at a meeting of the executive board held at its headquarters in the Rucker Building last night, in which he stated he felt it would be necessary for him to resign. Dr. Stone further stated that owing to pressing business he found it impossible to attend the meetings and he felt it was for the best interests of the organization that he submit his resignation.

Reluctant to accept the letter as a resignation, the secretary, W. E. Sias, was instructed to write President Stone and ask for a further expression on the subject.

Hand's Accomplice Is Slain in Hold-Up

Ally of Man Who Escaped From Capital Cell Shot Dead in Toledo.

George Clark, 36 years old, of Baltimore, an accomplice of Wilbur Hand, convicted bank bandit, who walked out of a Fifth Precinct Station cell on October 23, was killed early yesterday by a night watchman in Toledo, Ohio, when a gang of robbers attempted to hold up the offices of the Standard Oil Co. with a machine gun, according to the Associated Press.

The watchman, William J. Malone, was fatally wounded during the attack, but he shot down Clark, wounded another robber, and frightened the rest of the gang away before he succumbed. It was not known whether or not Hand was in the group.

Clark was arrested here on October 22, with Hand, at Ninth and F streets when a detective recognized the latter from a description sent out by the Bucyrus, Ohio, police who wanted him for forfeiting bond in a $30,000 bank robbery. Clark was released on his personal bond in Police Court the next day, while Hand was held at the Fifth Precinct Station.

The bank robber made his escape under peculiar circumstances the same day, and it is believed not unlikely that the two men left Washington together.

DELEGATES APPROVE ARLINGTON VOTE BILL

PAY RAISE CAUSES STIR

Special to The Washington Post.

Richmond, Va., March 3.—Under a bill passed by the Virginia House of Delegates today, Arlington County, on petition of 250 voters, may ask the circuit court to call an election in which the voters would be allowed to decide whether or not the county should adopt the manager-commission form of government.

The bill is so drafted that in one election the voters could say whether or not they favored the commission form of government to the present form and also decide whether or not there should be a county manager, and how the council of five should be elected, whether at large or by districts. Hugh Reid, patron of the bill, said it is not yet in final shape, subject to amendments that may be added in the Senate.

The Hall teachers pension bill, which would set up a board and allow a comprehensive retirement fund for school teachers from which they could withdraw voluntarily after fifteen years and receive all they had paid in, which would be 5 per cent of their salary, was passed. Fearing the Senate would kill the measure, the House also passed the Dovell bill that would create a commission to study the situation for a report in 1932, placing the House in the unusual position of asking for facts and figures on a bill it had sanctioned to become a law.

Bruce Bill Is Defeated.

That, with the defeat of the Bruce bill, which would have raised the salary of the secretary of the commission on conservation and development, and provided a rather drastic reorganization of the commission, were the features of the day.

Another bill of general interest was one that would make weekly fire drills compulsory for the first month of the term in every school in the State, while another would prohibit trial magistrates from assessing fees in favor of State traffic inspectors who are paid salaries by the division of motor vehicles.

One of the most spirited fights of the day took place over the Norfolk-Portsmouth tunnel measure. The teachers' pension battle forced the House into an afternoon session.

Pay Raise Project Is Hit.

The committee on conference on the appropriations bill was busy trying to work out the almost impossible salary tangle that was brought on by a generous Senate last Friday when it tried to raise the salaries of practically all high-ranking State officials because of an agreement, bolted by the House, to raise the salary of C. H. Morrissett, tax commissioner, from $7,000 to $12,000 in order that he might not leave the employ of the State.

Senator Smith, as do several others, holds that the act creating the position of tax commissioner, also allows the governor to fix his salary. There is a threatened deadlock over the situation and the conference committee is working hard to find some common ground on which to base its report.

SUPERVISORS STUDY BUDGET IN FAIRFAX

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST.
P. O Box 245, Vienna, Va.
Phone Vienna 64.

The Fairfax County Board of Supervisors held a public hearing on the proposed estimates of the county budget for the next year in the courthouse yesterday. Citizens of the county were given a chance to express their views for or against the proposed estimates.

Prior to the open meeting the board in an executive session adopted a resolution requesting State Senator Frank L. Ball and Delegate Leon L. Freeman to oppose any measure in the Legislature seeking to transfer the supervision and control of the county road police from the supervisors to the office of the sheriff. They expressed the belief that no decrease in the expense would be made by this transfer and that in their opinion the operation by the board is efficiently supervised and controlled and no good could be accomplished by such a transfer. It is stated that the bill introduced last week in the Legislature to consolidate the county road police and the sheriff's force by Delegate Freeman was done without any information or consultation on their part.

Capt. Heywood Durrer, of the road force, stated that he was not in favor of the consolidation of the two forces as the traffic officers were paid on a salary basis and not on the fee system. They hold their jobs by being named by the supervisors and appointed by the court, he said, and if the transfer was made they would be required to serve papers and to hunt for stills which would leave no time to properly police the roads of the county.

The first question taken up in the public hearing was the item of $14,000 for the reassessment of real estate in the county. Many persons gave their views on the subject, stating that while they were not opposed to the reassessment it was their belief that this figure was too much. Those expressing their views were F. S. McCandlish, Lewis B. Oliver, Claude Van Sickle, George Harrison, Capt. Thurlow White and Ronald Blake.

The item of $1,800 for the salary of a superintendent of public welfare met a great deal of opposition. Those attending the meeting stated that such a worker was not needed at the present time, as the burden of the taxes rested heavily upon the farmer and that now was the time to reduce taxes instead of creating new offices.

The majority of opinion, however, was that this work was one of the greatest benefits to the younger boys and girls of the day, made delinquent by circumstances, and it was the inescapable duty of the citizens of the county to keep these children from becoming a burden on society.

The item for fire protection of $4,500 met with less opposition than any other. Almost everyone spoke in favor of it.

County Treasurer Frank W. Huddleson made a comparison of the tax rates of this year, with those that will be in effect next year if the proposed estimates were adopted for 1930-31.

The rates for the towns in the county as given were:

Towns.	Rate for 1929-30	Rate for 1930-31 under proposed budget
Fairfax	$1.50	$1.60
Clifton	1.45	1.55
Falls Church	2.40	2.45
Herndon	2.55	2.75
Vienna	1.75	1.85
Districts.
Centerville	$2.40	$2.45
Dranesville	3.65	3.80
Falls Church	3.45	3.40
Lee	2.40	2.55
Mount Vernon	2.60	2.75
Providence	2.60	2.85

Commissioner of Revenue James U. Kincheloe is issuing a notice to the taxpayers of Falls Church and Lee districts, in compliance with the tax code of Virginia, which requires the taxpayers to meet the commissioner at the several voting precincts in their respective districts for the purpose of making returns of their intangible and tangible properties for the year. The law requires that these returns shall be made by June 1. The failure on the part of the taxpayer to comply with this law means a penalty of 10 per cent of the total amount of the tax, with a minmum of $2.

The commissioner or his deputies will be at the following places in Falls Church district: Anandale, March 10; Lincolnia, March 11; Stanton's store, March 12; Baileys Cross Roads, March 13; Merrifield, March 14; Town of Falls Church in the office of M. E. Church, March 17 and 18.

In Lee district they will be at Woodyards shop, March 10; Alvin Davis store, March 11; Lorton, March 12; Burke Station, March 13, and Archie Hall's store, March 14.

Clerk of the Court F. W. Richardson has certified to Sheriff Eppa Kirby the names of the following men to be summoned to serve on the civil jury for the March term of court, which begins March 17: E. S. Wickline, I. N. Champ, E. B. Ennis, Roy M. Money, Herbert M. Dyer, Earley A. Caudle, Sidney D. Hartbower, Earl V. Thompson, and M. A. Bray. They are to appear on the second day of the term.

The clerk also has certified 24 names, of which the sheriff is to summon 20 to serve on the criminal They are: John J. Hamill, Fairfax Station; Raymond L. Rodgers, McLean; Harvey L. Baker, Wellington Villa; Charles G. Dunn, of Merrifield; Champ F. Hutchison, Pleasant Valley; G. H. Packett, Franconia; George L. Ervin, Falls Church; Mach S. Crippen, R. C. Printz, Lomax Wamsley and R. B. Nichell, Floris; Claude Van Sickler, McLean; Frank L. Lyles, Falls Church District; J. Frank Watson, Tysons Cross Roads; W. A. Wine, Andrew Chapel; J. W. Preston, McLean; H. W. Thompson, Pender; John W. Jacobs, Mount Vernon District; Vernon F. Bradford, Brown's Chapel; R. W. Wrenn, Herndon; John D. Fairfax, Lee District; William Posey, Fairfax Station; J. R. Gorham, Franconia, and V. F. Pyles.

Word was received in Fairfax yesterday that Mrs. Sallie C. Hollister, the widow of C. K. Hollister, formerly of Fairfax, died Friday at the home of her son, Clarence Hollister, in Hagerstown, Md. She was born about 90 years ago at Hope Park, near Clifton Station, in one of the old colonial houses of Dr. David Stuart. She was a sister of the late Capt. John H. Barnes, of Mosbey's command, and Capt. William Barnes, of the Fairfax Rifles. Her other brother, Samuel, was killed while serving in the Confederate Army. She is survived by her son, Clarence. The interment will take place in Fairfax this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Herndon Council of the Daughters of America will hold a social meeting this evening in the Wilkins Hall at Herndon.

The stockholders of the Great Falls Grange Hall Building Corporation at Forestville have elected L. B. Morris, O. K. Miller, W. C. Walker, Mark Turner, John W. Preston, J. M. Sanders, Fernando O. Hicks, Sidney M. Follin, O. V. Carper, J. R. Shroy, A. C. Speight and D. D. Cornwell as directors for the coming year. The directors later reelected L. B. Morris as president; O. K. Miller, as vice president, and Oswald V. Carper, as secretary-treasurer.

The Franconia School and Community League will hold a business meeting in the schoolhouse tonight.

The report of Miss Ida H. Jones, assistant collaborating epidemologist of Fairfax County, shows that seven out of the fourteen physicians engaged in active practice in the county have reported six cases of mumps, three of measles, three of influenza, three of hookworm, two of whooping cough, one of scarlet fever and one of lobar pneumonia during the past week.

The Great Falls Grange, at Forestville, will hold its meeting in the grange hall tomorrow night.

The regular weekly broadcast by radio under the auspices of the Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce 6 o'clock, over station WJSV, at Mount Vernon Hills, Va. It will be in charge of County Agricultural Agent H. B. Darr. This program will be of special interest to all persons interested in dairying, poultry raising and fruit growing. The speakers will be C. T. Rice, of Oakton, who will make an address on the dairy industry; E. D. Vosbury, of Merrifield, will lspeak on the poultry industry of the county, and Franklin Williams will give a talk on fruit growing and conditions in the county. The musical numbers will be furnished by the pupils of the county schools and, as susual, Edmund H. Allen, of Newington, president of the Fairfax County Chamber of Commerce, wil lact as master of ceremonies.

The anual pancake and sausage supper of the guild of St. Paul's Episcopal Church at Baileys Crossroads will be held this evening from 5 to 8 o'clock, in the chapel.

The meeting of the Ladies Aid and Missionary Society of the Southern Methodist Church at Herndon will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Benjamin F. McGuire in Herndon.

Daily O'Currences

By JOHN DALY

LUELLA is making plans to attend the Kentucky Derby.

"Getting kind-a 'Ritzy,' aren't you," I asked, "going to the Kentucky Derby?"

As a rule, the only races we see are at Laurel, and Bowie, and sometimes Pimlico.

"Oh, I don't know," she said, "I think it's the patriotic duty of every good American to see the Kentucky Derby, at least once——"

"A patriotic duty to go to the races? Why, Luella, don't you realize that in some States they won't even allow racing?"

"They do in Kentucky," she went on, "so I'm going to the Derby. Besides, this year the Earl of Derby is going to be there——"

"The Earl of Derby. So the old man's coming over, is he?"

"The Earl of Derby is not an old man." She withered me with a look. "You're probably thinking of his grandfather, Lord Derby——"

"Lord Derby, the old high hat manufacturer——"

• • • •

AGAIN she stopped me. "He was not a high hat manufacturer."

"Well, if he wasn't, why did they name a hat after him?"

"They didn't name a hat after him, he was named after the hat."

Six of one, half a dozen of another, that is—but what interests me is how Luella knows his lordship is on the way to America.

"I read it in the society columns," she said.

• • • •

SHE ran to get the newspaper, read it to me excitedly: "At the Pilgrim Society banquet in London the other day the Earl of Derby announced his plan to see the Kentucky Derby this year, saying, 'My grandfather went to America in 1824 in a ship of 824 tons, and I propose to cross the Atlantic in a vessel of 43,000 tons.'"

"Umph! A big man, the Earl of Derby, eh? Bigger than his grandfather!"

Incredible, Luella looked at me, an utter loss to her.

"It isn't that the Earl of Derby is bigger than his grandfather, but that ocean liners are bigger——"

"Oh, that's it!"

"Yes, that's it, and hereafter I wish you'd call him the Earl of Darby, not Derby," she instructed.

"Right-o." I agreed, and went to read the Past Performances. What I'd do is make an odds-on bet that Luella doesn't even see the earl at the Kentucky Derby.

CLAIMS CONFLICT IN TEXTILE STRIKE

Unions Say 65 Per Cent Are Out in Elizabethton; Plants Ignorant of Trouble.

PICKETS NOT HINDERED

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 3 (A.P.).—Conflicting claims as to results of a strike call to workers at the two textile plants here were made tonight by officials of the American Bemberg and Glanzstoff Mills and by union leaders of the United Textile Workers of America.

Paul W. Fuller, Southern educational director of the American Federation of Labor, said the first day following the call had witnessed 65 per cent depletion of the plant forces, normally including about 3,000 men and girls.

Union demands include reemployment of hundreds of former workers discharged, labor leaders assert, because of union sympathies, abolition of the "plant councils" and reorganization of the plant personnel department.

Precautionary measures taken by Sheriff J. M. Moreland were not used during the day. Picketers met workers this morning but there was no disturbance.

Fuller said the near zero temperature reduced ranks of the picketers.

With deputies on duty but doing little to hinder, crowds of men and a few girls gathered at the two highway entrances to the Bemberg plant this afternoon, turning away several automobiles carrying workers.

Several other cars pushed through the pickets. There were no arrests and aside from rather good-natured efforts to prevent the entrance of the workers, there were no physical encounters.

DEFENSE IS OPENED IN GASTONIA DEATH

WITNESSES ARE PUT ON

Charlotte, N. C., March 3 (A.P.).—With further testimony tending to identify Horace Wheelus as the slayer of Mrs. Ella May Wiggins, the State rested today in the trial of Wheelus and four others for second degree murder of the woman.

The defense immediately launched into its case. Plummer Stewart, defense attorney, asserted the defense would prove that the shot that killed Mrs. Wiggins was fired accidentally by a member of her own party in a Gaston County labor clash last September. Stewart made a motion, which the court denied, that charges against all the defendants except Wheelus be dismissed for lack of evidence. The others on trial are O. H. Lumsford, Troy Jones, Fred Morrow and Lowery Davis. All are Gastonia textile workers.

Mrs. Wiggins, member of a reputedly communistic textile labor union, was shot to death as she and other union sympathizers, riding in a truck, attempted to attend a scheduled West Gastonia labor meeting. They were turned back by what the State contends was a motorized mob of armed men, in what has been termed a clash between Communist and anti-Communist sympathizers. The woman was shot to death.

"We will explain," asserted Mr. Stewart, in a short appeal to the court, "that the shot that killed Ella May Wiggins came through the rear vision glass of the truck."

The defense then began sending witnesses to the stand in an effort to prove its contention. Before the State rested it had presented 47 witnesses.

All of the defendants were linked with the shooting and Wheelus was declared to have fired the fatal shot.

'Passing Bullet' Wounds Man; Police Aid Sought

The well-known "passing bullet" that has figured in numerous police cases last night reentered the records when one of its number struck George W. Mitchell, of Mitchellsville, Md., in the left hand as he was driving through Upper Marlboro, Md.

The injury was dressed at Casualty Hospital, and police were asked to try to find the person who fired the bullet.

Boy, 14, Is Bitten by Dog.

Raymond Berthong, 14 years old, of 3933 Livingstone street northwest, suffered minor abrasions on his left wrist last night when he was bitten by a police dog said to be owned by Vincent Hedderman, of Connecticut avenue near Jenifer street northwest, when he was walking up the front steps of the Hedderman residence. He was treated by a physician.

ALEXANDRIA FACES STREET NAME TASK

Meeting to Be Held Today to Continue Adjustment of Duplications.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
312 S. Washington St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

The city council, with the assistance of local postoffice officials, is engaged in the work of correcting the embarrassing situation caused by the duplication of street names, which has been more acute since the annexation of the new territory on January 1. In some instances it has been found that there are as many as three streets or avenues with the same name, and in other cases different sections of the same street or avenue have different names. This condition was brought about by lack of a uniform plan of development, each subdivision laying out its own streets and selecting its own names for them, disregarding the fact that in many instances nearby subdivisions had made use of the same names.

City Manager Wallace Lawrence shortly after the first of the year was instructed by the council to take steps to remedy this condition, and he enlisted the aid of Postmaster F. Clinton Knight; Elmore Mudd, superintendent of mails; City Engineer E. C. Dunn, and Fire Chief James M. Duncan, jr. One meeting was held last week, when several changes were made, and another meeting will be held this afternoon when the entire situation will be gone over, and in cases where a street is found to have more than one name, the one considered most suitable will be selected, and applied to the full length of the street.

The results of the meeting today will be submitted to the city council for approval, but it is expected considerable time will be required to complete the work. An ordinance will then be introduced in council to make the changes official.

A special grand jury in the corporation court, either the March or April term, will be called to hear the evidence in the case of Clay T. Brittle, former cashier of the Bank of Del Ray, who is charged in a warrant sworn to by Nelson T. Snyder, president of the bank, and Henry P. Thomas, a director, with the misappropriation of more than $60,000 of the bank's funds. The bank closed its doors on January 21, for an audit, and Courtland H. Davis has been appointed receiver. He is expected to issue a statement regarding payment by the bank of its depositors, within a few days.

Judge William P. Woolls, of the corporation court, because of his interest in the bank, will not sit in the case, and Gov. Pollard will be asked to designate a special judge to hear the case.

Brittle is at liberty on bond of $25,000. It is believed by officials of the bank that depositors will eventually be paid in full, but it will require some time to liquidate all the assets of the institution.

Mrs. Charles E. Bolling, of Richmond, president of the Virginia Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, will visit the local U. D. C. chapter this evening, at the meeting to be held at 7:30 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall, and all of the members of the chapter are requested to be present at both business meeting and the informal reception to follow.

Mrs. Charles M. Shepperson, the president, will preside. Mrs. Charles W. Howell is chairman of the entertainment committee.

Mrs. Myrtle S. Dodds, of the educational department of a manufacturing company, gave a gelatine demonstration yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Cameron Roberts, under the auspices of the American Legion Auxiliary, and for the benefit of that organization. Mrs. Dodds was assisted by Mrs. Roberts, her mother; Mrs. Charles E. Outcalt, and Mrs. New, and about 30 members of the auxiliary attended.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles, No. 871, will hold its first ladies' night of the year this evening at 8:15 o'clock at their new home, 415 King street. The program will be in charge of President Albert Slagg, Joseph West and John R. Travers.

This week is designated as week of prayer for home missions in missionary societies of all Baptist churches, and members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Temple met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. U. W. Allen for prayer and study of mission work. Tonight, tomorrow and Thursday at 8 p. m., prayer services will be held in the church. On Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock the ladies of the Baptist Temple will be in charge of the union prayer service in the Ann Lee Memorial Home.

Andrew Jacobs, naturalization examiner, has announced the passing of the required tests by ten applicants for citizenship, and they will be admitted to full citizenship on June 2 by Judge D. Lawrence Groner, who will be presiding over the regular term of the United States Court at that time. John P. Strauss, deputy clerk of the United States District Court, assisted in the examination.

Lieut. Gov. James M. Price of Virginia; Mayor J. Fulmer Bright, of Richmond, and T. C. Book, potentate of Acca Temple of Virginia, were the guests and speakers at the meeting of the Alexandria Shrine Club held last night at the George Mason Hotel. George W. Zachary, president of the club, presided.

The Rev. Pierce S. Ellis, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be the principal speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting to be held at 12:30 o'clock today, at the George Mason Hotel.

Circuit Court Judge Scores Sunday Movies

Special to The Washington Post.

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 3.—Sunday motion pictures, shown for the first time yesterday in Weston, were denounced from the Lewis County circuit bench there today by Judge Birk S. Stathers, who called upon the grand jury to return indictments against those operating them.

Answering the contention that operation of automobiles on Sunday violated the law, Judge Stathers said the automobile is a modern necessity as are street cars and railroads. Sunday sales of newspapers and operation of confectionery stores, cigar stores and filling stations are also violations, the judge said.

Hagerstown, Md., March 3 (Special).—John Carnell, 60, of near Hancock, committed suicide early today by shooting himself in the head. He operated a big poultry farm. Despondency over ill health is believed to have caused him to kill himself. His wife found him.

Crash Kills Bride On Way to Be Wed

Prospective Bridegroom Among Four Others Injured in Mishap.

Burlington, N. C., March 3 (A.P.).—A 19-year-old girl en route to her wedding was killed and five members of the wedding party, including the bridegroom-to-be, were injured near Danville, Va., today when their automobile left the highway and plunged down an embankment. The dead girl is Miss Hallie Cheek, of Burlington.

The wedding was to have been in Danville, and the party was making haste to reach there. Approximately 25 miles from Burlington the automobile, which was traveling at a high rate of speed, failed to take a curve.

All the members of the party with the exception of "Slim" Henderson, driver of the automobile, are in a Danville hospital. The other injured are Herndon Willis, the prospective bridegroom; Miss Annie Cheek, sister of the dead girl; Miss Evelyn Willis, sister of the bridegroom-to-be, and Sedrick Matthews, a friend. All were from Burlington.

PROMINENT MASON DEAD AT STAUNTON

GRAND LODGE TO ATTEND

Special to The Washington Post.

Staunton, Va., March 3.—Masonry in Virginia will send its most distinguished sons to Staunton tomorrow afternoon to lay at rest the body of William Baylor McChesney, 81, who was perhaps the best known Mason in this State. During his half century as a member of the fraternity, Mr. McChesney had served in all the offices in the three leading branches of Masonry—Blue Lodge, Chapter and Commandery—both in the subordinate chapters here and in the grand jurisdiction of Virginia.

The Rev. Dr. Frank T. McFaden, Presbyterian minister of Winchester, who is grand master of Masons in this State, will conduct the funeral at the McChesney residence at 2:30 o'clock. He will be assisted by the Grand Lodge of Virginia, which will assemble here in the Masonic Temple at 2 o'clock and march to the McChesney home. The body will be buried with full Masonic rites in Thornrose Cemetery.

Mr. McChesney died here this morning at 8 o'clock. He had been in declining health for eleven years, but with the aid of an attendant, had been able to attend lodge meetings and be on the streets daily until ten days ago. He attended the last Grand Lodge session in Richmond, and was in Alexandria for the George Washington anniversary celebration. Since returning he had been confined to his room. His death today was unexpected.

Mr. McChesney was born in Augusta County, July 7, 1849. A son of Dr. William S. and Mary Catherine Baylor McChesney, he attended Washington and Lee University, graduating in law. For several years he practiced his profession, first at Harrisonburg, and later, in South Dakota, where he also was a publisher of a newspaper. He spent two years in the Western State and returned to Staunton, where he formed a partnership in the insurance business with Arista Hoge.

Surviving are four sisters and one brother: Mrs. Mary V. Yarborough, of Staunton; Miss Margaret McChesney, also of this city; Mrs. Isaac Van Meter, of Lexington, Ky.; Mrs. P. W. Cone, of Richmond, and J. Walker McChesney, of Lexington.

Mr. McChesney held his Masonic memberships in the three Staunton bodies, and has been worshipful master of No. 13, A. F. and A. M., high priest of Union Royal Arch Chapter, No. 2, and eminent commander of Stevenson Commandry, No. 8.

He was a member of Acca Temple A. A. O. N. M. S., and of its Century Club as well as of the Staunton Shrine Club.

Lorton Fugitive Is Held on Coast

Former Real Estate Man of Capital Arrested in Los Angeles.

Betrayed by his fingerprints when police of Los Angeles picked him up for questioning, Thomas C. Flannigan, formerly engaged in the real estate business here, was found to have escaped from the Lorton Reformatory about a year ago. He will be brought back here to finish serving out his sentence.

Flannigan was convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses in his real estate operations. He was sentenced to three years in Lorton, and he had served a small portion of his sentence when he took French leave.

Following his escape here, his picture and fingerprints were sent to police of every large city in the country. No word of him had been heard until he ran afoul of the California authorities. Police here have not determined yet whether he will be brought back in the custody of a deputy marshal or whether some member of the force will be sent for him.

The bullet was concealed in a shovel of fuel, which Tolliver had thrown into the stove flames. It exploded while he was firing the stove.

Man Is Held on Charge Of Making False Claim

Okay J. Deskins was arraigned before United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage yesterday and held under $500 bond on a charge of making a false affidavit in an alleged effort to defraud the Government.

Deskins, under the name of O. V. Douglas, is alleged to have made an affidavit on a civil service examination to the effect that he had no previous criminal record. Assistant United States Attorney Irvin Goldstein, however, declares that the man is known in a number of penitentiaries. Hearing in the case is scheduled for next week.

TRADE PROVES FAIR IN FIFTH DISTRICT

COTTON PRICES SLUMP

Richmond, Va., March 3 (A.P.).—While recording several unfavorable conditions, notably unemployment and little demand for textile mill products, the monthly review by the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond of the fifth district reports general developments for the first six weeks of 1930 which compare well with the same period in 1929.

Member banks are in a more satisfactory condition than a year ago the report states, with loans and deposits down somewhat but with their borrowing at the reserve bank cut in half. Investments, reserve balances and cash in vaults showed relatively little change.

Earning assets of the Federal Reserve Bank were lower than a year before, but cash reserves and the ratio of reserve to note and deposit li
